WICKERSHAM SITS ON GUARANTY IDEA

Renders Decision That National Banks Can't Insure Their Own or Others' Liabilities as to Deposits.

BACKS UP TAFT'S STAND.

President in Campaign Last Fall Declared Against the Bryan Scheme Though Advised to Dodge Issue.

BY RAYMOND.

Washington, D. C., April 7.—[Special.]—Bank guarantee schemes are not to have countenance by the national administration, in spite of the fact they have been adopted by Kansas and some other Republican states. Attorney General Wickersham this afternoon rendered a formal decision to the effect that national banks cannot, under their charters, go into the business of insuring their own or other people's liabilities in the way of deposits.

Gov. Stubbs and other officials of Kansas have been busy in Washington for some time, because they hoped the new attorney general might find some way in which national banks could cöoperate with state institutions under the local law. Several of the Kansas national banks were extremely anxious to go into the guarantee system because they believed they were losing a good deal of business which would come to them if they were enabled to become a part of the state system.

Taft Against the Bryan View.

During the last campaign many important Republican leaders, and more especially in Minnesota and Kansas, believed the national administration would do well to accept the bank guarantee scheme as formulated by Mr. Bryan. Mr. Taft, however, took a radically different view of the law and of the question of policy, and his newly appointed attorney general has now decided that national banks cannot undertake financial liability of the kind necessary to make the guarantee a success.

The Kansas officials are going back home to see if they cannot devise some change in their local law which will enable the national banks to come in under the state system without losing their charter, but the chances are this will be found entirely impossible, as the prohibition which now operates against the national banks is fundamental and probably can be removed only by new legislation.

In holding that a national bank cannot enter into a scheme for the guarantee of deposits with other banks Attorney General Wickersham is only following in the footsteps of Attorney General Bonaparte and the principle laid down last year in the Oklahoma case still governs in the case of Kansas, the rain thus falling upon the just and unjust with commendable impartiality.

Limited to Specific Objects.

A national bank under its charter is limited carefully to certain specific objects. It has no incidental powers except such as are necessary to carry on the business of banking by discounting notes, receiving deposits, buying and selling exchange, coin or bullion, loaning money, and issuing notes. Except in so far as necessary to conduct the business of banks, a national bank has no power at all under the federal law, and if it assumes to do things not provided for in its charter it steps beyond the bounds of its privileges.

Briefly stated, Attorney General Bonaparte first took the ground, which still is followed by the administration, that the business of insuring deposits was as much outside the charter privileges of the banking association as life, fire, casualty, or marine insurance. It would be manifestly impossible for a national bank under the existing charter to go into the life insurance business. It could not undertake to assume the fire risks of its customers, even if the customers themselves paid the premium.

In the case of the insurance of bank deposits the government holds that a national bank has no more right to risk its assets by participating in a scheme for the protection of the deposits of other banks than it would have to go into any other form of insurance.

Bank Pays the Premium.

It is the bank and not the depositor, as Attorney General Bonaparte once pointed out, that pays the premium or the equivalent of a premium, and the question at once arises whether the stockholders in a national bank have any authority to embark in the business of insuring deposits, presumably in consideration of increased amount of deposits. It has been pointed out that under any of the modern systems of the guarantee of deposits all assets of each bank would become directly liable for the debts of all other banks.

Therefore, in theory at least, as Mr. Bonaparte clearly indicated, a bank normally sound might lose all its resources to make good the misfortune or bad management of other banks with which it was unfortunately affiliated. There might be, it is said, some possible question as to the right of a bank to establish certain guarantee for the benefit of its depositors, and for them alone, but when the question of guaranteeing other banks comes in, there is a clear violation of the charter of the national institution.

If there is any one principle which has been clearly established in the courts and by the rulings of government authorities, it is that a national bank has no power whatever to guarantee the obligations of any third person except in connection with the sale or transfer of its own property, or as a legitimate incident to the regular banking business.

Oklahoma Tried to Do It.

If a bank is owner of a promissory note or any other negotiable obligation it may, of course, sell it, and it may indorse it and thereby guarantee it as a part of the transaction. The courts uniformly have held, however, that a contract which guarantees payment by another corporation or by another individual of debts or obligations not directly connected with the business of the bank is clearly outside the provision of the charter.

Oklahoma attempted what Kansas now proposes to do, which is to write a law in such a way that national banks might take advantage of its provisions. When the Oklahoma guarantee plan was adopted there were in the new state something like 800 banks, of which 312 were national. Of these fifty-seven went into the guarantee plan before it was understood that this was prohibited by the national law.

A number of them thereupon gave up their association with the state banks, but seventeen of them during the year which ended

GOMEZ IS URGED TO FIGHT CASTRO.

United States Asks Venezuelan President to Carry Out Punishment of His Predecessor.

VESSELS WILL GIVE AID.

Former Dictator Rages When He Is Forced to Stop Trip Homeward and Stay at Martinique.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., April 7.—[Special.]—The great international bugaboo, Cipriano Castro, is under indictment in Venezuela and will be arrested immediately upon his arrival at La Guayra. Castro now is at Fort de France, Martinique. He landed there today when he found the other parts in the West Indies were closed to him. His wife continued on the vessel Guadeloupe to La Guayra.

While the state department has been cheered by the news of the arrest threatening Castro, the satisfaction is clouded with the suspicion that the United States may be the subject of a baleful bunko game on the part of Señor Gomez, reigning chief executive in the South American republic.

In an effort to make him play fair and give stiffness to his backbone, two armored cruisers, the Montana and North Carolina, are cruising in the West Indian waters. The latter vessel has stopped at Fort de France, ostensibly to give its men liberty, when they have just had all the shore leave to which they would be entitled at Guantanamo, Cuba. The Montana is in Venezuelan waters, indicating to the Venezuelan government by its presence that the United States will go as far as it possibly can to keep the little shopkeeper from the Andes out of the yellow house in Caracas.

Gomez Is Given Encouragement.

Besides this display of force the wires are being kept hot with encouragement to President Gomez to remain in office and seize Castro the moment he reaches Venezuelan territory, with instructions to the American consular representatives in Martinique, a French West Indian possession, where Castro has landed, to watch every movement of the deposed despot, with urgent appeals to the French government to expel him, and with communications in regard to him and his disposition to various other interested powers.

In addition not only have the president and Secretary Knox been conferring in regard to the disposition of Castro but it developed today that the attitude of the United States towards the entire Venezuelan situation was discussed at a cabinet meeting yesterday.

There is no intention on the part of this government to let Castro "make a monkey of it," as one official put it. Should he succeed in regaining power his success will cast ridicule upon this and other nations. But, more than this, it will mean that in his anger against the United States because of the policy it has taken with respect to his return home he will renew with increased bitterness his attacks upon American interests and finally force President Taft to take extreme measures against him.

Other Nations Deeply Interested.

There is an element of gravity in Castro's movements, consequently, which the country cannot afford to overlook. It accounts for the extraordinary activity of the state and navy departments. As Great Britain, France, the Netherlands, and Colombia are as deep in the mud as this country is in the mire, their deep concern over the wanderings of the exile will be understood.

Toward them and their interests Castro unquestionably would adopt a hostile attitude. Sitting in Caracas and separated from the seashore by a mountain chain, he could feel secure. The powers might blockade La Guayra, Carupano, Puerto Cabello, and Maracaibo, as Great Britain, Germany, and Italy did six years ago. They would not bombard the towns, but might shell the decrepit forts which are supposed to protect them. A few fishing smacks would be seized, trade would be interrupted, foreign interests would suffer, and Castro, after the nations got tired of this unprofitable game, would arbitrate.

This is the Latin-American forecast. It does not elate the administration. It may be said positively that if the United States should determine to spank Venezuela it would do so in a way it would remember.

Consent of Congress Needed.

In the first place the president would not resort to extreme measures unless he first had the consent of congress. President Roosevelt broke off relations with Venezuela and submitted the grievances of his administration to the legislative branch of the government. Congress authorized nothing, and Messrs. Root and Bacon, as secretaries of state, succeeded in arranging the settlement of all disputes between the two countries following the departure of Castro for Europe to undergo an operation.

The unwillingness of congress to take any action with regard to Venezuela was due in part to the relations existing between its leaders and the president. The new administration, however, is in a different situation. It believes that congress would grant authority to President Taft to do what he considered best in the interest of the United States. Under such authority the occupation of Caracas might be deemed advisable.

It is possible that it will be unnecessary to carry out this program, which, in a general way, has been mapped out. If Castro can only be got rid of in some way there will be no Venezuelan situation. The solution this government desires is that France will require Castro to leave Martinique at once, thus observing the understanding that he would not be permitted to remain in French territory; that Castro shall continue on his way to Venezuela, where he will be immediately arrested and thrown in jail.

Death Preferred to Prison.

Once in the terrible prisons of the South American country, Castro, suffering in health, will be finished. It would be more merciful to kill him inadvertently when the ship upon which he is a passenger shall arrive at La Guayra, or after arrest to stand him up against a wall and shoot him. Having himself thrown his enemies into fetid confinement, Castro well knows what his own fate would be in case he should find his popularity gone and the government hostile.

It is possible that Castro's wife is bearing proposals to Gomez. There is a suspicion,

POOR OLD ROBINSON CASTRO!

STAND IN LINE FOR DRINKS

Thirsty Gary, Ind., Citizens Wait Long for Farewell Quaffs.

LAST 15 SALOONS CLOSED.

Bargain Sales and "Wakes" Are Incidents of Celebration.

The spectacle of hundreds of thirsty residents standing in a line a block long to get a final drink at a popular bar was one of the unique incidents in connection with the closing of the fifteen remaining saloons of Gary, Ind., last night.

For several days the bartenders had been preparing for the "big night," but at the Binzenhoff, conducted by Binzen Bros., the "knights of the white apron" had a hard time to serve customers fast enough. At first the customers were served as they crowded to the bar, but after a short time it was found necessary to use the same tactics employed during a rush for theater tickets.

The Binzenhoff was the first bar in Gary, and it is said to have been one of the best paying places of the kind in Indiana. Sums as high as $1,000 have been frequently taken in during one day, and once $40,000 in checks were cashed by the proprietors to accommodate the employes of the steel mills.

Recall Many Kindnesses.

It was because of the courtesy that had been shown them in cashing checks that actuated the men who stood in the long line to wait for one more quaff of their favorite brand of liquor.

At some of the saloons, bargain sales were conducted, liquor being sold at cost to old customers. What were termed "wakes" were held in all of the saloons, the "lid" being off so far as the observance of the usual closing hours was concerned. The licenses of the saloon proprietors really expired at midnight, but the police made no effort to stop the rush of customers after that time, it being understood that early this morning the last drinks would be sold.

The closing of the saloons in the steel town is a result of a remonstrance filed with the Lake county commissioners a year ago. The Indiana laws regulating saloons provide that a petition signed by a majority of those who voted at the last election acts as a barrier to the sale of liquor for two years.

Liquor Men Caught Napping.

At the time the petition was signed there were only 165 who had cast their ballots at the previous election, and when the anti-saloon workers made their rounds quietly they caught the liquor men unawares and before it was known even among business men the petition had been filed and there was recourse only in the courts.

The liquor men started a suit when some of the saloons had to close following the expiration of the licenses. This case is still pending in the Superior court at Hammond, and a decision has been expected for several weeks. Even in the event that this decision is favorable, it is not anticipated that there will be bars in Gary for a year owing to the provisions of the state laws.

The fifteen saloons which were closed by the expiration of the licenses had been enabled to remain open because the licenses had been secured only a few days before the filing of the petition of the voters.

Gross Point "Wets" Are Mad.

About the angriest set of men along the north shore during the day was the aggregation of saloonkeepers at Gross Point in the township of New Trier, which went dry at Tuesday's election. They breathed maledictions on the "drys," swore they would refuse to close their saloons, and prepared to contest the legality of the vote from the filing of the local option petition to the casting of the ballots.

The liquor men contend that the question was improperly submitted to the people at this election on the ground that it was voted on last year, while the law provides that it cannot be submitted again within eighteen months. The "drys" reply that it was the village of Gross Point to which the question was submitted a year ago, while this time it was the township of New Trier, two entirely different political subdivisions.

The saloon men also claim that the petition was irregular, the specific contention being that it was sworn to before officials not qualified so to act. They are relying particularly on this line of attack inasmuch as a similar contention proved successful a year ago. Gross Point went dry at that election, but the vote was knocked out by the saloon keepers on technical objections to the petition.

Joseph Heinzen, president of the village of Gross Point and proprietor of a saloon at Ridge and Central avenues, said that the present plans of the Gross Point liquor men are to refuse to close their saloons at the expiration of the thirty days required by law and to contest the election results on either one or both of the alleged violations of the local option law.

BORAH DEMANDS PROTECTION FROM THE FLASHLIGHT MEN.

Idaho Senator Refuses to Accept an Invitation for Banquet Here Unless Photographers Are Barred.

"It makes me spit if you take a flashlight, and I won't come if you do."

This is the terse telegram to Marquis Eaton, president of the Hamilton club, from Senator William E. Borah of Idaho after the latter had been invited to deliver an address at the Hamilton club Appomattox day banquet in the Auditorium Annext tomorrow evening.

This annual affair of the club this year takes the form of a special tribute to Jacob M. Dickinson, secretary of war, who has signified his acceptance of an invitation to attend.

"I wrote to Senator Borah asking him what he meant by his peculiar message," said Marquis Eaton, "and he addressed me a long characteristic reply. He declared flashlight photographers were the bane of public speakers in Washington. I have assured him that he will be permitted to talk in peace."

MUSIC SHIPPED BY FREIGHT.

Hammerstein's Son Slams Door, Later to Be Foiled in Borrowing Orchestrations from Opera Director.

Boston, Mass., April 7.—[Special.]—The scheduled opera performance at the Boston theater today did not take place and thereby hangs a tale. Arthur Hammerstein, representing his father, slammed the stage door of the Boston theater in the face of Henry Russell, director of the Boston Opera company, Tuesday night and this morning the same Mr. Russell received a hurry call from Mr. Hammerstein's manager requesting the loan of the orchestrations for "I Pagliacci," which had not arrived in time for rehearsal.

Patrons of the opera appeared on time and after an hour's delay were told that they could have their money at the box office.

No explanations were offered or could be obtained, but it afterwards leaked out that the orchestrations had left New York by freight instead of express and had been delayed in transit.

CAPTURE A REAL GRAY WOLF.

Animal Taken After Struggle in Which Two Detectives Are Scratched and Bitten.

A large gray wolf, the property of Walter Du Brock, 1422 Hayes avenue, which escaped Tuesday, was captured last night at Balmoral and Winthrop avenues by Detectives Pangeborn and Kaekel after a struggle, in which both of the policemen were scratched and bitten. The wolf was seen by passengers of a Northwestern elevated train near the Argyle station, and they pointed it out to the conductor, who notified the Summerdale police station.

ROB ELECTION CLERK OF PAY.

Charles Lundquist Held Up by Three Men at Center Avenue and Lake Street.

Charles Lundquist, an election clerk, was held up and robbed yesterday of $4 by three men at Center avenue and Lake street. Lundquist told the police he had been out of employment for some time and the money was all he had left from the sale of the pay voucher which he received from the election board. He said he was the only support of his mother, who is 87 years old. His residence is at 6228 Carpenter street.

MRS. FRANK AVERY TO MARRY

Widow of Rich Chicagoan Engaged to New York Broker.

OFTEN ON "ENGAGED LIST."

J. R. Kidder Bridegroom-to-Be, Hunter and Friend of Roosevelt.

New York, April 7.—[Special.]—Mrs. Frank Morris Avery, widow of a Chicago capitalist, today confirmed the report of her engagement to James Hathaway Kidder. Mr. Kidder is a member of the stock exchange firm of Francke, Thompson & Robb, 43 Exchange place. Mrs. Avery has been in town for several days.

"Yes, Mr. Kidder and I are engaged," she said. "I really can't say just when the wedding will take place, because we haven't settled the day or hour—but it will be soon."

Mrs. Avery has been on the list of "the engaged" several times since her widowhood began. A year or so after her husband's death it was announced that she was to marry Lieut. W. G. Doane, U. S. A.

Next on the list was a British duke. She, however, officially denied the report that she was to wed him.

Howard Willets, a horseman, was an attentive admirer a year or so ago, and gossips were busy, but the engagement was denied by Mrs. Avery.

Became Suffragette Last Fall.

Mrs. Avery and her mother, Mrs. John Terrill Clark, who lives at the Plaza, joined the ranks of the suffragettes last fall.

Mr. Kidder was formerly of Boston, but for several months he has spent most of his time in New York. He is member of the Somerset, Union, and other clubs of Boston and of the Brook and Metropolitan clubs of this city. He was graduated from Harvard in 1892. He returned on Saturday from a hunting trip through Mexico with A. Barton Hepburn, president of the Chase National bank.

Mr. Kidder has won a reputation as a hunter, having been with ex-President Roosevelt on more than one hunting trip. He has hunted all over America. It is said that about four years ago while hunting in the Kadiak islands off southern Alaska he shot a new species of bear not generally known and the species was named the Kidder bear in his honor.

Left $3,000,000 by Husband.

Mrs. Avery is wealthy, more than $3,000,000 having been left to her by the will of her husband, the son of Thomas M. Avery, founder of the Elgin Watch factory. She is an Illinois woman by birth.

She is well known in the society of Chicago, New York, and London, where she was a favorite in the American colony. During her residence there she and her mother lived in a fashionable house in Grosvenor square, and the name of Mrs. Avery often was mentioned as the possible bride of several of England's younger lords.

Among those who courted the young American widow while she was a resident of England were the duke of Norfolk, whom it was reported she would have married but for differences in their religious beliefs, and the duke of St. Albans. The latter is a member of one of the oldest families in England.

What Is Regarded Her Real Romance.

What many regarded as the real romance in the life of Mrs. Avery was when W. G. Doane, an officer in the American army, came into her life. The couple, it was said, were friends and sweethearts during their childhood, and when the girl married the son of the Elgin watch magnate, the young officer, then a lieutenant, went to an obscure fort in South Carolina.

After the death of Mr. Avery the friendship of the two was renewed and it was reported at one time that they were engaged. This was admitted by Mrs. Avery, but later it was announced that the engagement had been broken and the officer went back to his duty in the army, while Mrs. Avery went abroad.

SENATORS TO CUT TAX ON STOCKINGS

Finance Committee Said to Be Ready to Restore the Dingley Tariff on Gloves Also.

OIL PROTECTION IS HURT.

House Overrides Organization and Reduces Rate; Cannon Fails to Stop the Movement.

Washington, D. C., April 7.—[Special.]—It now is generally conceded that there is every likelihood of a restoration of the Dingley rates on women's gloves and hosiery by the committee on finance in the senate.

The last ray of hope for any change in the house has gone glimmering. There was a time during this afternoon when the advocates of reduced schedules thought a coup similar to that worked in overruling of the Standard Oil program might be put through, but according to the terms of the rule brought in on Monday no amendment to the glove and hosiery paragraphs can be permitted until the bill is read in the house, and of course that reading will be postponed sufficiently to preclude any possibility of ever reaching the paragraphs mentioned.

Representatives of large importing firms who have come to Washington to urge the retention of the Dingley schedules on gloves and hosiery went about the capitol today under the wing of Representative Foss. Although they received short shrift at the hands of Chairman Payne and but little beyond a lecture from Representative Boutell, a member of the ways and means committee, they gathered considerable encouragement from other sources. While they have but little to say concerning their matter tonight, it is known that they feel absolutely certain the senate will restore the Dingley rates.

Cullom to Fight Increase.

It is reported tonight that all the senators who were addressed by the committee were impressed by their plea and appearances are that they will join in asking for a reduction of the Payne bill schedules.

Senator Cullom of Illinois thinks the Dingley rates should be restored, and it is his intention to strike a blow in their behalf when the finance committee reaches the subject. Senator Cullom and other members of the finance committee were seen by the representatives of importers today, in the party being Kenneth Barnhart of Marshall Field & Co., Francis T. Simmons of Chicago, George H. Partridge of Minneapolis, president National Wholesale Drygoods association; Henry Schiff of New York, and Hugh Mullen of Boston.

During the interviews the committee put the brand of falsehood on Mr. Payne's intimation in his statement published in the Congressional Record this morning to the effect that many importing houses in this country were interested in mills and manufactories abroad. Speaking on this point, they said not a Boston, New York, or Chicago house has a dollar in any foreign hosiery proposition and they asserted that, so far as they knew, the same thing was true of gloves.

Payne Grumbles at Opponents.

The importers' meeting with Chairman Payne took on the semblance of what might be termed a spicy affair. Mr. Payne deprecated the efforts of anybody to tell him much about the glove and stocking tariff and devoted considerable time to finding fault with THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE for having stirred up the people.

The importers also called upon Secretary of the Treasury Franklin MacVeagh during the day. It is expected that they will call on President Taft tomorrow.

Onslaughts upon the senate committee on finance by members of congress have become so vigorous since it became known that the work of inserting rates in the bill soon to be reported has begun that there is danger of revision being decidedly of an upward trend, it is said, unless deaf ears are turned to importunate interests.

The only persons now seen by the committee are senators and delegations introduced by senators in the forenoon. Many other delegations wait about the corridors all day seeking the ears of individual committeemen during the recesses.

Reduction Seen by Aldrich.

In spite of these conditions good progress is being made, and Senator Aldrich, the chairman, said today he could predict that when the bill is reported it will be seen that the revision has been downward, especially upon the necessaries of life.

It is probable the senate will be in session on Saturday in order to receive the Payne bill from the house. A session of the finance committee then will be held in order to make up the amendments that have been decided upon. The Democratic members will be called in and an effort made to obtain an agreement with them that will permit the reporting of the bill by Tuesday.

Senators Dick and Burton introduced before the finance committee today a delegation of coal producers from eastern Ohio who ship their products to Canadian provinces, who desire to retain the reciprocity clause in the Payne bill.

A number of concerns manufacturing gas in New England states oppose the provision which includes slack coal in the same paragraph with bituminous coal, making both dutiable at 67 cents. This amounts to an increase on slack from the present rate of 15 cents, and it is asserted that it would result in increasing the cost of gas to consumers.

Plea by Pottery Men.

The pottery and fine china schedules were considered today. The views of the National Association of Wholesale Dealers in Pottery were presented by Jerome Jones of Boston, E. H. Pitkin of Chicago, and George W. Kinney of Cleveland. They contended that the actual protection of American pottery manufacturers is much greater than represented by the specified rates of 55 and 60 per cent, because the packages in which the goods are imported are dutiable, and it is claimed that the actual protection amounts to 80 per cent on decorative and 90 per cent on white china. They ask a reduction to 40 per cent ad valorem on white and 45 per cent on decorative china.

The delegation had been received previously by President Taft. Mr. Jones talked to the president about speeches delivered by him in the recent campaign in which the president declared the pottery industry needed greater protection. The delegation gained the impression from Mr. Taft that he was speaking generally of the pottery industry and had no special reference to the manufacture of fine china.

It is said there is a disposition in the senate to still further increase the duty on china.

This was a bad day for the Republican organization of the house. By a coalition between some Republican "insurgents" and the Democrats the ways and means committee was bowled over and the advocates of free crude oil and its products won a signal victory when an amendment by Mr. Norris of Nebraska placing the insignificant duty of 1 per cent ad valorem on those articles was adopted by a substantial majority.

A decision of the chairman that amendments could not be offered to the oil schedule, other than the one covered by the special rule of last Monday, and which provided for the removal of the countervailing duty on crude petroleum and applying ad valorem duty of 25 per cent, was overturned, and not even a fervid appeal by the speaker in an endeavor to rally the Republican forces was sufficient to stem the tide avowedly against the Standard Oil company. By a practically unanimous vote the countervailing duty went out.

On all other propositions the committee was sustained. The barley schedule ran the gantlet without change. Tea and coffee were placed on the free list and the duty on barytes increased from 75 cents a ton to $1.50 a ton.

A colloquy, at first humorous but later developing into personalities, developed between Mr. Stanley of Kentucky and Mr. Clark of Florida, and was terminated only upon an objection by Mr. Crumpacker of Indiana that it was against the dignity of the house.

Cannon's Speech in Vain.

When the oil schedule was reached Mr. Vreeland, on behalf of the ways and means committee, offered an amendment striking out the countervailing duty and fixing a duty of 25 per cent ad valorem. Mr. Norris of Nebraska moved a substitute providing for a duty of 1 per cent ad valorem. Against this Mr. Dalzell made the point of order that as it was not included in the committee proposition it could not be entertained. The chair sustained the point, but by a vote of 162 to 174 on division the chair was overruled, many Republicans voting with the Democrats against the chair. Tellers being ordered, the negative vote was increased and the vote stood 136 to 168. Thus the entire petroleum schedule was opened to amendment. The result created much excitement.

A bitter attack against the Standard Oil company was made by Mr. Cooper of Wisconsin in favoring the Norris amendment. Seeing the wave of sentiment in favor of the amendment Speaker Cannon took the floor and warned the members of the dangers ahead. He made a plea for the American producer of oil. The amendment, he declared, was designed to punish the wicked Standard Oil company.

"Gentlemen," he said, "is it not well enough to see when you seek to punish somebody who you claim is bad that you do not, like Samson, pull down the pillars and have the temple fall upon you?" The adoption of the Norris amendment, he said, would let in practically free refined oil from Mexico, "and still the gentleman from Wisconsin and others flap their wings and crow and crucify the people while they demagogue in denouncing the wicked Standard Oil."

Attack Clause on Philippines.

Opposition to the provision of the Payne tariff bill amending the act to provide revenue for the Philippine islands has become general on the part of Democratic senators and attacks upon it are anticipated by the senate committee on finance. On that account this section has been laid aside to be considered by the full committee.

Senator Stone of Missouri intends to strike out of the Payne bill section 5, providing for free trade with the Philippine islands, with certain limitations upon the amount of sugar and tobacco that may be imported in any one year. The Stone amendment will provide that the United States must define its policies with reference to the Philippines and fix a limitation, not more than fifteen years hence, upon the control of the islands. It provides that the United States then shall withdraw and deliver over the reins of government to the Filipinos. Under the amendment this government would be required to make treaties to secure the independence and neutralization of the islands.

A further provision is made that all products grown in the Philippines shall be entitled to free entry, and in return all agricultural machinery and implements, cotton and manufactures thereof, books and publications, machinery of all kinds needed in the manufacture of Philippine goods, and other articles which are wholly the product of the United States, shall be entitled to free entry to the Philippines.

FINDS FAULT WITH PAYNE BILL.

Statement of Chairman of Manufacturers' Association Committee Favors Tariff Commission.

"The creation of a tariff commission is indorsed and defects in the Payne bill are pointed out in a statement made yesterday by H. E. Miles of Racine, Wis., chairman of the executive committee on tariff revision of the United States Manufacturers' association and of the committee of 100 appointed as a tariff commission by 253 organizations in Indianapolis on Feb. 18.

"It is practically assured," says the statement, "that the tariff bill will provide for a permanent tariff board to be selected by the president with salaries of $5,000, $7,500, or a similar amount, the board to include men of general business judgment and discretion as well as technical experts.

"The mistakes in the present bill, which are known by all to be legion, some of great consequence, some small, and one whole schedule generally known to be radically wrong with no chance of making it right, and the general need of broadened world markets is making the need of a tariff commission clear to every one."

TARIFF ON ZINC DEMANDED.

Representatives of Mining Interests in Three States Ask Congress to Place Tax.

Dubuque, Ia., April 7.—Representatives of lead mining interests in Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin at a massmeeting tonight adopted resolutions asking their congressmen to demand a tariff of one and one-half cents per pound on zinc.

NATURAL HISTORY EXPERTS PUSH TO THE FAR NORTH.

Report from Flanman Island Takes Nearly Seven Months to Reach American Museum in New York.

New York, April 7.—The Stefansson-Anderson expedition sent by the American Museum of Natural History to make observations and secure specimens of arctic Alaska, has succeeded so well in pushing northward that a preliminary report sent by them in October last has been nearly seven months in reaching New York City.

The report was received this week. It says that they have made plans for systematic explorations and observations lasting over a period of more than a year longer. They have already secured some rare specimens of mountain sheep, deer, and other animals, and were preparing, at the time their report was sent, to push westward to investigate the little known inhabitants of the interior.

The report was sent from Flanman island in the Arctic ocean, about 500 miles north of the arctic circle.

DAILY POSTAL HINT.

Mail collectors are instructed to give preference to first class matter (letters and sealed parcels) when it is impossible for them to empty completely all boxes on their routes. They are forbidden to fill their satchels with circulars, lest by so doing letters might have to be left in boxes until the next trip. Mail left on top of or alongside of boxes cannot be "picked up" until all matter in the box has been collected.

TARIFF PROTESTS ROLL ON CAPITAL.

Pennsylvania Flyer Waits Three Minutes for Huge Petition and Guardians.

LIKE A TRIP TO ARCTICS.

Relatives and Friends Gather for Farewell to Women's Clubs Delegation.

"A-a-all aboard for Wash—" sang the train crier in a deep voice out in front of the big Pennsylvania engine.

"Wait a minute," came the staccato echo from the tail end of the long train. "There's one passenger not in yet."

And then said passenger made its way at quite a rapid pace down the long aisle between tracks, and appeared in the personnel of one handsomely setup trunk.

Just an ordinary millionaire could not have delayed this big flyer for three minutes while he was loaded on board, but this trunk was of quite a higher order of importance—was, indeed, deemed by the porter and other functionaries who knew to be the most important passenger on board, for it is headed for Washington on a mission of state.

It carries the petition containing 300,000 signatures protesting against the proposed increase on underwear and hosiery.

The reason it was late was because it was having its picture taken, with Miss Helen Norris, its especially appointed keeper, sitting on top of it.

Roll on Way to Congress.

This morning the trunk is on board the Pennsylvania limited en route for the congress of the United States, in company with four women from the league of Cook county clubs, who are personally conducting it in its advance on Congressman Payne. Mrs. Nathan B. Lewis, president of the league, Mrs. E. M. Henderson, Mrs. Freeman Brown, and Miss Norris have its destinies in charge.

This afternoon, or at latest tomorrow morning, it will be presented to the house by Congressman Foss, who will wait on the women at their hotel, the Arlington, today. It is hoped that its sixty volumes handsomely bound in manila and inscribed across the top with the title, "A Petition from the Women's Clubs of Illinois Against Increases in the Payne Tariff Bill" will so affect the members that they will instantly begin to reconsider their threat "to pay no attention to the women and their plea."

Like Voyage of Exploration.

At any rate, when the formal presentation is made the women's work for the present will be over, and they will repack their steamer trunks, which at the Union station here made up a large cargo of what Cæsar called "impedimenta," and they will return home.

They expect to arrive on Saturday, but this is not the impression you would have received if you had been at the station to see them off. There were husbands, fathers, brothers, sisters, and mothers, all excitement and tears. The horror of such a far, far separation from her sister was too much for Miss Norris, and when some one told her Washington was 1,000 miles away she burst into tears.

"Pray for us," called back Mrs. Lewis from the observation platform as the train pulled slowly out. "I'll write, I'll telegraph," sang out the others to their husbands, until the wondering passengers within thought that they were witnessing the start of a polar expedition or a tour of Africa perhaps.

Of the volumes that will go to congress each of the sixty contains 100 pages and each page contains forty names. An additional 60,000 unbound protests of from one to 250 names also will go to swell the cause, these being the ones that came in by mail on odd pieces of paper and on the printed coupons.

"LUCKY" BALDWIN LEAVES ESTATE OF OVER $20,000,000.

Will of Famous Turfman Is Probated Without Incident, but No Public Announcement of Legacies Is Made.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 7.—The will disposing of the millions of the late E. J. ("Lucky") Baldwin was probated today. H. A. Unruh, business manager of the famous turfman, as executor, testified as to the making of the will, the soundness of Baldwin's mind, and his freedom from any sort of undue influence when the instrument was signed, Nov. 4, 1908.

Mr. Unruh fixed the value of the real property at from $20,000,000 to $24,000,000 and of the personal property at $127,500. The net income from the property, said the executor, has been only $10,000. Attorneys for Mrs. Lillie Bennett Baldwin, the widow, and Mrs. Zelda Selby, a daughter by another wife, were in court, but took no part in the proceedings. The attorneys declined to make public any of the details of the settlement with Mrs. Selby and with the widow, Mrs. Baldwin of San Francisco, which averted a possible contest of the will.

The bond of the executor was fixed at $275,000.

KILLS ANOTHER MAN'S WIFE AND THEN COMMITS SUICIDE.

Loda, Ill., Man Slays Woman at Whose Home He Was a Boarder and Then Shoots Himself.

Bloomington, Ill., April 7.—[Special.]—T. M. Ross shot and killed Mrs. Jessie Staley at her home in Loda, Ill., early today. He then swallowed carbolic acid and fired a bullet through his temple.

Ross had been boarding at the Staley home for a year, and stories concerning the pair are said to have caused the wife of Ross to leave him and make her home in Clinton. Charles Ross, son of the dead man, said he had been anticipating the tragedy for some time, as he had been advised of trouble between Ross and Mrs. Staley.

Ross arose early this morning and dressed with great care. He then called Mrs. Staley to the door and shot her four times. Ross then went to his own room and, after swallowing two ounces of acid, fired a bullet through his brain. The first intimation of the shooting came when the two little children of Staley hurried to a neighbor's and told what they had seen.

DECLARES ILLINOIS LEADS STATES IN COAL DEPOSITS.

Alburto Bement Points Out Waste and Immense Reserves to Western Society of Engineers

In an address before the Western Society of Engineers in its assembly room, Monadnock block, Alburto Bement declared last night that Illinois probably contained more unmined coal than any other state in the union.

"Calculation shows that about one-half of 1 per cent has been exhausted," he declared. He stated that the Illinois coal field had produced 650,739,771 tons, having a value of $1,626,849,427, and that approximately 279,818,101 tons had been wasted largely because of extravagant and crude methods.

Mr. Bement stated that Illinois had not suffered so greatly as other states from large mine disasters because of the comparatively small amount of gas generated. He pointed out that the disastrous results of operations in the deep mines of seam 7 in Franklin county were due to "reckless disregard of safety" which "changes an otherwise good, safe field into a dangerous one."

Roosevelt Urges Americans to Appreciate Work.

MANY HOUSES COMPLETED.

Ex-President Praises Efforts of Men Engaged in Construction.

ROME, April 7.—Just before his departure last evening on the steamer Admiral for Mombasa, ex-President Roosevelt wrote the following message to the American people:

"Before leaving Messina I desire to say that I am sure the American people do not realize the splendid work that is being done at Messina and Reggio with the lumber sent from the United States.

Finds 250 Houses Built.

"I have visited the American camp and seen 250 houses already completed, and arrangements have been perfected for the rapid construction of 1,250 more.

"The whole work, which is under the general direction of Ambassador Griscom, has been organized and perfected by Lieut. Commander Belknap, with the assistance of Lieut. Buchanan, Ensigns Wilcox and Spofford, Dr. Donelson, Paymaster Rogers, forty enlisted men of our navy and a number of stalwart American carpenters. In addition, there is a fine group of Americans, such as J. Elliot, Winthrop Chandler, J. Bush, and R. Hale, who are giving their time and energies to help the philanthropic work.

Indebted to Every Man.

"I wish to say I consider that the American people are deeply indebted to each and every one of these men.

"I cannot exaggerate the pleasure it gave me to see the officers and enlisted men of our navy adapting themselves to strange and unexpected circumstances and performing with ability and thorough good will this most difficult task. Our nation will be proud of them."

MEMORABLE CRIMINAL TRIAL ENDS IN VERDICT OF MURDER.

Merchant in Louisiana Found Guilty and Death Penalty Named for Deed Wherein Three Men Were Killed.

Amite City, La., April 7.—The most memorable criminal trial in the history of Tangipahoa parish ended today when the jury in the case of Avery Blount, tried for murder, returned a verdict of guilty, carrying the death penalty with it.

The accused man received the verdict with comparative coolness, but his wife, a constant attendant on the trial, fainted when the decision of the jury was announced. Judge Ellis fixed Friday for the hearing of a motion for a new trial, immediately asked by the defense.

DENIES KUNZ LAWYER PAID HIM.

Frank Chyma, Saloonkeeper, Says He Was Misquoted Regarding Case of Alderman's Son.

In a statement made yesterday by Frank Chyma, a saloonkeeper at 746 West Twenty-sixth street, he said he had been misquoted in recent reports that an attorney representing Menard Kunz, son of Ald. Stanley Kunz of the Sixteenth ward, had paid him money in settlement of a case in which Chyma had caused the arrest of the alderman's son.

Menard Kunz and J. C. Miller, accused with him, were discharged Monday by Municipal Judge Beitler when arraigned on a charge of obtaining money by means of a confidence game from Chyma. The complainants in the case did not appear.

In speaking of the case Chyma said: "The money I lost was not paid back by an attorney representing Kunz nor was it paid in his behalf. The money was paid, I understood, by a representative of Miller. I had no desire to prosecute the boys."

Oct. 31 last, with the modest capital of $650,000 altogether, reorganized as state banks. The Oklahoma people claim the guarantee was not real insurance but that it was a contract with the state to put the state into possession of funds sufficient to make good the loss of deposits in failed banks.

Attorney General Bonaparte held this was distinction without difference, and there is little chance that Gov. Stubbs and his fellow officials in Kansas will be able to frame any kind of an effectual guarantee law which will permit of national banks taking advantage of its provisions.

Money Can Be Insured.

In all this discussion of the guarantee of bank deposits the fact generally is lost sight of that there is nothing in the world to prevent any depositor securing insurance on the money he may have in a bank. He may insure his deposit just as he might secure satisfactory insurance for his plate glass, or his life, or his automobile, or his household furniture. It would not cost him any more in the long run, either, because all banks which go into the guarantee scheme are sure to make their depositors pay the cost in the long run.

Most active depositors who do a large business are borrowers at the same time. The bank which pays its quota into the guarantee fund will, of course, get it back by increasing the rate of loans. That means that the average depositor, who so often is a borrower, pays for the insurance of his deposits by the inevitable increase in interest rates. Inasmuch as the bank probably will be disposed to protect itself completely, the chances are this increase in the interest rate would be higher than the premium which would be charged by an insurance company for doing the same work.

It ought to be evident that any life insurance company can agree to protect deposits for a less rate than any bank or association of banks could, because the insurance company is in that business, it has all the machinery ready and prepared, and it has made an exhaustive study of the cost of such enterprises.

Different Case with Banks.

With the bank the case is entirely different, as the insurance of deposits is entirely outside of its legitimate functions, and in order to protect itself from the possibility of loss it is practically certain to make money by the operation, and the depositor who is a borrower, as most depositors are, will be the inevitable loser.

During the last campaign President Taft took a strong stand against the bank guarantee plan. He was entirely deaf to the appeals of time serving politicians, who wanted him to dodge the issue because it was causing dissension in states like Kansas and Minnesota.

With characteristic honesty of purpose the Republican candidate delivered, during his visit to St. Paul and Minneapolis, one speech exclusively devoted to the bank guarantee plan. No man after reading that speech ought to misunderstand the attitude of the administration on this point, nor could any one believe there is the slightest chance of legislation by congress which could permit national banks to undertake the insurance of deposits.

STANDARD'S AID RIDICULES "PLOT"

Says U. S. Seeks to Deprive Ida Tarbell of Right to "Conspiracy" Patent.

LAUDS TRUST IN COURT.

Milburn Declares It Ordained That Some Should Win and Others Fail.

St. Louis, Mo., April 7.—"Miss Ida Tarbell is entitled to a patent on the alleged Standard Oil conspiracy of 1879," declared John G. Milburn, the Standard Oil company's chief of counsel, today during his argument before the United States Circuit court sitting in the government's case to dissolve the oil corporation.

"And," he added, turning toward Federal Attorney Frank B. Kellogg, "the government is trying to deprive her of it."

Mr. Milburn compared the Standard to the human body.

"To dismantle this corporation," he said, "would be to strike it dead. It is like the organism of the human frame. Every part is so related to the other that to separate them would be to dismember and destroy it."

Says Trust Always Blazed Trail.

Instead of being a menace to the independent refiners Mr. Milburn declared the Standard always had led the way and blazed the trail in the oil world and that the independents had but to follow, as they always had done. The Standard lawyer insisted that under the constitution a man had the right to sell anything he possessed if he only had a man willing to buy and pay his price.

Mr. Milburn continued to deny that there had been either fraud, coercion or wrong in the acquisition of the properties bought by Standard Oil.

"In the general economy of society," he said, "it was ordained that some men should succeed and others fail. Some men failed in the oil refining business. They could not keep pace with the improvement of the times. They came to us to sell—we bought.

"Is this defendant to be charged with that man's failure to succeed? Did we compass his fall? No—such is the law of progress."

Men Shopped for Rates.

The Standard lawyer discussed the alleged railway discriminations charged by the government and the existing conditions of that day. With no law preventing it was the custom to seek the lowest rate, he said. Men shopped for freight rates and discriminations, using every method to secure an advantage.

The Pennsylvania railway itself was engaged in refining oil until forced to stop by the Erie and other roads.

"Could we," Mr. Milburn asked, "get lower rates than the Pennsylvania could grant itself? It was our competitor. Could we undersell it?"

Mr. Milburn refuted the government's allegation that the Standard had attempted to prevent competing pipe lines from getting business or had purchased stock in such competing pipe lines for illegitimate purpose and said nothing in the evidence warranted such an accusation.

Denies Efforts in Restraint.

The alleged contracts in restraint of trade were discussed, the Standard attorney construing the contracts to show that no such attempt ever had been made or intended by the defendants.

It was Mr. Milburn's contention that the defendant had been a greatly maligned corporation. Charged with all manner of commercial evil, as a matter of fact, he said, it had been the nation's greatest developer of not only local but foreign commerce. No company had been so persistent in carrying American products to the far away corners of the globe as had the Standard Oil, he declared.

Mr. Milburn explained in detail the organization and extension of the oil marketing business after 1875. The lubricating field then was invaded, a feature which the lawyer explained with great care, especially as the acquisition of 97 per cent of the country's railway lubrication by a Standard subsidiary company, the Galena Signal Oil company, through the alleged weight of Rockefeller money in the railway directorates, had been one of the government's principal charges against the defendants, as showing a tendency toward monopolization.

NEW BUILDING STRIKE LIKELY

Increase in Wages Demanded by Drain Layers and Helpers.

GROCERS END NEGOTIATIONS

Freight Handlers Probably Will Discuss Sympathetic Walkout.

More trouble in the building industry loomed up yesterday when the drain layers and helpers threatened to strike for an increase in wages. A conference between a committee of the union and committees of the Master Plumbers' and Master Sewer Builders' associations was held in the afternoon without result. The employers refused to grant an advance.

The journeymen drain layers demand a raise from $3.75 to $4.50 a day and the helpers ask for an advance from $2.85 to $3.50. There are 1,000 helpers and 500 journeymen in the union. A special meeting of the employers will be held within a few days to consider the situation.

The outcome of the dispute largely will depend on the result of the wage scale negotiations between the contractors and the building laborers. The latter demand an increase from $2.80 to $3 a day.

Will Meet to Act on Offer.

The offer of the electrical contractors of $3 a day, the present scale, until Oct. 1 and $3.25 thereafter will be considered this evening at a meeting of the striking electrical workers. Officers of the union said the proposition practically is certain to be rejected. A committee of the Electrical Contractors' association met in the afternoon at the Union restaurant and decided to hold no further meetings with the strikers. Members of the committee said they will stand firm on their offer of a compromise.

Officers of the union said 70 per cent of the strikers have returned to work for contractors who have signed the new scale of $35.50 a day, leaving fewer than 200 men on strike.

Another fruitless effort was made during the day to settle the strike of wholesale grocery employés. A meeting between officers of the union and representatives of the Merchants' exchange was held in the morning, at which negotiations were broken off. In the evening Business Agent Alexander Gilchrist of the union was notified by the merchants that the employers have decided to hold no further conferences with the union or the strikers.

This places the strike squarely up to the Freight Handlers' District council, which body will hold a special meeting this evening to take action on the ultimatum of the merchants. The probabilities are that the council will request the International executive board to sanction a sympathetic strike of freight handlers. Such a strike would tie up practically every railroad freighthouse in Chicago. A special meeting of strikers will be held this morning at Yondorf's hall.

Will Argue on Injunction.

Arguments on an application for an injunction restraining the striking tilelayers and all officers and members of the Associated Building Trades from interfering with the business of the Mantel and Tile Dealers' association will be heard this morning by Judge Julian W. Mack.

A meeting of the American Association for Labor Legislation will be held at the City club Saturday to discuss the necessity for labor legislation in Illinois and the nation. Among the speakers will be Prof. Henry W. Farnum of Yale university. Miss Jane Addams will lead the general discussion.

May Settle Great Lakes Strife.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 7.—Negotiations were begun here tonight which may result in a partial settlement of the labor troubles on the great lakes. President Yates of the marine engineers is said to have made a proposition that all the union engineers take their boats without signing the contracts insisted upon by the Lake Carriers' association, or any other contracts. Four large package freight lines are taking part in the negotiations.

PORT ARTHUR HARBOR CLEAR.

High Wind Helps Ice Breaker Open Passage at an Unusually Early Date.

Port Arthur, Ont., April 7.—[Special.]—The harbor is now clear of ice. This morning a strong wind was blowing and the ice breaker Whalen went out and broke the ice in the harbor. It broke a passage through ice of twenty-four to thirty-six inches in thickness. The wind took the ice out into the lake. The harbor is clear the earliest in the history of Canadian ports. The first boat will arrive here Monday.

EVEN 'COPS' BLOWN OFF FEET BY GALE.

Skirt Problem Abandoned Altogether in Sixty Mile an Hour Wind.

SOME NEAR-TRAGEDIES.

Woman Struck by Falling Signboard and Girl Is Hurled in Front of an Auto.

A sixty mile an hour gale dropped out of the high altitudes where such big winds belong yesterday, struck the tall buildings of Chicago and split up into a battalion of mean, scrappy gusts that worked immeasurable havoc among thousands of pedestrians.

The approach of Easter and the promise of a warm, balmy day increased the number of victims. Modish hats came to the shopping district from all the outlying parts of the city. Early in the day downtown cars were crowded with women in faultless attire, not a wisp of hair astray, boots carefully polished, not a crease awry in tailored gown. On the way home in the evening the creases looked like a railroad map of the country, boots were mud cased, and the hair—my!

Masonic Temple Gets Blame.

With fiendish ingenuity the gale concentrated its guerrilla warfare at State and Randolph streets and the Masonic temple as usual took the blame. With no warning a terrific gust would hurtle down State street from the north, cut around the corner for half a block, then double back on itself in increased fury to catch unawares a policeman with an armful of women.

Early in the day six bluecoats were stationed at the Masonic temple corner. Sheer avoirdupois was all that kept them down. And even they, when caught trying to keep from two to five beruffled and big hatted women on terra firma, frequently were lifted off their feet.

Women were helpless in the storm. Scores were picked up bodily and bumped into stone walls or bundled against plate glass windows with a thud that made spectators shiver. Hats were torn from their pinning and sent scurrying into the middle of the streets, to be crushed by hoof or auto wheel, or were whirled high in the air to crash against wires.

Skirt Problem Abandoned.

The skirt problem was abandoned. The wind respected neither person nor dress goods and a four ply skirt was as likely to go ripping skyward as the humblest three cent cotton. Now and then a gust would generate a whirlwind of formidable proportions and when this occurred a woman seemed always conveniently at hand to constitute the vortex. The wind wrapped her skirts about her as closely as the swathing bands of an Egyptian mummy and she stood in her tracks as one transfixed.

Portly gentlemen fared no better than their helpless sisters. The same gust carried away all assumption of dignity and the spring derby. Men and women, total strangers, flew together in the embrace of long lost relatives.

The big wind of April 7 with its accompanying weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth will remain in the minds of neighborhood historians for decades.

Several Near-Tragedies.

Although most of the incidents and accidents were of a comedy nature, there were several near tragedies. The first of these occurred at 10 o'clock, when Miss Florence Lee, 15 year sold, 1748 Potomac avenue, attempted to cross State street at Washington. She was blown from her feet and thrown in front of an Ashland avenue street car. Despite the efforts of the motorman the girl was struck and dragged a dozen feet. She was considerably bruised and cut, but was able to go home after her injuries had been dressed in a nearby drug store.

An hour later a big plate glass window near the Washington street entrance to Marshall Field's fell in with a crash. Several window trimmers were cut by flying fragments of glass.

A smartly gowned woman attempted to accomplish the trip round the Masonic Temple corner with the aid of a policeman. On her head was an Easter hat which the promise of a clear day evidently had led her to wear. The policeman was proceeding, head down, when suddenly his charge struggled to free herself.

"My hat! There goes my hat!" she shrieked.

The wind had torn the creation free and a second perverse blast deposited it squarely in front of a limousine automobile. The collision didn't stagger the touring car, but it finished the career of the Easter hat.

Many Hats Sail Skyward.

Many other hats sailed around the corner, dresses and gowns streamed out—and up also—and whipping in the wind, held their wearers motionless as though by an invisible chain.

Two large plate glass doors at the Washington street entrance of the County building were shattered. The pressure exerted on the glass when doors leading into the corridor were opened is held responsible for the breaking.

Firemen were summoned in the morning to tear down a cornice over the restaurant of J. Z. Vogelsang, 182 Madison street, which had been loosened by the wind and was hanging over the sidewalk.

A score of persons walking on the north side of Washington street, near La Salle, narrowly escaped injury when fifty feet of the twelve foot high fence surrounding the new city hall site fell. Work on the city hall was stopped temporarily and men were hurried to repair the fence.

Mrs. Ludwig Walters, 74 years old, was struck on the head and knocked down by part of a sign board at Belmont and Barry avenues. She lives at 1281 North Marshfield avenue.

MICHIGAN ENGAGES WOMAN TO BE STATE'S PRESS AGENT.

Miss Nellie Revell Gets Job as Result of Exploiting Attractions of Chicago Theater.

The state of Michigan is to have a press agent—a real, truthful, imaginative press agent—to exploit its greatness. It will be the first time in the history of the Union that a state has placed itself in the hands of a promoter of news. The person to whom this honor has fallen is a Chicagoan, Miss Nellie Revell, now press representative of a theater.

Several months ago sundry state officials, anxious to tell the world of the greatness of Michigan, conceived the idea of engaging a press agent to paint word pictures of the glories of the state's resources—the timber country, the mining regions, and agricultural sections. They watched the work of press agents who succeeded in placing their yarns in Michigan papers, and decided to get "that fellow" at a Chicago theater, who seemed to have a good deal to say about that house's "novel attractions" and its "headliners."

When a representative called at the theater it was found that the press agent was a woman. Miss Revell, however, was engaged.

She will assume her new duties June 15 and will make her headquarters in Detroit. Part of her duties will be to look after the press work for state fairs.

Crushed to Death in Tunnel.

James Havey, a laborer, 256 Ohio street, employed by the Illinois Tunnel company, was crushed to death by an elevator in one of the tunnel shafts at the Wisconsin Central railroad freight house at the foot of South Water street early last night. His death cries attracted several employés who found his body. Havey was 30 years old.

MANY DEATHS IN TORNADO

Fatalities and Heavy Loss in the Wake of Big Wind Storm.

COLD WAVE IS FORECAST.

Low Temperature and Frost Predicted for Central States.

Washington, D. C., April 7.—[Special.]—Following close upon the reports received by the weather bureau of the death and destruction wrought by the tornadoes which swept the Mississippi valley states, the states in the great lake region, and the lower portion of Canada yesterday, last night, and early today, Chief Willis L. Moore of the weather bureau sent out a special cold wave warning this afternoon.

Mr. Moore's forecast indicates comparatively cool weather for several days in the eastern half of the United States, with frost in the middle and upper Mississippi valleys, the Ohio valley, the great lake region, and thence over the middle Atlantic and New England states. The forecast adds that the frost may reach down into the gulf states.

The storm struck northern Mississippi Monday night in a tornado that attained a velocity estimated at from seventy-five to 100 miles an hour. Nine persons are reported killed, fifteen are injured, some of them fatally, and thousands of dollars' worth of damage done to buildings and crops.

Great Losses in Tennessee.

This tornado, passing north into Tennessee and Kentucky, caused heavy damage to buildings, wrecking a schoolhouse at Buntyn, Tenn., and imperiling the lives of 300 children. Meager reports as to fatalities come from these sections, owing to the wrecking of telegraph wires, but several deaths are reported, not verified.

Passing into Indiana and Ohio yesterday, the cyclone destroyed factories and other large buildings in its pathway. At Massillon, O., the high wind, tearing the roof from a foundry, menaced the lives of 400 employés, killing one. At Wabash, Ind., the havoc was widespread, the loss being estimated at from $100,000 to $200,000. Two dozen dwellings were demolished, while their inmates fled for their lives. A woman, with her children, was pinned under the wreckage of her home, which caught fire, and she will die from burns. The city's electric service was wrecked and the town was in darkness throughout Tuesday night. The wind was followed by a cloudburst, and many bridges are washed away. Many families are homeless. Fifteen are injured, two fatally, in Toledo.

Northern Indiana Suffers.

In northern Indiana the storm late last night killed one man at Albion. Two hundred houses were destroyed in small villages.

At Cleveland the fishing tug George Floyd with seven men aboard and the sandsucker Mary H. with a crew of nine men are missing, while the barge Norman Kelley, with a crew of four persons, three men and a woman, near Sandusky, was rescued tonight after a desperate struggle as a result of a fierce wind storm which raged on Lake Erie.

In Michigan a boy was killed by the flying roof of a house at Brighton, two boys were drowned in a small boat in the Detroit river, and three fishermen were drowned by the capsizing of their boat near Wyandotte. Lightning killed a child at Ionia and set fire to thousands of dollars' worth of farmhouses and barns. A child was probably fatally injured in Detroit by flying debris.

At Jennings, in Missaukee county, Michigan, three young men were killed by being caught under a wall that was blown down by the wind. The damage to roofs, chimneys, plate glass, etc., probably will reach $75,000 in Detroit.

Wisconsin Is Wind Swept.

A terrific wind storm swept Wisconsin today. Many boats were reported overdue at various ports along Lake Michigan and at Milwaukee, while the northern Michigan copper country reports from five inches to two and a half feet of snow.

Southern Canada was a heavy sufferer from the storm, incomplete and unverified reports showing that the loss in small towns will reach the hundred thousands. Six persons were injured and one young child fatally hurt and property loss of $75,000 entailed at New London, Ont.

At Buffalo, N. Y., the gale reached a velocity of seventy-five miles an hour. Four persons, badly injured by flying bricks and debris, are in hospitals, and several ships have been beached, while a dredge was sunk. One man was crushed to death by a falling cornice.

The wind reached a velocity of sixty-eight miles per hour in Pittsburg. It is estimated that damage done throughout the city will be in excess of $100,000. About thirty persons were hurt, and two of them are so badly injured that they may die.

An airship owned by the Eagle Aeroplane company of Pittsburg was about ready for flight when the gale struck the tent it was kept in and blew both tent and airship away, demolishing both.

COURT TO PASS ON GOWN'S FIT.

Suit for $50 Brought by Dressmaker Against Actress Postponed by Mutual Agreement.

Suit for a bill of $50 started in the Municipal court by Mrs. A. Newkirk, a dressmaker, 312 Warren avenue, against Miss Adele Rowland, an actress, yesterday, was continued until April 16. Neither the actress nor the dressmaker was prepared to go ahead with the case.

The actress contends that a dress she ordered from Mrs. Newkirk does not fit and if need be Miss Rowland will bring the gown into court and don it in the presence of the judge to prove her point.

She will have the support of a large number of chorus girls, all of whom have assured Miss Rowland they will take the witness stand in her behalf.

NONE TO TAKE RAISE IN PAY

That Is Strange Situation Which Confronts School Board.

OVERLOOK IMPORTANT FACT.

Discovery Upsets Plan to Increase Physical Culture Salaries.

When is a raise in salary not a raise?

That was the problem over which the Chicago board of education deliberated for some time last night. The answer finally evolved was: A raise in salary—the salaries of physical culture teachers in the Chicago high schools—is not a raise when it doesn't raise any one's salary.

The problem arose over the recommendation of the school management committee of a proposition submitted by Assistant Superintendent of Schools Charles P. Megan. The physical culture teachers of the high schools are divided into two groups, the first group embracing six years and the second group seven years. The maximum salary of the second group is $1,200 and of the first group $1,600. Mr. Megan proposed to increase the maximum of the second group to $1,300, and to increase the first year of the first group from $1,350 to $1,400. Then, too, there was a proposal to give a bonus of $50 this year to all teachers except those who are getting the maximum salaries in either group.

Important Fact Overlooked.

The board has been trying to figure out some way to increase the salaries of physical culture instructors, for they are scarce. Consequently Mr. Megan's proposition was received with favor until Trustee Post called to mind a fact that had been overlooked—the fact that there are twelve teachers of physical culture in the Chicago high schools at present and each of them is drawing a salary of $1,600, the maximum salary of the first group.

"This report and recommendation gets nowhere at all," said Mr. Post. "There is about as much to it as there is to the other propositions to raise teachers' salaries."

"It does seem to be rather mixed up—a case of 'now you see it and now you don't' from the teachers' point of view," said Trustee Oscar F. Greifenhagen. "I move to recommit the recommendation to the school management committee."

The motion was carried with a rush.

Will Increase Milk Sales.

As a result of the success of the Chicago permanent school extension committee of the Chicago Woman's club in establishing a market for certified milk at a penny a bottle in the Hamline school the board of education granted the request of the committee to establish similar markets in the basements of the Seward and Smyth schools.

To relieve the crowded condition of the Irving Park schools the board of education approved the plan for entering into a contract whereby a two story brick building will be erected at Rockwell street and Springfield avenue and leased to the board for school purposes. The building will be erected under the supervision of School Architect Perkins and the lease will be drawn at $75 a month extending to June 30, 1911.

ADOPT 'OPEN DOOR' FOR PLAYS.

Western Theater Managers Decide to Present Best Productions, No Matter Who Controls Them.

The closing session of the annual meeting of the Western Theater Managers' association was held in the Sherman house last night and an "open door" policy regarding productions was adopted.

"We desire the best plays when available," said President Kindt, "and by available we mean when the play is ready for the public and not be compelled to wait until after it has been worn to a frazzle in eastern or other circuits. All productions of a good quality will be used whether from the 'trust' or 'independent' producers."

The following officers were elected:

President—Charles T. Kindt, Davenport.

Vice president—Fred Given, Decatur, Ill.

Secretary and treasurer—George Olendorf, Springfield, Mo.

A resolution was adopted on the lines suggested by Mr. Kindt.

MERCY FOR A HUNGRY THIEF

Girl Accusers Weep Over Boy Purse Snatcher's Privations.

GETS SENTENCE AND A GIFT.

Collection Taken Up for Penitent, Who Gets One Day in Jail.

A young farmer boy, sobbing in Judge Kersten's court, was given mercy and a collection of $2 yesterday when two young women whose purses he had admitted stealing pleaded that he be granted his freedom.

Conrad Snyder, the youthful purse snatcher, broke down when asked by Judge Kersten if he were innocent or guilty, and declared he had taken the pocketbooks because he was slowly dying from hunger. Miss Alice Feyes and Sarah Wilmington, 247 Indiana street, the complainants, went to the trial fully intending to have the young man sent to the penitentiary.

"But I never stole a thing before in my life," said the prisoner, tears streaming down his face. "I had been in Chicago about a month, trying to get work. I left the farm down in Illinois and thought I could find plenty to do here in the city. But no one wanted to employ me. For three days I had not eaten a morsel of food when I saw these young women crossing the State street bridge.

"They seemed to be so happy, and they were talking about what a fine dinner they had just had. Almost crazed by hunger, your honor, I ran up behind them, seized their purses and ran. They screamed, and a policeman who was standing near caught me before I got a block away."

Girls in Tears Ask Mercy.

"I don't want to prosecute him," sobbed Miss Feyes, approaching the bench. "I am awfully sorry. I knew nothing of his condition. Please let him go."

"Please, judge, don't punish him," echoed Miss Wilmington. "We don't want him sent to jail."

"Well, well," declared the court, clearing his throat, "this man is guilty. He admits it. I will have to punish him. The law must be upheld."

"O, judge!" sobbed both the young women. The penalty for the young man's crime is imprisonment. From the words of the court the complainants thought Snyder was going to get the limit.

"One day in jail," said the judge. "I guess that will be punishment enough."

Young Women Propose Collection.

Spectators, complainants, attorneys, and others went up and shook hands with Snyder. Then Miss Feyes thought they should take up a collection in order to help the young man get a square meal when he had served his day in jail.

Nickels and dimes rattled in the hat that was passed around, and the court slyly slipped in a 50 cent piece. The prisoner then was presented with the collection, some good advice by Judge Kersten, and was taken to the jail to serve his day's sentence.

DANGER OF RABIES REMOVED.

No Apprehension Need Be Felt for Attorney E. C. Fitch, Say Pasteur Institute Attendants.

Assistant City Attorney Edward C. Fitch, who was bitten by a dog while walking in Sixty-third street near Madison avenue yesterday, was reported last night to be in no danger of rabies by attendants at the Pasteur institute. It was declared Mr. Fitch had received treatment so promptly that no apprehension need be felt. The same was true, they said, of Kim Valentine, 7 years old, son of W. C. Valentine of the auditing department of the county treasurer's office, who was bitten by the same dog.

KEMP COMING TO GIVE BONDS.

Preacher Indicted on Complaint of Boys Is Expected to Arrive from New York on Saturday.

The Rev. Robert M. Kemp, against whom new indictments were returned by the March grand jury, will return to Chicago the last of the week to give $5,000 bonds.

"I conferred with State's Attorney Wayman today," said Henry Russell Platt, attorney for the minister, "and have arranged for my client to return as soon as possible."

The minister, against whom charges were made by choir boys, is in New York. It was said he probably would arrive Saturday.

MRS. KERSHAW STILL IN JAIL.

Again Asserts She Will Remain in Debtor's Cell for Months Rather than Pay $209 Claim.

Mrs. Otto J. Kershaw, 3660 Michigan avenue, asserted again last night that she would occupy a debtor's cell in the county jail for months rather than settle the claim of Mrs. William H. McClelland for $200.

She still expects to be freed because of nonpayment of her board at the institution.

"It isn't at all hard," she said. "I have lots of company, and will see that Mrs. McClelland realizes her mistake before she gets through with me."

RAIDED BY SIMS AS 'WHITE SLAVER'

C. Maibaum and Ten Women Inmates Arrested in Dearborn Street Resort.

REVOLVER STOPS FLIGHT.

Proprietor of "The Paris Palace" Accused of Importing Alien from Vladivostok.

A spectacular raid by United States deputy marshals on Charles Maibaum's resort at 2004 Dearborn street, known as "the Paris Palace," last night indicated that the decision of the United States Supreme court in the Keller-Uhlman "white slave" case has not stopped entirely the crusade of District Attorney Sims against alleged importers of alien women.

The raiders arrested Maibaum and ten women inmates, including Anna Bogard, whom he is alleged to have imported from Vladivostok, Russia. The prisoners were arraigned shortly before midnight before United States Commissioner Foote, who fixed Maibaum's bond at $10,000, that of the Bogard woman at the same amount, and those of each of the other nine women at $500.

The inmates gave their names as: Ruby Jones, Stella Russell, Georgette Richard, Dolly White, May Wilson, Laura Wilson, Ethel Moore, Meta Jenkins, and Frankie Wilson. The Russell girl was released on her own recognisance and the Jenkins woman was allowed to go on a $500 bond signed by "Ike" Roderick of the First ward. All the others were taken to the county jail.

Grand Jury to Act.

At the request of Assistant District Attorney Parkin the cases were continued until April 16. In the meantime, it is said, the case will be taken before the federal grand jury and efforts will be made to have Maibaum indicted under the section of the immigration law prohibiting the importation of alien women for immoral purposes.

This section of the law was not set aside by the Supreme court's decision. The decision held unconstitutional the law providing a penalty for the harboring of alien women who have been in the United States less than three years.

Maibaum, according to the information declared to have been collected by the immigration authorities, has been a member of the so-called syndicate of "white slavers" in which Alphonse and Eva Dufour, Henry Lair, and others are alleged to have been associates. He is said to have been proprietor of resorts in Paris, Johannesburg, and Vladivostok. For more than six months the immigration authorities and special agents of Mr. Sims have been investigating his case.

Raid Planned in Afternoon.

Warrants were sworn out in the afternoon before Commissioner Foote.

Assistant District Attorneys Parkin and Ben Davis, Ward Thompson, an inspector in the local immigration department, and Deputy Marshals C. J. Righelmer, William Griffith, C. F. Gunther, Charles Schrimple, Warren Wilmot, and Edwin Northrup went to the district in pairs, assembling in Maibaum's resort without arousing suspicion.

There were only two visitors in the place and a colored housekeeper was preparing to serve supper. At a signal from Parkin Deputy Marshal Northrup announced all the women were under arrest. The two visitors were told to get out, and guards were placed at the doors to prevent the escape of anybody within.

Operated Resorts Abroad.

According to the immigration authorities, Maibaum operated a resort at Johannesburg during the Boer war, and one at Vladivostok during the Russo-Japanese war. In May, 1906, it is alleged, he obtained the Bogard woman from a Russian with whom she was living and took her, with another woman, to San Francisco.

In Chicago, it is said Maibaum became established in business at 2022 Dearborn street through the Dufours. Later the resort at 2004 Dearborn street was opened.

He says he was in the United States before 1906 and is a naturalized citizen of this country. This is denied by the authorities, who say they may charge him with obtaining fraudulent naturalization papers.

DENEEN IS READY TO DROP HOPKINS?

Former Senator Fears Governor Has Agreed with Lorimer on New Man.

MANY LONG TALKS HELD.

Executive Said to Think Own Progress Needs Sacrifice of Auroran.

BY C. S. R.

Springfield, Ill., April 7.—[Special.]—Gov. Deneen, following a disturbing talk with supporters of Albert J. Hopkins, is in a still more disturbing conference tonight with Congressman William Lorimer. Mr. Hopkins, distressed by the frame of mind in which the governor appears to find himself, has invited some of his friends to make haste and come down, having reason to believe Mr. Deneen desires his elimination from the senatorial situation.

Mr. Deneen and Mr. Lorimer have arrived at an understanding which makes possible the consideration of a candidate other than Mr. Deneen himself and now are engaged in an endeavor to find the man who will satisfy both parties to the arrangement.

The preliminary to this came in a talk which the governor had with United States Marshal C. P. Hitch, the latter being informed as a friend and supporter of Mr. Hopkins that the governor had done everything in his power to reelect the ex-senator and that it could not be done without the use of Democratic votes.

Deneen Tires of Long Wait?

Such a method of returning Mr. Hopkins, the governor said, was out of the question, and the situation was not encouraging for any further efforts in behalf of Mr. Hopkins. It was explained that the ex-senator was relying, seemingly, on the endeavors of the governor and his friends, and if that were his sole reliance the agony might as well be ended.

Mr. Deneen further told Mr. Hitch it was impossible for the state administration to see all its plans for legislation go to pieces merely because of the inability of the Hopkins people in the assembly to reelect him to the senate; that the administration was concerned about matters of more immediate personal value than the success of the ex-senator, and that the whole legislative program could not be sacrificed in a vain effort to return Mr. Hopkins.

Mr. Deneen is said to have expressed his fear that the futility of these efforts had been proved, and to have said that if the state administration scraped and raked together every vote which, under any conditions, it would be able to control, Mr. Hopkins still would be a handful of votes shy of reelection.

Hitch Asked to Break News.

Mr. Deneen is said to have left it to Mr. Hitch as a man and a patriot and a supporter of Mr. Hopkins to say how long it was to be expected of a governor to stand in the way of his own advantage.

Mr. Hitch is said to have been asked to break the news to Mr. Hopkins gently and to inquire of him how long it was to be expected that the governor would keep all his plans at a standstill, and if it were to be expected that he would allow a program for the pacification of Cook county and the passage of administration legislation to die of infantile senility or something of that sort.

This conversation, followed by the resumption of the Deneen-Lorimer conference broken last week by the governor's illness, was regarded in certain select circles as the first hint of a coming legislative spring and the thawing out of the deadlock.

It is not pretended by any statesmen who have what they consider a trustworthy account of Mr. Deneen's conversation with Mr. Hitch that they know all the details of the talk, but they are convinced that the governor will make no more efforts in behalf of the ex-senator, but will reach an agreement with Lorimer.

Cannot Agree on Compromise.

It is said to have been the governor's intention to take the matter up with Mr. Hopkins himself and to explain to him that unless he could show some reason for believing he could be reelected it would be necessary for the administration to make other arrangements and endeavor to find a candidate who could be elected.

Until a week ago Lorimer was working to make Deneen senator. The congressman is said to have abandoned this idea and to have become persuaded that the governor cannot take the place and will not take it.

The congressman would be satisfied to have Congressman Frank O. Lowden agreed on as the candidate, but knows that it would be difficult if not impossible to persuade the governor to accept him. The governor would be willing to agree to Roy O. West, but Mr. Lorimer is unwilling. He does not think that the votes could be obtained for West and he does not believe he should think of himself as a candidate.

It is admitted that the congressman will allow the governor to make the suggestions.

It is the belief of the anti-Hopkins men, who have kept the deadlock in working order thus far, that an agreement between Deneen and Lorimer, which will elect a senator, reconstruct the party organization in Cook county and throughout the state, and end the partisan fighting for a number of years, will be reached soon.

They believe that the deadlock shows its first signs of breaking, and that it will take to its bed as soon as Mr. Deneen makes it apparent that he has broken with Mr. Hopkins and will no longer delay the selection of another candidate.

The ex-senator polled seventy-five votes in the one joint ballot taken today.

TELLS NEED OF SAFETY BILL; FOUL FACTORIES ARE FOUND.

Samuel A. Harper Says Workers Need Better Protection and Good Ventilation in Shops.

Attorney Samuel A. Harper, secretary of the state industrial commission, yesterday issued a statement in which he pointed out the leading features of the "industrial safety" bill and the necessity for its enactment into law and enforcement.

"The bill is one of the most carefully prepared measures which have been introduced in the present general assembly," said Mr. Harper. "It is the result of months of careful research work and consideration on the part of the industrial commission.

"Its three great purposes are the guarding of dangerous machinery, the sanitation of factories and mercantile establishments and the ventilation of establishments covered by the bill

"Some of the visits made by the commission in the course of its inspection to ascertain conditions existing at present in our factories and mercantile establishments revealed some surprising conditions. Some places visited in Chicago, always leading to third and fourth story factories, were so dark that it was impossible to see six inches ahead in any direction. In many places practically no means of escape from fire was provided.

"Cigar factories were found in many instances to be in an extremely bad condition, showing a necessity for legislation of this kind. In some places from 125 to 200 girls were found working in a single room without any ventilation whatever, and the washing facilities consisting of a spigot in an ordinary sink. The questions of fresh air and temperature were found to be, if anything, of greater importance than the guarding of dangerous machinery."

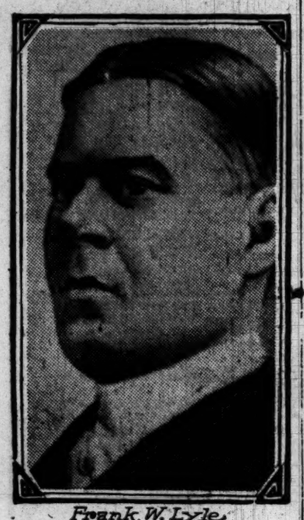
Death Prevents Trial for Theft.



Frank W. Lyle.

EX-BANKER DIES SUDDENLY

Death of Frank W. Lyle of Dowagiac, Mich., Causes Inquiry.

WAS FACING TERM IN PRISON

Indicted on Charge of Embezzling $1,447 from Elks in Home City.

Frank W. Lyle, former president of the City bank of Dowagiac, Mich., who was facing the state penitentiary on charges of embezzlement, died yesterday morning of uremic poisoning and erysipelas at 49 St. James place. Shortly after his death a report reached the Sheffield avenue police that the former banker had committed suicide, and an investigation was begun.

The body was taken to Bentley's undertaking rooms, 238 Lincoln avenue, where Deputy Coroner Kennedy took charge of the case. Coroner's Physician H. G. Reinhardt made a post-mortem examination and reported that death had been caused by uremia and facial erysipelas. Lyle became ill a week ago and had been under the care of Dr. W. F. Semple.

Statement by Physician.

"I attended him from the first and I know there was no attempt at suicide," said the physician. "The night before he was taken sick he was with his wife at the dog show. At supper afterward Lyle ate some creamed dried beef that may have poisoned him. He had acute pains in his stomach. The facial disease developed later. Fear that he would die prostrated his wife and the effect of his death on her will be serious."

Soon after Lyle's body had been removed to the undertaker's the flat on St. James place was deserted. A maid said Mrs. Lyle already had departed for her home in Michigan. When the police arrived at the flat in the morning they found a woman weeping beside the dead body. She is believed to be the Mrs. Grace Palmer Broderick who eloped with Lyle from Dowagiac at the time of the bank failure in March, 1908. She was the wife of a prominent physician.

Accused of $1,447 Theft.

Some time ago Lyle was arrested, charged with embezzling $1,447 from the Dowagiac lodge, B. P. O. Elks. Following the failure of the bank of which he was president he was indicted by the grand jury in Buchanan county, Mich. He was at liberty on $13,000 bonds. With him Ira B. Gage, vice president of the bank, was indicted, charged with receiving money for deposit when the bank was insolvent.

Leon R. Lyle, 21 years old, secretary of the Dowagiac Automobile company, arrived in the city in the afternoon and will take the body of his father to Michigan today for burial.

COAL MEN LAUNCH CITY FUEL ATTACK

Chicago Dealers at Springfield Indorse Bill Aimed at F. W. Upham.

TELL OF TRADE MONOPOLY

Claim Members of Board of Review Should Not Engage in Business During Term.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., April 7.—[Special.]—If persons who remember passages of "The Lady of the Lake" with more or less accuracy will recall that portion descriptive of the lightness of foot with which the heroine was blest they will have an adequate idea of the picture in which the scheduled attack of the retail coal dealers of Chicago on the City Fuel company and F. W. Upham, was made today.

The City Fuel company was the "Blue Bell" in this case and if it were stepped on it did not know it. Ten of the Chicago retailers in competition with the City Fuel company came before the house revenue committee in support of Representative Fieldstack's bill prohibiting members of the board of review from engaging in private business during their term of office.

Mr. Upham's connection with the City Fuel company, F. W. Meacham's relation to the cement business and Roy O. West's law practice were aimed at, but Mr. Upham's coal business was the chief issue in the measure.

Not Specific on Issue.

In anticipation of a loud voiced protest against the latter, a large number of interested persons attended the committee meeting when the bill was taken up, but, in spite of the repeated urgings of members of the legislature, the men could not be persuaded to be specific. They insisted that the bill was sound in principle and fair, and that its passage was desirable to prevent any possibility of the influence of a member of the taxing body being used to secure business for a firm with which he was associated. The delegation of coal men was headed by L. R. Rutter, and among the dealers were R. F. Marino, Howard Eldredge, W. R. Worth, F. Lukens, A. R. McGoodwin, and others.

Legislative friends of Upham were prepared to resist charges that he had used his position as a member of the board of review to secure contracts from firms which had to come before him on the assessment of their taxes, but the coal men refused to make such statements.

Representatives Shanahan, Hope, and Lederer exhausted all the questions at their command to get the coal men to explain specifically the evils they expected to be corrected by the passage of the bill. They were asked if they could present any evidence to show that any member of the board of assessors or the board of review had used his official position to force firms or persons to buy coal of any particular coal company. They replied at first that there was a possibility of such influence being used, and that the bill was meritorious as designed to prevent any such use of official power if any one in the future were inclined to turn a board of review position to personal advantage.

Mr. Rutter Explains.

"But have you any man in mind now who is doing any such thing?" asked Representative Hope of Mr. Rutter.

"I should prefer not to answer that question," Mr. Rutter replied.

Finally it was said that for some reason not explainable by any commercial development 75 or 80 per cent of the coal business in the loop district, a business which ten years ago was divided up by at least twenty firms, was monopolized by one firm.

"We cannot trace the fault to ourselves," said Mr. Rutter. "We are as energetic now as we were ten years ago. We have as good quality of coal, and we can make the price all right, but we cannot get the business. There is a reason, and it is not commercial. I know one firm which had been supplying coal to a big customer for eight years. This coal man was told that although his coal was satisfactory and his prices were right, there was a reason why the contract had to be taken away from him and given to a certain other firm. We are not here to make charges, but these are conditions, and in protection against them we ask for this bill."

Representative Shaw States Issue.

At no time did any of the coal men mention the name of the City Fuel company or of Mr. Upham, although the latter's friends tried to bring the charges down to a specific basis. All they succeeded in doing was to get a definite statement finally from Representative Shaw, who spoke with freedom because of his legislative connections.

"I'll tell you the whole sum and substance of this fight," he said. "Ninety per cent of the coal business in the loop district of Chicago is done by the City Fuel company, and one of the men at the head of the management of that company is a member of the board of review. Of course, these coal men do not want to come down here and make this statement, but I am willing to tell you that much.

"They say 75 or 80 per cent of the business is in the hands of this company, which has a board of review member as one of its managers, but I know from other sources that it is 90 per cent. The inference is plain, and it is to remedy such a condition that they ask for this legislation."

Action on the measure went over until next week, when the "other side" will be given a hearing if it be desired.

URGES BILL TO CURB TYPHOID

Dr. Evans Says Lives Pay Forfeit of Impure Water.

STATE LOSES MONEY BY IT.

Tells Legislators Both Could Be Saved by Stopping Cause.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., April 7.—[Special.]—Dr. W. A. Evans, head of the Chicago health department, appeared before the house appropriations committee this afternoon to support a bill making an appropriation for the field work of the water survey under the direction of the University of Illinois as a means of cutting down the death rate from typhoid fever.

It was pointed out to the legislators that the state is losing money and lives uselessly from water contamination and that both could be saved if the causes were traced and eliminated.

Cites Experience of Pittsburg.

Dr. Evans used the experience of Pittsburg as one illustration, saying that there an investigation had been made of a typhoid death record of 600 in one year and it had been found that the loss had been $1,500,000. In Illinois, he said, the loss from typhoid fever was about $3,000,000 annually and of this amount he estimated $2,700,000 as "useless."

Formerly in Chicago, he explained, the death rate from typhoid fever had been 175 per 100,000 of population, this now being reduced to 15 per 100,000. To show the varying rate in different couplies he gave the figures of Williamson county, with a rate of 110, and Jo Daviess, with a rate of 8.

Some remedial cause, he said, must be responsible for such a difference. Fifty per cent of the Chicago typhoid cases he classified as "vacation typhoid," being contracted during the summer by Chicagoans out of the city and brought back to the city by them.

For these reasons he urged that the state undertake a thorough investigation of the water supply of the different localities. The bill was laid over for further consideration.

House to Pass Milk Resolution.

The Shurtleff resolution providing for an investigation of the tuberculin test imposed by the Chicago milk ordinances was voted out by the live stock and dairy committee and will be passed by the house.

Dr. Evans, who believes that the theories of the state department of health, which are being used by Mr. Shurtleff as a basis for his resolution, are valueless, is not opposed to the undertaking of the investigation, but has refused to agree to the speaker's request that the operation of the Chicago ordinances be suspended pending the inquiry into the effectiveness of the test and necessity for it.

POLICE FIGHT PENSION BILL; DELEGATION VISITS CAPITAL.

Object to Extension of Benefits to Every Member of Department—Dr. Evans Goes to Springfield.

More than a score of municipal department heads and their assistants descended on the legislature at Springfield yesterday to take a hand in the consideration of legislation affecting city employes and public policies. Some went to boost and others to knock bills recently introduced and now being pushed through the committees.

A committee of police officials and policemen, headed by Assistant Chief Herman F. Schuettler and Inspector Nicholas Hunt, went to urge the defeat of an amendment to the police pension laws. The bill provides that all members of the police department, whether policemen or otherwise, be allowed to retire on pensions after having reached the service and age limit prescribed in the pension laws. At present policemen are the only members of the department eligible to pensions. Police operators and matrons, who are ineligible to pensions, are said to have been responsible for the introduction of the new bill.

Information was received by Corporation Counsel Brundage that vigorous efforts are being made at Springfield against the Chicago wheel tax ordinance. A paid lobbyist, believed to be in the employ of the automobilists, has been working among the legislators in favor of the bill introduced by Representative Pierson to pass a state law prohibiting the imposition of vehicle taxes.

An effort was made at night to reconcile the differences between the school bill of the Chicago Commercial club and that of the charter convention. Subcommittees having the bills in charge met yesterday in Springfield and will endeavor to reach a compromise which, among other things, will receive the approval of the Chicago school teachers.

Senator Gardner's bill to give municipalities authority to "prescribe by ordinance the motive power with which cars and trains of any railroad may be operated within the limits of a city or village and change the same at any time" was introduced in the senate at Springfield and sent to the committee on municipalities. It is drawn by the Chicago administration in an effort to force the Illinois Central to electrify.

WOMAN ATTACKED, THEN SLAIN.

Son of Widow in Erie, Pa., Finds Her Body Hidden in Cellar—Suspect Arrested.

Erie, Pa., April 7.—Mrs. Minnie M. Young, widow of Henry D. Young, who lived with her son, Delmar J. Young, was attacked and then murdered tonight. Her son found her body hidden beneath a pile of old carpet in the cellar of his home. Edward Zanger was arrested on suspicion.

ANTI-SALOON BILL FINDS MANY FOES.

Members of Senate Committee Fire Hard Questions at Arthur B. Farwell.

THINK IT TOO STRICT.

Chicago Would Be Made a Dry Town if Measure Passed, Objectors Say.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., April 7.—[Special.]—Arthur Burrage Farwell, representing the Chicago Law and Order league, ran into a lusty protest from the demon rum this afternoon when he appeared before the senate license committee to advocate the bill to prohibit saloons within 250 feet of a church, school, orphan asylum, hospital, or nurses' training school.

The men who spoke against the bill admitted they would not oppose the prohibition so far as schools and churches were concerned, but contended that the inclusion of hospitals, training schools, and orphan asylums would have the effect of making Chicago a dry town.

"I'm in the saloon business," said Senator Broderick by way of explanation, and as a preface to a few questions he desired Mr. Farwell to answer, "and I'd like to know if any one came along and set up a nurses' school in an empty room in my block if this wouldn't put my place out of business."

"It would," admitted Mr. Farwell cheerfully.

Broderick Sees Business Peril.

"That's all I want to know about the bill," said Mr. Broderick finally and conclusively. "I don't mind the churches and the saloons, but the rest of this won't go."

Just then an illuminating thought struck the senator and with the look of a man who had jumped from a railway track in front of an express train he exclaimed:

"Why, there are a couple of places near me now that would put me off watch."

"Why don't you correct this title?" asked Senator Jandus. "Why don't you call it a bill to make Chicago prohibition territory? That's what it would do."

"I am afraid it would not, Senator Jandus," said Farwell, "although I confess I wish it would."

Senator Dailey endeavored to secure Mr. Farwell's opinion on several of the Rev. William A. Sunday's theories of the causes of crime.

Farwell Faces Many Questions.

Senator Juul endeavored to get Mr. Farwell's opinion of "dancing as a cause of evil" and Mr. Dailey to have him discuss a statement of the Rev. Mr. Sunday that gamblers are produced by the playing of cards at home.

Mr. Farwell made an effort to catch the questions as they came at him from all sides and to return suitable answers to each in spite of the diversity of the inquiries. The measure was postponed for another hearing next week.

GRAY WOLVES BOW TO COUNCIL FATE.

Count Clipped Claws, Then Abandon Fight on Nonpartisan Organization Plans.

SLATE MAKERS IN HIDING

Committee on Committees Seeks Seclusion; Snow Probable Finance Chairman.

Whipped to a finish, the gray wolves and the "kiotes," as Ald. Bathhouse Coughlin poetically and tenderly has dubbed the near-wolves, finally and definitely have abandoned the proposed fight against the M. V. L. slate for council reorganization.

The council committee on committees will slip away this morning, and not to West Baden. For twenty-four hours it is the agreement of the committee to maintain perfect silence as to its whereabouts. Its report of committee assignments will be ready for presentation to the council next Monday night. There is every prospect that the official canvass will have been completed by that time and that the members-elect will be sworn in on that night.

Ald. Bernard W. Snow of the Seventh ward has been definitely slated for the chairmanship of the committee on finance, and his place as chairman of the committee on compensation will be filled by some other alderman. This was determined, practically officially, by the committee on committees yesterday afternoon at the meeting at which preparations for the hasty flight of this morning were made.

Pack Bows to the M. V. L.

The "big grays" and the "kiotes" took stock of themselves last night. They sized up the election returns, adopted subsidewalk resolutions of regret over the defeat of Moynihan, Kruger, Downey, et al., and found that the absence of these men from their accustomed council chairs makes it absolutely certain that the M. V. L. aldermen sit in easy control of the council. The "grays" and "kiotes" fail by about seven votes of having enough to control the body.

The pack, collectively, slunk away with the true apothegm: "What's the use?" So there will be no opposition to the council slate which will be brought back from the high grass by the M. V. L. committee on organization.

There was a general exodus during the day of aldermen, politicians, and innocent bystanders to West Baden. The main fact of importance attached to the excursion to T. Taggart's territory was believed to be the impending visit of the slatemakers to the same spot.

The slatemakers looked over the list of departures and figured that life for committee carpenters would not be one sweet song with the cloud of witnesses hovering about and thereupon agreed to seek some other secluded spot and furthermore agreed to keep the spot under their respective hats for at least twenty-four hours.

Mayor Favors Ald. Snow.

The agreement concerning the slating of Ald. Snow as the successor of Ald. Bennett as head of the finance committee was arrived at without difficulty. Mayor Busse strongly favors the placing of Snow in the chair which Ald. Bennett voluntarily surrenders. Snow hails from the same ward as Bennett and his record has been marked as first class by the Municipal Voters' league.

Ald. Snow likely would be tickled to death to get the job, and the tacit agreement to place him in charge of finance was made, it is reported, ahead of the slate making conference in order that he might not be placed in a delicate position as a member of the construction force which will make the slate.

The selection of Snow as the head of finance does not meet at all with the approval of the Democratic aldermen. This is not due whatever to personal objection to Snow, but because they would like much to be "agin" any Republican and for a Democrat. They insist that in the course of human events the nonpartisan scheme of council organization ought to get around to a point where a Democrat would be placed at the head of the council's most important committee.

If the Democrats could have had their way they would have insisted on making Ald. Michael Zimmer of the Twelfth ward the successor of Chairman Bennett. Political and M. V. L. exigencies, it is believed, took away this hope from the Democratic minority and resulted in the agreement as to Ald. Snow.

Ald. Foreman is certain to retain the chairmanship of the committee on local transportation and is considered as the legitimate successor to Ald. Bennett's position of council leadership. Ald. Stewart is the probable choice of the slate makers for the chairmanship of rivers and harbors, the place he now holds.

Rumors of Contest Downed.

The board of election commissioners begins the official canvass of the votes cast at Tuesday's election at 10 o'clock this morning. There were rumors during the day of a plea for a recount of the ballots on the treasurership to be made by Harry Hildreth Jr., the defeated Democratic candidate. Frank Lederer, campaign manager for Mr. Hildreth during the battle, authorized the flat statement in the evening that there will be no contest.

After the official canvass has been completed it is possible a contest will be instituted by Joseph A. Smejkal, late independent candidate for alderman in the Thirty-fourth ward against William F. Ryan.

Prepare for Judicial Primaries.

The city election being out of the way, the politicians are now called upon to devote their energies to the judicial primaries to be held next Tuesday. It is up to the organization Republicans and Democrats to slip over the slate candidates which were agreed upon by the respective county committees two months since. There will be strong efforts made by several "outsiders" to break the slate. The Supreme court at Springfield during the day granted leave to Shurtleff & Heiser, attorneys for J. Joseph O'Connor, one of the anti-slate Republican candidates, to start a mandamus suit with the purpose of forcing County Clerk Haas to certify his name as a candidate on the official ballot, he having filed his primary petition with the secretary of state. The justices set next Monday, the day before the primary, for a hearing of the petition.

Their Silver Wedding Day Approaches.

Christian C. Wolff

Mrs. Christian C. Wolff

Twenty-five years ago on April 15 the Rev. Henry Wunder of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church performed the marriage ceremony for Mr. and Mrs. Christian J. Wolff 1735 Sheridan road.

Some years previous to that occasion he had officiated at the baptism of both Mr. and Mrs. Wolff and a few years after that he presided over the confirmation exercises by which both of them were admitted to the church. On April 15 he will be the guest of honor at the silver wedding anniversary celebration at the Wolff residence. Invitations have been sent to 350 people.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolff have three children and one grandchild, and during all the years of their married life they have considered it almost a part of their creed to have the Rev. Mr. Wunder perform any pastoral duties that the growing family might require. He has baptized and confirmed Florence Wolff, now Mrs. William Henderson, and also has performed the same ceremonies for Carl Wolff and Alice Wolff. Recently he baptized the infant child of Mrs. Henderson.

"BROWN EYES" HIS INCENTIVE

Youthful Atlanta 'Black Hander' Confesses to Girl in Case.

WOULD ONLY WED FORTUNE.

Hence Boy Tried Extortion Scheme to Get It for Charmer.

Atlanta, Ga., April 7.—[Special.]—A brown eyed girl who lives at Gainesville, Ga., was the incentive for the "black hand" letters sent to Asa G. Candler, the banker, which have caused the arrest of an 18 year old boy, Daniel Johnson, who is a member of Mr. Candler's Sunday school class.

Young Johnson was a student at Gainesville Military academy, and while there, according to his father, fell in love with the daughter of a prominent family. The girl told Johnson she would marry him as soon as he acquired a fortune, and this promise, the elder Johnson says, led his son to attempt to secure a portion of Candler's wealth by black hand methods.

That "Brown Eyed" Charmer.

The elder Johnson charged the trouble up to his son's mad desire to possess the "brown eyed Gainesville girl," after a long conversation with the young man at the jail today. The boy made a full confession and admitted that he had no accomplices in the attempt to secure money from Candler.

It is doubtful if there will be any serious prosecution of young Johnson. Banker Candler is in a forgiving mood towards Johnson, his prize Sunday school scholar, and is not disposed to push the case.

"If it rested with me, young Johnson would not stay in prison any longer than it would take me to pick up the telephone," said Mr. Candler. "All that boy really needs is a good, sound thrashing. I would turn him over to his parents, who are as good people as ever breathed, and let them give it to him.

His Mother a Good Woman.

"If I had suspected he was in the hands of the officers I would have done that. I would not have reported the matter to anybody but his father and mother. His mother is one of the best women I ever knew, as good as she can be.

"I thought a regular black hand gang was after me and was thoroughly scared. My home and the homes of my kinsmen have been guarded for several days. I haven't gone anywhere for three days past without two or three detectives shadowing me for my protection. On Monday I drew the $35,000 from the bank that the letters had told me to leave at the church. It was in actual paper money. I carried it with me, thinking every moment that some attempt would be made to kill me or to take it away from me. Young Johnson was a chum of my youngest son."

Denies Fraud in Land Deal.

A. E. Aitken of 289 Thirty-seventh street denied before Municipal Judge Hume yesterday that he practiced fraud in selling the right to government land in Nebraska for $20 to Edgar McGuerk and Edward McGuerk, twins, of 850 Root street, saying he would fulfill his promise if the brothers would settle on the property.

RUNS DOWN WOMAN; FLEES

Chauffeur Leaps from Machine in Fear of Angry Men.

STRUCK IN STATE STREET.

Mrs. Otho Hoobler Injured on Arrival from Streator.

After running down a woman at State and Polk streets early last evening, Fred Brown, a chauffeur employed by the Auto Taxicab company, abandoned the car he was driving and fled, in fear of angry men who witnessed the accident.

The victim, Mrs. Otho Hoobler, of Streator, Ill., was taken to St. Luke's hospital. Her injuries consist of lacerations on the head, bruises on the limbs and body, and, it is thought, she also was hurt internally.

Mrs. Hoobler had just arrived from Streator. Accompanied by her daughter, Floy, she was attempting to cross State street when the automobile, which was being driven at high speed, struck her. Several men rushed from the sidewalk to the middle of the street, shouting threats, and the chauffeur fled.

Detectives were sent in search of him. Inquiry at the garage failed to furnish any clew to his whereabouts.

In another automobile accident at Harmon place and Wabash avenue, Elias Ettelle, a street sweeper, was knocked down and seriously injured. He lives at 142½ Sherman street.

YERKES SUIT PAPERS FILED; PROPERTY LOSING IN VALUE?

Complaint Says Immediate Distribution Is Needed to Conserve Estate—Interest Growing.

New York, April 7.—[Special.]—The bill of complaint in the suit brought by the Underground Electric railways company of London against Louis S. Owsley, as executor of the will of the late Charles T. Yerkes, was filed today. The complaint says that the Probate court in Chicago allowed the plaintiff's claim of $796,000 for payments due on subscriptions to its stock and interest thereon, but that the executor neglected to pay the debt.

Meanwhile, as the interest is accumulating, the estate in this city is being allowed to deteriorate. The plaintiff is afraid the art gallery will be sold at an inadequate price. The taxes have not been paid, no repairs have been made, the pictures in the gallery, which are described as of great value, have been without proper care, and there is no fire insurance on the property.

It is further alleged that the free personal estate is insufficient to meet the indebtedness, and that it is necessary for that reason to sell the Fifth avenue property. The executor has taken no steps to sell it, nor has he done anything to realize from the personal estate to meet the indebtedness, except in a few small claims. Interest on the indebtedness of the estate is accruing at the rate of $200,000 a year, and immediate action is urged to conserve the property.

ANSWERS CLELAND BY QUOTING LAWS.

Municipal Chief Justice Olson Says Parole Judge Shows Lack of Knowledge.

ALSO QUESTIONS FACTS.

Finds Man in "Poor Father" Story Is Old Offender; Defends Ethics of Bench.

The war of interrogatories now raging between Municipal Judge McKenzie Cleland and his fellow jurists and members of the Haeckel Fellowship club continued unabated yesterday. Chief Justice Harry Olson categorically answered the questions put to him by Judge Cleland regarding the conduct of himself and other city judges and Judge Cleland prepared to answer the remaining queries submitted by the club.

Judge Olson, to put it briefly, asserted the charges of Judge Cleland exhibited his lack of knowledge of law and misinformation concerning actual facts. Many of the charges he said he never had heard of before and he intimated he would summon the judge before the monthly meeting of the court to produce proof of the allegations. He stated the procedure of judges on the bench is a proper subject of inquiry by the monthly meeting, which, however, Judge Cleland seldom attends.

Olson's Reply to Cleland.

When Judge Olson glanced at the list of questions fired at him by Judge Cleland he reached for a copy of the statutes and remarked:

"Judge Cleland wants to know if it is true intoxicated persons are tried and sent to the bridewell. Well, some are and some are not. It all depends on the circumstances attending the disorder created by the defendant. Under the law a judge has the power to suspend sentence in the case of an intoxicated person 'when satisfied that the public welfare and good of the defendant require it.' That is one of the few occasions on which a sentence may be suspended. Judge Cleland applied this provision of this specific statute to the entire criminal code and therein transcended his authority.

"The poor father who was ordered committed to the bridewell, according to Judge Cleland, for permitting his daughter to remain out of school to nurse her mother, was a man named Jannesse. I have a letter here from Lester Bodine, superintendent of compulsory education, stating that Jannesse was an habitual offender against the truancy law. ...er being warned he violated the law forty-eight times in the case of one child and fifty times in the case of another. At last Bodine had him arrested. Bodine commends Judge Bruggemeyer for imposing the minimum fine in this case."

Blackmail Case an Old One.

The chief justice said he knew nothing about the judge who, Cleland asserted, paid $1,000 to a woman to escape a criminal prosecution. This reference was to Judge Beitler, who when running for the legislature nine years ago paid $1,000 to a woman to stop a blackmailing story that was to have been used in the campaign. Judge Beitler said he paid the money against his attorney's advice. He explained he had procured a divorce for the woman and that afterward she attempted to blackmail him. She recently was committed to an insane asylum.

"If I had known that this incident took place prior to the time Judge Beitler became a municipal judge I would not have mentioned it in my list of questions," said Judge Cleland in the evening. "I read of the case in the newspapers a short time ago and inferred that it took place recently."

"I never heard of any of our judges using profane or foul language on the bench, as Judge Cleland charges," continued Judge Olson. "If there is one who does I would like to have the facts and I will act at once. I never heard of the judge who, he says, is so brutal that bailiffs refuse to serve in his court. I have, however, heard of a judge who was so kind to his bailiff that he watched the jury for him while the bailiff went to lunch. This judge violated the law when he did this, for he was not a sworn deputy bailiff while he guarded the jury."

Judge Olson declined to identify the judge to whom he referred, but it is understood it was Judge Cleland. He is said to have boasted of the act in a meeting of the judges where he was forced to admit the irregularity of the procedure.

Judge Cleland said he had answered all but three or four of the questions put to him by the Haeckel Fellowship club, and these he said he would answer as soon as he gets time.

Cleland Shows Versatility.

"I'm not a socialist, but——" said Judge Cleland in the evening.

"You ought to be! You've got the right ideas!" shouted an enthusiastic and, incidentally, quite joyous auditor at the meeting of local 62 of the Carpenters and Joiners' union.

The judge had insinuated that the opposition to his parole plan was inspired by men who had contracts for bridewell labor. He said that he was opposed because when a carpenter earning $4.50 a day came before him he refused to send him to the house of correction, where he would be compelled to work twenty-four hours a day for 50 cents, but turned him out on parole. This evoked ejaculations scriptural in their vigor.

Earlier in the evening the judge made an address during a prayer meeting at the Church of the Nazarene, where a hymn was sung in his honor and he was interrupted with frequent "Amens!" His speech had a distinctly religious tone.

AROUSED BY FINANCE IN PEAT

Stockholders of Defunct Fuel Concern Talk of Inquiry.

NEW COMPANY ASKS A BONUS

Would Take Over Old Shares, but Also Names a Consideration.

Stockholders of the Illinois Peat Fuel company, a concern organized under the laws of Arizona, and which recently went out of business after having disposed of $500,000 worth of stock to Chicagoans, have been aroused by the organization of the American Peat and Fertilizer company, a new company, officered by former directors of the Illinois Peat Fuel company. The new company offers to take over shares of the defunct concern for an additional 15 per cent cash deposit. It was said yesterday a postal investigation will be asked.

Announcement of the organization of the new company states the directors have control of a majority stock of the Canadian plants, on which was based the stock issues of the original companies, and promises that the plant, as soon as put in operation, will pay $200 a day.

Stockholders in the Illinois Peat Fuel company, who recently have sought to obtain information from officers of the company regarding the cause of the failure, have been met with the proposition to invest in the new company and the declaration that the old company no longer existed.

Much Stock Sold Here.

Five years ago the Illinois Peat Fuel company was organized with a capital stock of $1,000,000. It was announced it was a subsidiary concern of the United States Peat Fuel company, which held title to 1,000 acres of valuable peat bogs at Farnham, Canada. A small demonstrating plant was constructed at Archer avenue and Thirty-sixth street. On the strength of the demonstrating plant $500,000 worth of stock in the Illinois Peat Fuel company was disposed of here. Most of this was taken by small salaried residents.

But the big plant in the center of the Canadian peat bogs never got into operation, and several months ago it was discovered the parent and the subsidiary companies had been abandoned.

J. C. Denison, secretary and treasurer of the American Peat and Fertiliser company, and who occupied the same relations to the defunct Illinois Peat Fuel company, said during the day:

"The Illinois Peat Fuel company failed because the money taken in was spent inadvisedly. They had to do a lot of experimenting at the plant in Canada."

L. B. Lincoln, a former stockholder of the Illinois Peat and Fuel company, and now general manager of the American Peat and Fertiliser company, said during the day:

"The organization of this new company is an attempt to save the stock in the old and to preserve the interests of these poor stockholders. We have nothing to do with the United States Peat Fuel company or the Illinois Peat Fuel company other than to take over the stock of these former stockholders if they want to come in. I am doing my best to help these people now, but I'll say to you frankly that if this business is stirred up at all I'll throw up the whole business."

Letter to Stockholders.

Portions of the letter sent out by the directors of the American Peat and Fertilizer company to Illinois Peat Fuel company stockholders read as follows:

Chicago, March 5, 1909.

"Dear Mr. Stockholder:

"As you probably have considered your investment in the Illinois Peat Fuel company as lost, or at least of little value, if any, you will be glad to learn that steps have been taken to save your investment and put it on a profit paying basis.

"Arrangements have been made by which you can exchange your fully paid shares of the Illinois Peat Fuel company for an equal number of shares in our new company, which now controls absolutely 51 per cent of the Canadian company. The latter owns, without any incumbrance, the 1,000 acres of land and the plant, which latter cost nearly $85,000 to establish. This company is only capitalized for $175,000, and shares are probably actually worth $200 each. You may exchange all of your fully paid shares for an equal number of shares of stock in our new company by coöperating with us in profitably working the Canadian plant. This means that for every $100 you have paid into the Illinois Peat Fuel company you can take out $100 worth of stock (at par, $10 or $100 per share) in our new company and $15 in the Canadian company, by paying $15 cash only. The most conservative estimate shows an operating profit from the start of more than $200 a day."

The new company has desk room in 706 Marquette building. Mr. Denison and Mr. Lincoln are in charge of the office.

M. EDGAR ON CITY'S EXPENSES.

Former "Special Counsel" Tells Accountants Figure of $66,000,000 Should Be $30,000,000.

Many awful things were said about the city administration last night by Maxwell Edgar.

"The Fight for Revenue in Chicago" was given as his subject on the printed program of the Illinois Institute of Accountants' program, but as Mr. Maxwell ingenuously remarked, "this is a rambling talk."

"Just think," he said, "it takes $66,000,000 to run this city. Isn't that awful. Of course if this town was run on business principles, like some of the big corporations, it could be run on $30,000,000."

Mr. Edgar was one of the numerous "special counsel" employed by the city when J. Hamilton Lewis was corporation counsel under Mayor Dunne, and received about $3,000 for his work.

MINERS' DEMANDS ARE TURNED DOWN

Coal Operators Again Ask for Three Year Renewal of Contract.

MIGHT APPEAL TO TAFT.

Workers Will Probably Not Strike, but a Big Lockout May Be Made.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 7.—At a meeting held between committees representing the coal operators and the officials of the United Mine Workers of America, representing the anthracite workers of Pennsylvania, the operators refused all the workers' demands and submitted a proposition to extend the present wage agreement for three years.

Text of the Proposition.

The men will meet again tomorrow. The proposition by the operators in part is as follows:

"Whereas, By agreement dated May 7, 1906, it was stipulated that 'the award made by the coal strike commission in 1902 and the provisions thereof, and any action which has since been taken pursuant thereto, either by the conciliation board or otherwise, shall be extended and shall be continued in force for three years from April 1, 1906—namely: until March 31, 1909, with like force and effect as if that had been originally prescribed as its duration';

"Now, Therefore, it is stipulated between the undersigned, in their own behalf, and so far as they have power to represent any other parties in interest, said award and the provisions thereof and any action which has since been taken pursuant thereto, either by the conciliation board or otherwise, shall be extended and shall continue in force for three years from April 1, 1909—namely: until March 31, 1912, with like force and effect as if that had been originally prescribed as its duration."

The wage agreement which the operators seek to have renewed expired on March 31. The miners, however, pending the outcome of the conference, are working under its terms.

Recognition a Vital Point.

The agreement does not provide for recognition of the miners' union, and this is the bone of contention, as the operators absolutely refuse to recognize the union.

It is said that should the operators refuse to make any concessions and insist upon the offer to renew the anthracite strike commission award, the miners will appeal to President Taft for the appointment of a commission to investigate the conditions controlling the mining and selling of hard coal.

It also is said that if the conference ends without an agreement the miners will not declare a strike, but will leave it to the operators to declare a lockout.

SUBWAY IGNORES WOMEN CAR HINT.

'PAPER' ROAD SUIT ENDED

Action Against T. F. Ryan et Al. Settled by Defendants Sending Check.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE, New York, April 7.

According to a statement by an official of the Interborough Rapid Transit company today that corporation will not respond to the suggestion of the public service commission that it install separate cars for women on its express trains in the subway. The Interborough intends apparently to wait for a definite order from the public service commission if the commission sees fit to make one after hearings which it directed shall be held on the subject.

Hint for Women's Cars Fails to Move Subway.

Meantime good reports have come from the operation of separate cars for women on the McAdoo Hudson tunnels. McAdoo said of this today:

"The result of our experience with the women's car is altogether encouraging. Sufficient time has not elapsed to make the test conclusive, but we are going to continue it at least for a month before coming to a final conclusion."

The suit of the Metropolitan Securities company against the estates of William C. Whitney and William L. Elkins, and against Thomas F. Ryan, P. A. B. Widener, and Thomas Dolan, to recover money received by the persons named from the Metropolitan Securities company out of $965,607.19, the purchase price paid to Anthony N. Brady for bonds and stock of the Wall and Cortlandt Street Ferries Railways company, has been settled. The defendants today sent a check for $692,292.82 to the Metropolitan Securities company.

Brady "Paper" Road Suit Settled.

The Metropolitan Securities company paid this exact amount to the defendants as repayment with interest of moneys advanced to the Metropolitan Street railway company at the time of the purchase of the "paper" railroad from Brady. The legality of the repayment was questioned.

Announcement that suit would be instituted was made in October, 1907, at the offices of the Interborough-Metropolitan company, which owns 99 per cent of the stock of the Metropolitan Securities company. It followed investigation into Metropolitan Street railway financiering.

A dog aristocrat arrived today on a western train at the Erie railroad station in Jersey City. There was much curiosity at the station when the animal, a French poodle, was carefully handed from the car, put on an invalid chair, and wheeled to a Twenty-third street ferry boat. Word was received to meet the train with an invalid chair, and a man was assigned to that duty.

Sick Dog Met at Train by Invalid Chair.

When the train pulled into the station the man with the chair was on hand. He was much amazed when the conductor carefully lifted out the poodle and placed it in the chair. The attendant was instructed to take the dog to the New York side. On this side a well dressed woman took the dog in her arms, tipped the chair man generously, and whisked away in an automobile.

The dog, it is said, belongs to a well known New York woman. It was taken ill at her country home and sent here for treatment.

CZAR TO DEFY BERLIN PACT?

Reported He'll Pass Through Dardenelles Under Warship Escort.

BALKAN BACKDOWN REVENGE

Early Important Changes in Russian Government Predicted.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, April 8, 3 a. m.—Reports from St. Petersburg this morning indicate that the car has hit upon a means for "getting even" for Russia's recent submission to Germany and Austria in the settlement of the Servian entanglement.

It is stated on what is claimed to be good authority that Emperor Nicholas, on his return from his forthcoming sea trip, will pass through the Dardenelles under an escort of Russian warships.

Action Regarded as Defiant.

Such action would be in defiance of the Berlin treaty and would be taken as re-establishing Russia's unfettered access to the Black sea from the Mediterranean.

Important changes in the Russian government are impending, according to London correspondents at St. Petersburg. The removal of M. Iswolski, Russian foreign minister, which has been gossiped about for weeks, and especially since the Austro-German triumph, is declared to be assured.

According to the Telegraph's correspondent, Iswolski already has resigned and is only waiting for the car's formal acceptance to withdraw from office. He had a long audience with his majesty Tuesday and was granted a leave of absence for three weeks, which, the correspondent says, is construed as a cushion to break his fall.

Among his conjectural successors is M. Gorenzykin. If the latter is appointed, adds the correspondent, the Anglo-Russian entente will not last long.

Says Changes Are Reactionary.

The representative of the Daily Mail at the Russian capital represents the prospective changes as being reactionary and Germanophile in character. He says M. Akomoff, reactionary president of the council, has presented the car with a list of names for a new ministry, with Krivosheim as premier, and Dolgorukoff, ambassador at Rome, as foreign minister. The latter is persona gratissima at Berlin and Vienna.

RECORD PRICES FOR WHEAT REACHED IN LONDON MARKET.

English Farmers, Having Sold Much of Supply, Cannot Profit by the Chicago Corner.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, April 7.—The British wheat market today touched 43s 6d a quarter ($1.90½ a bushel), the highest price in London for a quarter of a century, except momentarily at the time of the Leiter corner. British farmers' stocks now are only 20 per cent of the average for this time of year, good prices having induced them in most cases to market their stock, mainly to Germany and Italy, soon after harvest. According to the best authorities here stocks throughout the world are at low ebb.

Leading merchants in London anticipate a still further advance in prices, but opinions differ as to whether the rise will be permanent.

The wheat corner in Chicago is arousing the keenest interest in England. One of the chief milling experts in England, W. A. Voernon, said today:

"The situation in America is sensational, as, in addition to the corner engineered by Patten, it is supposed they will not have more than sufficient for their own requirements and therefore ought not to export any more wheat at this season, but we are expecting from them this season from two to three million quarters.

"The primary cause of the rise is the failure of the Argentine crop through a frost in December last, thus causing the exportable surplus to be reduced by from five million to seven million quarters. Then the stocks all over the world are at low ebb."

HADLEY AGAINST OUSTING SALOONS

Missouri Governor Urges Reforms in Connection with Liquor Problem.

SUBMISSION IS LIKELY.

Popular Demand for Vote on the Amendment May Gain Legislative Consent.

Jefferson City, Mo., April 7.—[Special.]—In the face of popular demand for a vote on a constitutional amendment on the question of state wide prohibition Gov. Herbert S. Hadley this afternoon sent to the legislature a special message in which he came out strongly against ousting the saloons from Missouri.

He strongly urges the enactment of legislation divorcing the brewers and distilleries from the dramshops, the enactment of an adequate law to eradicate the "lid clubs" in St. Louis and other cities, the passage of a residential district local option law in cities, amendments to the present local option law such as will secure its prompter and more effective enforcement, and the careful consideration of county unit local option.

"The responsibility rests alone with the members of the legislative department as to whether this question shall be submitted to a vote of the people," says the governor. "I feel I can fairly say, however, that that question should be decided solely by the test as to whether any useful public purpose would be subserved by making the adoption of such an amendment an active subject of controversy for the next two years."

Soldiery Torn by Daylight Bill.

Omaha, Neb., April 7.—[Special.]—Gov. Shallenberger is short three colonels on his staff. They have quit because he signed the daylight saloon closing bill, passed by the late Nebraska legislature. The colonels who have doffed their shoulder straps and beaten their swords into pruning hooks are Col. Kunci, Col. Fanning, and Col. Kennedy, all of Omaha.

This wholesale resigning of Democratic colonels means a wide breach in the Democratic party of the state. The colonels who have determined to become private citizens are allied with the Dahlman wing, which has declared that it will fight Shallenberger and his people into the last ditch, and then some.

Saloon Men Gain a Point.

Bedford, Ind., April 7.—[Special.]—Judge Wilson this afternoon granted a temporary restraining order in the suits brought by Constant Gaussin and Chester Ingalls, saloonkeepers, to restrain the officers of the city of Bedford and Lawrence county from prosecuting them for sales of liquor made after the expiration of the ninety-day limit under the county option law.

The order restrains the officers from making arrests until the injunction suits can have a more thorough hearing at the May term of Lawrence Circuit court. It does not, however, protect the saloon men from prosecution for every sale they make between the present time and the final hearing in May, in case the decision then should be against them.

Minnesota Blow to Temperance.

St. Paul, Minn., April 7.—Minnesota's lower house killed another temperance measure today by voting the indefinite postponement of the Adams bill, granting local option in cities of the fourth class.

DICKIE REFUSES A NEW DEBATE.

President of Albion College Declines to Meet Mayor Rose to Discuss Prohibition.

Albion, Mich., April 7.—[Special.]—President Dickie of Albion college has refused to debate with Mayor Rose of Milwaukee on Sunday in Chicago on the question of prohibition. The men debated the question in Milwaukee recently.

GOMEZ IS URGED TO FIGHT CASTRO.

however, that the matter of Castro's return was considered when he left Caracas for Europe; that he made an arrangement of some kind with Gomez, under which the latter should establish a revolutionary government, and that he now expects to be permitted to return to his native country without trouble. The fact that his brother-in-law was allowed to proceed from Maracaibo to La Guayra with no objection from Gomez is regarded as a feather showing the way the wind blows.

The Guadeloupe, the French steamer upon which Castro arrived at Fort De France, is expected to sail from that point tomorrow. By that time an answer will have been received from the French government as to whether it will observe the international policy to expel the exile from West Indian territory. In this event Castro must continue on the Guadeloupe, where he will either receive a garland of roses or handcuffs and leg irons.

CASTRO FOLLOWED BY CRUISER.

FORT DE FRANCE, Martinique, April 7.—Cipriano Castro, in a rage against the British government and the state department at Washington, left the steamer Guadeloupe at this port today and has taken up quarters on shore. Finding all ports in the West Indies excepting Fort de France barred against him, the present course was the only one left open to the former Venezuelan dictator. Señor Castro's wife will continue on board the Guadeloupe to La Guayra.

The American cruiser Montana came into port this morning.

The Guadeloupe, on board which Castro and his party sailed from Franch March 26, after four months spent in Europe, came into Fort de France late yesterday evening. While at Pointe-a-Pitre, on the island of Guadeloupe, where the steamer touched yesterday, Castro was notified by the British consul that the British government had decided not to permit him to disembark at Port of Spain, Trinidad; consequently Castro decided to leave the Guadeloupe here.

Denies He Seeks Warfare.

After expressing his annoyance, Castro protested against the bellicose intentions with regard to the existing political situation in Venezuela with which he has been credited, and he declared that his only purpose in returning to Venezuela was to give his attention to his private business. He appears still to be in ill health.

He showed the utmost indignation at the action of President Gomez, saying:

"It was I who placed him in his high position, and I have been badly recompensed. But justice is imminent, and the only satisfaction that I desire is that the light shall be thrown on those infamies which have been attributed to me."

When he bid good-by to his wife Castro showed great emotion. Then turning to the agent of the steamship company, he thanked him warmly for the attention which he had received at the hands of the officers of the Guadeloupe, and expressed keen regrets that he was not able to continue the voyage.

Port of Spain Excited.

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, April 7.—There is much excitement in the Venezuelan colony here over the interdict issued by the British government against ex-President Castro. Prior to the announcement that Señor Castro would not be permitted to land in Trinidad the coming of the ex-president to this port had been looked forward to by the Venezuelans here with some uneasiness, and now the interest is centered in the question as to how long Castro will be permitted to remain in Fort de France.

The United States cruiser North Carolina arrived here this morning and the cruiser Montana, it is understood, will follow the Guadeloupe to Port of Spain, where the commanders of the two warships may have a consultation. Reports received here state that the United States gunboat Paducah will arrive at La Guayra tomorrow.

Thinks Castro May Win.

PARIS, April 7.—"The present situation in Venezuela is critical; Cipriano Castro has many partisans in high places, even among the men recently appointed to office, and all are anxious that he return to Caracas," is the opinion of the correspondent in Venezuela of the Siecle, as set forth in a dispatch from Caracas published by that paper today. "Public opinion is hostile to Castro, but the Gomez government is the object of a bitter campaign by the leaders of the old parties suppressed by Castro ten years ago."

Castro's Enemy Gains Power.

WILLEMSTAD, Island of Curacao, April 7.—Word has been received here from Puerto Cabello that Hector Louise Paredes, brother of Gen. Antonio Paredes, who was shot by order of Castro, has been appointed consul general of Venezuela in the British West Indies, with a residence in Trinidad.

Hector Paredes, long before President Castro was deposed, made insistent demands that that official should be placed on trial for the murder of Gen. Paredes, and he was among those who worked incessantly for the overthrow of the former "dictator."

CASTRO APPOINTEE IS OUSTED.

Man Named by Gomez Takes Charge of Venezuelan Consulate at New York City.

New York, April 7.—There was an echo of the Castro-Venezuelan situation in New York today when the Venezuelan consulate general was turned over by ex-President Castro's appointee to his successor, named by President Gomez. Both Señor G. Picon Febres, the incumbent of the post for more than a year, and Señor Jacinto Lopez, who arrived last night from Caracas to take over the consulate, expressed pronounced interest in today's dispatches concerning ex-President Castro, but neither would discuss the situation.

MISS ELLEN DAVIS WEDS.

Marriage to Merrill B. Johns Notable South Side Event.

One of the first of the country homes to be opened this year will be that of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Valentine at Oconomowoc. Mr. and Mrs. Valentine are exceptionally fond of Danforth lodge, and every year manage to spend as much of the summer as possible in it, but this year they are opening it even earlier than usual, the arrival of the family being expected early next month. Mrs. Valentine has been spending some time at Hot Springs with her sons, Phil and Lester Armour, and her sister, Mrs. W. Vernon Booth, but has now returned to New York.

Mrs. Booth has been ill at Hot Springs, where she went the latter part of February, but reassuring news will come to her Chicago friends in the announcement that she is greatly improved. Because of her illness, however, the plans for the wedding of Miss Agnes Booth and Livingston Platt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Platt of New York, remain indefinite. Originally it was rumored that the service would take place at the New York home of Mrs. Valentine, who is most devoted to her young niece, shortly after Easter.

The announcement of the engagement was made last December during a holiday week house party being given by Mr. and Mrs. Valentine at Oconomowoc. Miss Booth left on Tuesday for New York to spend Easter week with her aunt and the family of her fiancé. On Monday Mrs. P. D. Armour will leave for New York and will join Mr. and Mrs. Valentine and their family at the Plaza to spend a fortnight. Mr. and Mrs. Valentine, who recently purchased a New York residence, have given up their former home and are putting their new home through a series of improvements which will not make it ready for occupancy until the fall.

The wedding of Miss Ellen Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Davis, 4541 Vincennes avenue, and Merrill Blaine Johns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin R. Johns, was an elaborate south side affair of last night, the ceremony taking place at 8 o'clock at the Colonial club, 4445 Grand boulevard. The Rev. George L. Robinson was the officiating clergyman. A large reception and dance followed the marriage service.

Miss Marion Cashlin was the maid of honor, and Miss Ruth Boise, Miss Helen Dodson, Miss Florence Moses, and Miss Elsie Ashby were the bridesmaids. George S. Bushnell served as best man, and the ushers were Harry Chichester, Mills Hefner, Warner Robinson, and James Harvey. Masters Harold Davis and John R. Thompson stretched the ribbons.

The bride wore a gown of white Salome satin trimmed with point applique, and with waist, sleeves, and panel front done in hand embroidery. The gown was fashioned with a round court train. The veil was of tulle caught with orange blossoms, and the bouquet a shower of white roses and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor wore a trained gown of pink satin and a large picture hat of pink straw trimmed with large pink roses and caught with black velvet streamers beneath the chin. The hats of the bridemaids were of cream straw with pink flowers and the black velvet streamers. Their gowns were of pink messaline. All of the young women attendants carried Killarney roses.

The club was decorated in azaleas, Easter lilies, and Killarney roses, with smilax throughout the rooms with the exception of the parlor, where the service was said, which was done in Easter lilies and palms.

After a wedding trip to the east Mr. and Mrs. Johns will be at home after June 15 at 688 East Forty-ninth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ricardo Soriano (Italia Blair) are expecting to leave next week for New York and will sail for Europe within the week. It was the intention of Mr. and Mrs. Soriano to remain in America until well into the summer, and the change of plans at this time has come as a surprise to the acquaintances. Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Blair and Miss Blair are not accompanying them.

The marriage of Miss Myra King and Louis Auten took place at the residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Charles Duncan Bradley, 4222 Perry avenue, Rogers Park, at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The Rev. Mr. Cady officiated. Miss Elizabeth King served her sister as maid of honor, and Miss Marjorie Bradley, cousin of the bride, was the bridemaid. Mr. Auten's attendants included his brother, Charles Auten, and Joseph Harris. Mr. and Mrs. Auten will take a wedding trip of some length and will be at home later in a new residence at Princeville, Ill., the gift of the bridegroom's father.

The marriage of Miss Jenny E. Gunthorp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gunthorp, 124 Franklin avenue, Austin, and John J. Welling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Welling of the north shore, took place last night at the family residence, the Rev. A. H. Harnly, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating. The bride wore an empire lace gown made with train and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Vina Welling, sister of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor. She wore a pale blue silk messaline princess gown and carried an arm bouquet of Easter lilies. Miss Mary H. Kelly of Hartford, Mich., was the bridemaid, and wore a blue chiffon empire gown. Her flowers were white roses. J. M. Gunthorp attended the bridegroom as best man. Miss Ethel Kerr played the wedding march. A reception followed the ceremony, only the relatives of the immediate families being present owing to the celebration of the wedding during holy week.

Oak Park's reputation as a college entertainment town is getting noticeable. Many college plays and glee club concerts have been recently given in the village, and a continuous procession of college boys and girls apparently is wending its way in or out of the town. No sooner has the entertaining for the Amherst boys passed into history than the plans are under way for the reception of the sixty college girls from Rockford, who will give a girls' glee club concert at the Warrington Opera house on the afternoon of Saturday, April 17. A large group of former Rockford girls are now numbered among the matrons of Oak Park, and they will make the visit of the glee club one of social importance.

Mrs. Arthur L. Tucker, 309 South Euclid avenue, who was graduated in the class of '81, will give a luncheon party of ten preceding the afternoon in honor of her daughter, Miss Marguerite, who is a present student at the college. Mrs. George W. Wilbur and sister, Miss Rice, both former students, will give a luncheon for a party of six girls. Mrs. Catharine Waugh McCulloch of Evanston, a member of the class of '82, will be entertained by her classmate, Mrs. Carlos J. Ward, 110 South Grove avenue, who will have in addition a number of the college girls as guests. Miss Jane Addams, a member of the class of '81, will be one of the patronesses and will occupy a box at the performance. Mrs. C. G. Marsh, Mrs. Robert J. Kerr, Mrs. C. S. Yerkes, Mrs. Lewis Draper, Mrs. Paul Blatchford, and Mrs. J. C. Shepard will be other hostesses for the girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton H. Rintelman have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Lettie Marie, to George William Kalweit. The service will take place on the evening of Monday, April 19, at 7:30 o'clock, at St. Paul's church, Orchard street and Kemper place. A reception will follow the ceremony at 577 Orchard street.

Jewish circles are much interested in the announcement made by Mrs. S. Oberfelder, 4733 Forestville avenue, of the engagement of her daughter, Blanche, to William E. Salomon.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Jerrems and daughter have gone to Los Angeles, Cal., where they expect to make their home in the future. Los Angeles is to also be the future home of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Ritterband and daughters of 5161 Michigan boulevard, who expect to leave Chicago for the western city on April 25.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Sutton, 5414 Greenwood avenue, will leave for the west the latter part of this week. They expect to make an extended trip through the western states. They will sail for Honolulu during the month, expecting to remain until June. Later they will go to the exposition at Seattle, and will be at home after July 1.

The Waterman Hall girls are expected to arrive in a special train at noon today to spend Easter week at home. Among them will be Miss Rachel Embree, Miss Rosalind Fischer, Miss Clara Junge, Miss Harriette Klauer, Miss Hazel Goss, Miss Pauline Martin, Miss Alice Maack, Miss Ethel Stimson, and Miss Katy Dyde.

Harvey C. Wood, 53 Fifty-third street, and Miss Myra Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Cox of Milwaukee, were married at the Stratford hotel last night. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Joseph A. Vance, pastor of the Hyde Park Presbyterian church, in the presence of guests from Milwaukee and Hyde Park. Mr. and Mrs. Wood were classmates at the University of Chicago and both were graduated in 1905.

CHARGES BY WIFE PROVED AND DIVORCE IS GRANTED.

Mrs. Julia Gould Palmer Obtains Decree After Telling About Husband's Actions While She Was Away.

Julia Gould Palmer was granted a divorce yesterday from William A. Palmer by Judge Chetlain. Charges made by Mrs. Palmer were corroborated by two business men, who admitted they had accompanied Palmer to resorts on the north and south sides when his wife was in Colorado.

Mrs. Palmer told the court she was married in Denver, June 29, 1904, and separated from her husband last February when she became convinced that he was untrue to her. She lives at 2446 Michigan avenue.

Mrs. Florence Klopfer has filed suit for divorce against David H. Klopfer, a cattle salesman. Klopfer is said to earn $3,000 a year and also to receive $50 a month from his father's estate. They have been separated for three years, and were married on Dec. 31, 1895.

Andrew H. Yount has asked a decree of divorce from Mary S. Yount, who, he says, deserted him twenty-three years ago. The defendant is at present in Shelbyville, Ind.

LIONS BORN IN THE COLISEUM.

Third Litter to Come to the Circus in Three Weeks Will Be on View.

Three lions were born yesterday morning in the menagerie of the Barnum & Bailey circus. It is the third litter that has come to the circus in three weeks. The first whelps were born just before the company left its winter quarters at Bridgeport, Conn., and the second on the day the show came to Chicago. The most recent arrivals cannot be seen by the public for several days. The mother lion is nervous and fearful for the safety of the whelps when strangers are around.

CUBS TRIUMPH IN COMEDY CONTEST.

Semi-Annual Mordecai Brown Celebration Is Held at Terre Haute.

CHAMPS ROMP HOME, 8-2.

Funny Parts Are Played by the Umpire, Most of Cubs, and All of the Tots.

BY R. W. LARDNER.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 6.—[Special.]—The regular semi-annual Mordecai Brown celebration took place here today, and Cuppy Groeschow's Hottentots were victims by a type of score common to exhibition games between big leaguers and otherwise, 8 to 2.

The crowd that turned out to see the prominent Rosedale citizen perform was not a large one, but it was made up entirely of friends of the star actor of the afternoon. The said crowd was treated to one of the funniest exhibitions of the national pastime ever seen in these or other parts.

Comedy rôles were played by Umpire Wall, most of the Cubs, and all of the Terre Haute athletes. The assembled throng did not seem to appreciate the affair as it should have been appreciated, but that was not our fault. There were three or four large features to the game, among them being Joe Stanley's great throw to the plate, the decisions of the umpire, and a Terre Haute coacher who wore an approved Central league uniform and a soft felt green hat. Other thrilling incidents were the dropping of two easy fly balls by George Browne and the season's initial appearance of Ed Reulbach on the slab.

Ruelbach Shows Speed.

Big Ed loomed up with as much speed as ever and a little more control than usual at this stage of proceedings. All Terre Haute's scoring was done off him, Brownie handing out five straight blanks when he was in charge. But the fact that the Tots did not break into the run column while the three fingered gent was working was due solely to the strength and accuracy of Joe Stanley's right arm. In the fifth inning Joe produced the greatest throw it has been our pleasure to see this spring—a throw that would have hustled Frank Schulte into uniform if he could have seen it. It robbed the Tots of what looked like a sure tally and did much toward discouraging our worthy class B foes.

The Cubs arrived here at noon from Evansville. Brownie was already on the ground, and he and a chilly but perfectly fair day greeted the champions at the station. The Cubs were weary after their journey lasting through the forenoon, and also were lacking in sleep, as they had to arise at 6 to make connections with both breakfast table and train. The Rosedale band was not out, it having disbanded when the trombonist lost his sliding shank on an excursion between here and Sullivan. However, the crowd at the ball yard made as much noise in welcoming home the native son as a band could have done, and Mordecai really did not feel at all hurt by the lack of slow music.

Cubs Off at the Jump.

The champions went right out after the game at the start and scored before the Tots had got their bearings. George Browne led off with a long drive to center on which he made two bases easily, but was pegged out trying to grab another sack. Sheckard bunted safely and moved to second on Stanley's infield out. Howard walked and Steinfeldt drove in "Sheck" with a slap to left. For the Tots Smythe hit the first ball Brown pitched for a single. De Haven popped up a bunt and a double play would have been easy if Brown had hung on to the ball. But he dropped it, and on a decision, of whose intricacies the umpire had no knowledge, the Frenchman was called out and Smythe allowed to remain at first. Manager Groeschow died on a foul and Wheeler fanned.

The Cubs rested quietly for the two rounds following, but in the fourth increased their total to five by a combination of good hitting and base running. Two were gone when Zimmerman singled to center. Tinker was safe when Groeschow fumbled his grounder, and the two fleet gentlemen pulled off a double steal, getting at stations whence it was easy for them to score on Moran's single. Pat was moved around to third when Brownie two bagged to center, and the battery tallied on the other Browne's single through short. George was caught napping off first, according to Mr. Wall.

Great Chuck by Stanley.

The fifth was marked by Stanley's specialty. With two Tots out Browne dropped Goes' high fly and Douthett was safe on Tinker's fumble. Smythe shot a single sharply to right and Goes started to run home. It was thought certain Goes would go faster than the ball went and count a run, but Joe shot it in like a cannon ball on the fly all the way, and Goes was caught five feet from his destination.

Joe Tinker livened up things a bit in the sixth by giving a realistic scene from his play. He caught hold of one of Douthett's fast ones and made the entire circuit before he consented to stop running. Ed Reulbach appeared in the home team's half. Arista De Haven gave him a warm welcome, walloping out a three bagger. De Haven had an awful time scoring, but finally did on McDonald's single. Two more singles and an out gave the Tots their last run in the ninth inning. Two singles, a sacrifice, and Zimmerman's triple added the Cubs' last brace. Score:

Notes of the Cubs.

Chance took another layoff, not wishing to risk an injury on the damp diamond.

Carl Lundgren probably will start tomorrow's game and finish it, with Archer behind the bat.

Joe Tinker left for Chicago tonight, called by the illness of his wife. He expects to rejoin the club at Indianapolis.

The Fort Wayne train is scheduled to leave at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. However, the players were allowed to board the sleeper at 9 tonight.

Manager Chance has about decided to work Overall in the opening game against the Cardinals. If Jeff pitches this battle it will be his fifth straight opening one.

The second team, which is booked to appear in Chicago Saturday and Sunday, will be taken to Indianapolis with the rest and will leave there for home Friday night.

The train will pass through Indianapolis on the way to Jack Hendricks' town and Chance is hoping Frank Schulte at least will come down to the depot and wave at us as we go by.

Joe Stanley will be in the Cub lineup when the season starts next Wednesday. He will have Schulte's place in right field, Chance figuring Frank will not be quite fit for work.

SOX DEFEAT MEMPHIS 1 TO 0

Find Green Diamond for First Time on Trip; Play Real Game.

SMITH GOES THE FULL ROUTE

Owens Tickles Crowd by Driving In Only Run with a Hit.

BY HEK.

Memphis, Tenn., April 7.—[Special.]—The White Sox were up against something approaching the real thing at Red Elm park today and got away with it by a score of 1 to 0. They play real baseball in Memphis. Moreover, they play it on the genuine greensward.

The Southern league does not accept any change from the American association, and the Memphis wing of the Southern league has designs on the pennant. All of which may be taken to mean that the White Sox had to lead their ace to get away from here without being trimmed. Red Elm park is the best groomed and best managed baseball inclosure we have encountered on the training trip. It has grass on it, which is more than can be said of San Francisco, Los Angeles, Yuma, Tucson, El Paso, Oklahoma City, Wichita, and Fort Smith.

Four Hits Off Smith.

Today's game was on the fizz-pop-bang! order and was attended with little wasted energy. Frank Smith pitched the entire nine innings and Owens, in whose future Memphis has deep concern, did all the catching. There was precious little hitting on either side. Smith, who fully extended himself, held the opposing batters down to four and all we got off the Memphis pitchers was five.

The run that won the game came in the seventh inning. Cravath was walked on purpose and was sacrificed to third by Atz and Tannehill. Owens, who previously had clouted a two baser, slipped up to the plate and copped a single upon which Cravath came home. Nothing happened before or afterward on either side. Manager Babb tried two pitchers. The attendance was surprisingly small.

Itinerary for the Week.

The caravan is due in Evansville tomorrow. From there it will go to Chicago for a spell of three hours, doubling back to South Bend, Fort Wayne, and Cincinnati. Score:

Topeka, Kas., April 7.—[Special.]—Dick Cooley's Topeka Western leaguers proved easy victims for the White Sox Yannigans this afternoon, the score being 13 to 3.

Nick Altrock pitched for the visitors and until he presented some old friends with grooved balls could hardly be touched. The last inning was something of a joke, but up to that time the Yannigans played like seasoned veterans, scoring with double steals and by means of sacrifice flies whenever needed. They also hit three pitchers in such a fashion as to extract the small crowd's interest at an early stage. Score:

WANT G. DAVIS TO LEAD SOX.

Friends of Veteran Infielder Circulate Petition Asking President Comiskey to Give Him Consideration.

Despite President Comiskey's announcement that petitions will not be considered when it comes to naming the man whom he has picked to succeed Fielder Jones as manager of the Sox, friends of George Davis are circulating a petition asking the master of the Sox to appoint the veteran infielder to the vacant management as soon as he is convinced it is a vacancy. The petition follows:

"We, the undersigned, wishing to show our esteem for the White Sox and their president, and with the understanding of the general baseball public that Fielder Jones is not to return to the management of the White Sox for 1909, do herein ask you in your deliberations to consider for the management a man who is without a peer, who knows 'inside ball' from A to Z, who knows how to do the 'right thing at the right time' on the baseball diamond, and who, if he is good enough to be sought by other teams, can make a showing with the White Sox. Knowing this as we do, we take this means in asking you to consider for manager George Davis."

Callahan is said to be playing men belonging to other clubs, one being Pitcher Torrey, claimed to be the property of the Springfield club of the Three Eyes league.

BLEW IN WITH THE WIND.

HOT SHOT FOR JOHNNY KLING

Murphy Says Change of Mind Would Cost Catcher $1,000.

MUST PAY FOR TOM NEEDHAM

John Anderson and "Jiggs" Donohue of White Sox Report to Comiskey.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

It will cost Johnny Kling $1,000 of the salary for which he is signed with the Chicago club if he changes his mind and wants to play with the Cubs this year after all, according to a statement issued yesterday by President Murphy. The Cub magnate explained that $1,000 represented what it had cost the club to get Tom Needham in exchange for Pitcher Liese and thereby protect the catching department in Kling's absence.

"Kling signed a three year contract last year," said Mr. Murphy, "and should have thought of his business interests before he pledged himself to continue playing for us. I don't think there can be any sympathy for a contract breaker among people whose opinions are worth considering.

"Having his signed contract, we depended upon him until his telegram to Frank Chance, replying to one asking him to report for practice, announced his intention to stay in Kansas City. We protected the club the best we could by getting Needham at a cost of $1,000 in addition to Pitcher Liese, and now if Kling changes his mind about becoming a contract jumper it is only just to expect him to reimburse the club for the expense his indecision has cost. He need not buy a ticket to Chicago to report unless he is prepared to do so."

Regarding the report that an effort was being made to trade Kling to Cincinnati for Spade, McLean, and Huggins, President Murphy said: "It's up to Manager Chance to say whether or not Kling is to figure in a trade, and, if so, what players he will take for him. I'll trade Kling just as quickly as any one else for value received. We can win the pennant without him."

John Anderson and Donohue will join the Sox tomorrow morning when the main branch of the team returns to Chicago for a few hours. The Sox will come here from Evansville, arriving early in the morning, and after breakfast will go to South Bend to play that afternoon, then on to Cincinnati.

Mike Donlin and the other half of the sketch arrived here yesterday, and will remain the rest of the week before opening at Milwaukee Sunday in a ten weeks' tour of the Orpheum circuit.

Mike, with his inimitable dancing, and Mabel, with her cleverness, will play a week in the Brewery city, and then will jump to Butte. The remaining weeks of the contract call for appearances in Seattle, Portland, Frisco, and cities of the far west.

Donlin has heard nothing more from the Giants regarding playing this season since he refused an offer of $6,000. On this ten weeks' tour he and Mabel Hite receive a salary per week of—but what's the use? It's large enough, so that many fans would not believe it anyway.

CHANCE SAYS KLING CAN GO.

Cub Leader Denies Wanting Huggins and McLean of Reds in Deal for Star Catcher.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 7.—[Special.]—Manager Chance tonight branded as erroneous the report that a deal was pending between the Cubs and Cincinnati Reds whereby the latter would secure Kling by handing over Miller Huggins, Bob Spade, and Larry McLean. He asserted, however, he had made Griffith a proposition and hinted Kling's name was mentioned in connection with a deal.

Chance has been after Spade for some time, but has no use for the other two mentioned. Chance says he will trade Kling the minute he can get anything like an even exchange for him. He is peeved at John and says he cares not at all whether or not the star backstop returns to the fold.

"Let Kling do the worrying," quoth the p. l. "His absence won't wreck the club and I am sincere when I say I don't care what he does. If any club will give me the men I want in exchange, it can have him. We may put through a deal with Cincinnati. Of course I will take McLean and Huggins if they want to throw them in for good measure, but I am not after them."

WILL NOT QUIT KANSAS CITY?

Kling Wants to See Greater Inducement than Trade to Cincinnati Before Leaving Business.

Kansas City, Mo., April 7.—John Kling, the baseball catcher, when told he had been offered in trade for three Cincinnati players, said he had heard nothing of the offer, and would not leave Kansas City anyway.

"You see," said Kling, "my business is in such shape that I could not leave it at present. I would like to play ball this year, but I cannot afford to leave my billiard halls here. Unless there is a much greater inducement, I simply can't leave Kansas City. Business is business."

Kling has posted a forfeit for a match with the winner of the Weston-Leon contest for the pool championship.

THIRD GAME FOR PHILLIES

Athletics Play Dreamy Ball and Lose by 6 to 4 Score.

BAKER MEETS BAD ACCIDENT

Injury More Serious to American Leaguers Than Last Contest.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 7.—[Special.]—In a loosely played game in which the lead often changed hands the Phillies won by a score of 6 to 4 from the Athletics today, making the series now stand 3 to 1 in favor of the Nationals. The Phillies played all around the Athletics, the latter going through their work in a trancelike manner.

Far more serious to the Athletics than the loss of the game was a bad accident to Baker which undoubtedly will keep him out of the line-up at the beginning of the championship season.

While stealing third Magee went into Baker and knocked him over. Baker in falling badly sprained a ligament of his ankle. He was carried to the Athletics' bench by Dooin and will be out for some time. Nichols then went to third, Barry to short, and Bender to second. Score:

TO RACE ON COAST IN FALL?

Constitutionality of Law to Be Tested by Williams.

CLOSING DATE ANNOUNCED.

Santa Anita Track to Be Kept in Condition This Summer.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 7.—Official announcement was made today that the meet of the Santa Anita Racing association will close on April 17, the date of the Emeryville closing and two days before the Walker-Otis anti-racing law goes into effect.

Stockholders of the track and racing men in general assert there will be racing at Santa Anita next year regardless of the new law. It is also anounced that the Santa Anita association will make no effort at testing the law, but will leave that work entirely to Thomas H. Williams, president of the New California Jockey club.

It will be set up that the section of the law which provides that any person convicted of violating the statute shall be imprisoned in the county jail is unconstitutional, in that it specifies the particular place of incarceration.

Rose Has Confident Air.

George Rose, principal stockholder of the association, said today: "There is no question but we will have racing here next year. I believe the law to be unconstitutional and that the courts will so define it. The Santa Anita grounds and track will be kept in their usual condition throughout the summer, to be in readiness for the meeting next winter."

Mr. Rose acquired recently all the holdings of the late E. J. Baldwin in the Santa Anita track.

Favorites fared badly today, only two of them coming home first. The speculators did better, as in most instances the winners were well backed. Lady Irma, second choice, captured the Plaudit handicap, the day's feature.

Jockey V. Powers today signed a contract to ride for August Belmont, and will leave here April 12 on his way to England.

ILLINOIS TROOPS FOR AUTO COURSE

Gov. Marshall of Indiana Sanctions "Invasion" by the First Regiment.

PATROL FOR ROAD RACES.

Chicago Automobile Club Now Assured of Sanction for Two June Events.

Illinois troops will guard the Crown Point-Lowell course, in Indiana, while the two road races of the Chicago Automobile club are being contested, June 18 and 19—something unheard of in American automobile contests outside of Georgia, and unusual in that soldiers from one state will serve in a martial capacity in another commonwealth.

The First regiment is the one selected for the work, and the last bit of red tape was cut yesterday when Gov. Marshall of Indiana granted the request of Gov. Deneen of Illinois to permit Illinois troops to cross the border and police the course for the Chicago Automobile club, the good news being conveyed in a telegram from Mark Thistlethwaite, secretary to Gov. Marshall, to Frank H. Trego, general executive in charge of the road racing carnival, which read:

Gov. Marshall today granted request from Illinois state officers to allow troops to enter Indiana for automobile races.

Without the soldiers it would have been impossible to secure the sanction from the A. A. A., an application for which is now in the hands of Chairman Hower of the contest board.

Thousand Soldiers Are Needed.

Fully 1,000 Illinois soldiers will be required to guard the twenty-four mile circuit which will be used for the two road races. This will include the signal corps of 300 with its military service, the hospital corps, and the commissary department. The soldiers will go into Indiana in full marching order, with tents and other equipment. Col. Joseph E. Sanborn will be in command. At Crown Point a military encampment will be established, where the soldiers will hold forth for the two days of the meet.

The deal for the soldiers has been pending for two weeks, the first move being made when a delegation called upon Gov. Marshall and filed an application for the soldiery. The governor pointed out that the Indiana militia is so widely scattered it would be an immense task to get enough soldiers together. It was suggested that the First regiment of Illinois be secured, Col. Sanborn of that organization having assured the Chicago Automobile club his men would serve gladly if Gov. Marshall would permit them to go into Indiana.

Lake County Is Willing.

This met the approval of Gov. Marshall, who only asked that he be furnished a paper signed by the officials of Lake county, Ind., showing they were willing the race should be run over the proposed course.

This was easily secured and Col. Sanborn filed the necessary application with Gov. Deneen to put the First into road race service. The Illinois governor could see no objection and made the necessary request of the Indiana governor.

PICK WRESTLING JUDGE TODAY.

Managers of Gotch and Mahmout to Select Referee from List of Nine Candidates.

The promoters of the Gotch-Mahmout wrestling match have requested the managers of the wrestlers to be present at a meeting this afternoon to decide upon a referee for the big match. The following list of wrestling authorities will be submitted: Joe Uhman of Baltimore, Eddie McBride of Buffalo, Walter Kelly of Cleveland, Bat Masterson of New York, Dick Fleming, Ed Smith, and Malachy Hogan of Chicago, Otto Floto of Denver, and Sandy Griswold of Omaha.

According to the articles of agreement between Gotch and Mahmout the Empire A. C. will reserve the right to name its own arbiter, Dick Fleming, if no choice is made by Saturday afternoon.

Mahmout and Gotch put in another strenuous day training yesterday. After the day's work the Bulgarian tipped the beam at 197 pounds, which is the lightest he has been since he landed in this country. Gotch weighed under 200 pounds at the completion of the day's work, and is well satisfied with his condition and weight.

NEW A. BOOTH CO. TO START MAY 1.

Most of the Details in Connection with Reorganization Have Been Arranged.

RUMORS OF CLASH FALSE.

Members of Creditors' Committee Do Not Hitch Over Money Deposited in Banks.

Unless something unforeseen springs up, the new Booth company will be launched May 1. The details of the reorganization have about been worked out, and it only remains for the creditors to formally petition the court to order the sale of the assets of the bankrupt concern, and then fifteen days must be allowed to advertise the sale.

Although there was considerable talk at first about disgruntled stockholders, even the dissatisfied ones have about ceased to talk, and up to the present time there has not been any meeting of the stockholders' protective committee since the announcement of the Valentine settlement. As time goes on, and the stockholders of A. Booth & Co. get accustomed to the fact that they will get nothing for their certificates, there is less inclination to protest against the terms of the settlement.

Stockholders Take No Action.

"The stockholder's committee has not met and no date for a meeting has been set," said Henry S. Robbins, attorney for the committee, yesterday. "Some of the members are out of the city, and the others thought here was no use meeting unless the full committee was there. I cannot say at this time that there will be any action on our part."

One of the members of the committee, who refused to allow his name to be used, said: "We have had some informal talks about the Valentine settlement, and, while we don't want to make any public announcement that we are going to drop out without a struggle, we all admitted that there is practically no use in fighting, as there isn't any hope that the stockholders' protective committee can ever raise enough money to outbid Mr. Valentine and the banks. We will submit quietly, if not gracefully."

Waive Claim to Money in Banks.

Rumors that there is any hitch among members of the creditors' committee over the money in the banks proves to be unfounded. The banks do not propose to give up this money, which amounts to about 30 per cent of their claims, and the other members of the creditors' committee have finally waived any claim to the money. The amount of the claims of the creditors amounting to $5,000,000 was made up after deducting the amount of cash in banks from the banks' share.

JURY GIVES OPEN VERDICT IN LUNDAHL DROWNING CASE.

Unable to Determine Whether Man Committed Suicide, Was Murdered, or Met His Death Accidentally.

An open verdict was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury which held an inquest over the body of Gustav Lundahl, 353 West Huron street, whose body was found floating in the Chicago river near Kinzie street Tuesday evening.

The jury was unable to determine whether Lundahl committed suicide, was murdered, or was drowned accidentally. Coroner's Physician Reinhardt earlier in the day had decided that Lundahl died of suffocation by drowning. He said he found no marks of violence.

The inquiry was held at Curtin's undertaking rooms, 148 Wells street. Lundahl disappeared from his residence last December and was believed by his wife to have been murdered by friends of two men whom he had prosecuted for robbing him last fall.

TEST FANS IN CANTWELL CASE

Veniremen Questioned Regarding Knowledge of Baseball.

ONE 'NEVER SAW AN UMPIRE'

Attorney Accused of Conspiracy in Chinese Murder Trial.

"Are you a baseball fan?"

"Do you know the difference between a foul hit and a fair ball?"

"Do you know which team won the pennant?"

"Are you a member of the White Sox Rooters' association of any other baseball fan club?"

These are some of the questions which the prospective jurors in the "Bob" Cantwell conspiracy case now on trial before Judge McEwen in the Criminal court may be asked by State's Attorney Wayman before a final panel is chosen to hear the charges against the accused lawyer.

Cantwell, who was president of the White Sox Rooters' association and who obtained notoriety as a fan last summer when he "beat up" an inoffensive umpire, is up against the hardest legal battle of his life, according to his friends. He is charged with conspiracy to defeat justice in connection with a Chinese murder trial and the entire case is said to hinge on the baseball proposition.

Charge Alibi by Perjury.

According to the prosecutors and an indictment on which the attorney is being tried, the Chinamen accused of murder proved an alibi by means of two witnesses who perjured themselves. These witnesses are said to have been H. H. Stridiron and John Moisand, personal friends of Cantwell. The day the murder was committed Cantwell and the two men were together, it is declared, on a White Sox rooters' train in Milwaukee. Indictments are pending against Stridiron and Moisand, but both men have mysteriously disappeared.

Cantwell's connection with Stridiron and Moisand will be shown, it is claimed, by a letter which will be introduced in the trial by State's Attorney Wayman. The letter was a circular one, and was sent to the members of the rooters' association. It was signed by Cantwell, Stridiron, and Moisand, and was as follows:

"Dear Sir: On next Saturday afternoon, May 23, 1908, there will be a meeting of the directors of the White Sox Rooters' association at which it will be necessary to fully organize, elect officers, etc. The meeting will be held at 320 Hartford building at 3 p. m. Every person who has the interest of the Old Roman at heart will attend.

One Never Had Seen an Umpire.

Every venireman who was examined yesterday by Assistant State's Attorney Popham was asked if he was a member of the White Sox Rooters' association.

"Do you know anything about baseball?" was one of the questions asked.

"No, I don't," replied a venireman, grinning. "All the baseball I ever saw was played out behind the barn down home, and we didn't have no umpire, either."

Most of the other veniremen declared they were not members of the rooters' association or any other baseball fan club. Four veniremen were accepted tentatively by the state before the hearing adjourned.

In answer to the demand of Cantwell that he should be discharged under the four terms act—he claimed that he had demanded trial four times at four different terms of court and it had not been granted—State's Attorney Wayman filed an affidavit with the court in which he accused the lawyer of attempting trickery in applying for a discharge on the last day of the March term.

The examination of veniremen will continue today, and it is expected a jury will be chosen and the hearing of evidence begun tomorrow.

Seeks $25,000 Alleged Damages.

Benjamin Osborne brought suit in the Superior court yesterday for alleged damages of $25,000 against J. Percy Strickland, Rob B. Tabor, Robert White, and A. H. Gates. The declaration is expected to be filed either Friday or Saturday.

CERTIFICATES WORTH $60,000 FOUND IN DICKINSON'S BOX.

Receiver of Brokerage Concern Today Will Ask Court to Grant Authority to Sign Paper.

Approximately $60,000 in joint certificates of deposit in Chicago banks, put up by Broker John Dickinson and customers to cover margins, was found in a safety deposit box of the Royal Trust company by Charles G. Seesinghaus of the receivership of the Dickinson concern yesterday. The authority to open the box was given by Federal Judge Landis.

Authority to sign the certificates of deposit and cash them will be asked of the court by the receiver today. Attorney Francis J. Houlihan of the law firm of Rosenthal, Kurz & Hirschl, attorneys for the receiver, said that of the amount represented by the certificates of deposit approximately $5,000 or $6,000 will be returnable to the Dickinson estate.

"We have not completed the examination of the accounts, and until we do so I do not expect we will be able to go ahead before the referee in bankruptcy," said Mr. Houlihan. "I think, however, that we can start the examination by Friday."

George W. Plummer, attorney for Mr. Dickinson, said his client will be here today or tomorrow.

Sleeplessness

Mental and Physical Failures are the Direct Result of Sleepless Nights. A Cure Without Harmful Drugs is Offered

Sleeplessness cannot be cured by habit forming drugs.

Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer contains neither Alcohol, Chloral, Morphine or other harmful or habit forming drugs, therefore may be taken without fear of harm.

It does not FORCE sleep as narcotics do, it nourishes the brain by supplying the worn out matter that makes NATURAL sleep.

Whether the trouble is extreme wakefulness, fitful, unrefreshing slumber or any other form of nerve weakness, Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer will cure it effectively and permanently. It builds up a strong nervous system by supplying the elements that have been worn out and exhausted by years of mental toil, worry and grief, burned up by excesses, bad habits and dissipation.

In some cases a single bottle effects a cure. Others require more persistent treatment—depending on the seriousness of the case and the patient's susceptibility to treatment, but in either case a cure is certain.

I broke down under excessive nervous strain so that I was prostrated. I could not sleep, and did not sleep for seven nights at one time, was nearly crazy, thought I would surely die, so did my friends, who became very anxious about my condition. I tried all kinds of treatment to no purpose. Finally I tried Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer, which gave me the first wink of sleep I have had for seven nights, and made me feel like a new man. I wish every one to know how much benefit can be derived from Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer.

Let's Talk About the Ideal Store of the Future

By Theodore E. MacManus. — Copyright: 1909. Chicago Tribune

THE GREATEST ADVERTISING MEN THIS COUTRY HAS EVER PRODUCED, IN MY humble opinion, are and were Marshall Field, Emanuel Mandel, Henry Siegel, Chas. Netcher, E. J. Lehmann and John Wanamaker.

¶ You are surprised, perhaps, to hear this group of trade geniuses referred to as advertising men.

¶ Possibly you consider it—comparatively speaking—a term of reproach; and less honorable than the high-sounding title of merchant prince.

¶ Nevertheless, not one of them would have been a great merchant if he had not, first, been a great advertiser.

¶ And this in spite of the fact that none of them—maybe—ever touched pen to paper in the preparation of a newspaper announcement.

¶ Your idea of an advertising manager is a man who sits in a coop at the top of the store and writes clever things.

¶ Men of that caliber can be bought by the gross. The correspondence school stork drops at least one down some chimney in some town every day in the year.

¶ But what many advertising managers are, and what they ought to be, represents the precise difference between the great emporiums which have made Chicago the trading center of the west, and—stores which are merely ordinary.

¶ Not more than one advertising manager in ten is also a merchant—but every successful merchant is instinctively an advertiser; even if he doesn't know enough English to dot his i's and cross his t's.

¶ The ideal advertiser in the ideal store of the future will be:

(a) A constructive and creative genius.

(b) A molder and shaper of policies.

(c) A merchant.

(d) An executive.

(e) A man who weaves commercial sense into the text of his advertising story.

¶ And it will not matter much whether or not he ever writes a word. College graduates can be hired for that purpose—and he will know, unerringly, when their work is well done.

¶ There will be just one other man on a par with him—the President or General Manager—and nobody above his head.

¶ His salary will be somewhere between that of the Vice-President and the President of these United States; and he will be the greatest revenue-producer and dividend-payer in the business.

¶ Because:

Out of him will radiate principles as fire radiates heat.

Out of him will proceed inspiration which will make of dead merchandise almost an animate thing.

¶ Before we fly too high in the blue sky of speculation and conjecture, let us set down in some sort of concrete style a few of the things he actually will do.

¶ Let us assume, for instance, that he is a man of the same caliber in merchandising as J. P. Morgan is in the world of money.

¶ Suppose that a freak of fortune had thrown J. P. Morgan, in mid-life, at the head of some magnificent mercantile property.

¶ Imagine him, for instance, in this city inquiring zealously as to the best means of building up a big retail business placed in his charge. At once, of course, he would turn to advertising as an engine of tremendous efficiency. No matter how unfamiliar he might be with its mere mechanical details, his great intellect would recognize instantly a powerful means of coining store-character into money.

¶ His instinct, inevitably, would be to buy all the good advertising he could get; because his native perspicacity would tell him, as it has always told John Wanamaker, that a page a day for 365 days is not too much advertising for a store fitted for leadership—for a store that is equipped to deserve the vast volume of business that will accrue from a page a day.

¶ So he would first fit his store to fit this well controlled avalanche of advertising; and then he would ride rough-shod over the stupid superstition which says that you must not spend more than a certain fixed appropriation for publicity—and that asinine precedent which bases the advertising expenditure on what the business did last year instead of what it ought to do this year—which sets a brake upon the wheel of progress and measures the success of one year by the failures of the year preceding.

¶ Instead of striving to hold the cost of his advertising down to a certain gross amount in dollars and cents, he would labor to reach the day when he could afford to double or treble that amount.

¶ To regulate the percentage of advertising cost—to hold it down to a scientific figure—that is sound business sense. But hand in hand with this policy should go the determination to spend more and more money for advertising in order to get more and more business therefrom.

¶ The brain of a J. P. Morgan in such a contingency as we have described would be blind to all arguments but one. And that argument would be that intelligent advertising brings business in varying volume according to the amount of it you do—and that if any store cannot afford to do the maximum amount the fault is in the store itself.

¶ Fifty per cent of his advertising at least, every day in the year, he would devote to the creation of store sentiment—that intangible but precious element in store keeping which sells the most goods at the best profit.

¶ He would—but isn't that quite enough for one day?

¶ More about the ideal store some other time.

THURSDAY, APRIL 8, 1909.

FOUR gray wolves, anyway, are gnashing their teeth.

WHILE those who won will find that their fangs have been extracted.

EVANSTON'S justices of the peace will continue to regard Chicago automobilists as rank outsiders.

YET there is nothing in the situation that warrants March in indulging its desire to linger in the lap of April.

SPRINGFIELD, the capital of the proud state of Illinois, has been heard from, and the law and order advocates appear to be in the minority there to the extent of 241.

MOYNIHAN, Burke, Kruger, and Downey were among those who cursed the Municipal Voters' league, and the curses came home to roost.

WITH all his faults, however, Ald. O'Connell of the Thirty-first ward will be allowed to plead that he was not a gray wolf.

LAWRENCE Y. SHERMAN went down to defeat, but he threw a scare into the ranks of the brewers and saloonkeepers that will live in the history of Springfield.

IT may have been merely a coincidence, yet you will note that Mr. Harriman's health began to improve as soon as ex-President Roosevelt had got safely out of the country.

SOME day Chicago may grow weary of playing Barkis to Evanston's Peggotty, and when Evanston begins to hanker for annexation the vote may be the other way.

A DRUNKEN driver in Kansas City whipped a horse to death, consuming four hours in the operation, and an indignant magistrate fined him $25. If he had whipped a man to death the fine might have been as high as $50.

THE assistant attorney general of the Philippine Islands says the natives are hopelessly lazy. We seem to remember having heard something to that effect before.

WHILE sensible of the honor conferred upon him by that vote at Springfield yesterday, Mr. Charles A. Comiskey has no hesitation in declaring positively and emphatically that his engagements with the Sox will not permit him to accept the office of United States senator. He hopes his name will be withdrawn.

WIZARD BURBANK has evolved 571 new and distinct varieties of plums, not one of which has any political significance whatever.

CASTRO has succeeded in finding a landing place. He seems to be using it to jump up and down upon in his rage.

ON some of the railways in this state the smoking car problem has been solved by the simple and easy process of providing a cuspidor for every seat.

A DOUBT exists as to the marketable quality of the gray wolves' hides. They were badly scratched at the polls last Tuesday.

ST. LOUIS takes this opportunity to proclaim once more that in reality it is a Republican city.

WHEN President Taft makes his promised visit to North Carolina it may be well for him to be politely noncommittal on the subject of the Mecklenburg declaration of independence.

MRS. KERSHAW will find that the novelty of imprisonment for a principle wears off after a few days' experience.

BELLE PLAINE, Ia., has gone dry and Democratic. Which does not seem so strange when the fact is recalled that Belle Plaine is the town where, a few years ago, a spouting well was struck that threatened for weeks to submerge the entire place.

THE new $500 treasury note will bear the portrait of Salmon P. Chase. It will be regarded as highly desirable even outside of Ohio.

UNCLE BILLY.

When Uncle Billy Myers of Columbus, O., heard the honk of the wild geese northward bound the other day and smelt the soil on the south wind, he allowed it was time to go fishing.

Uncle Billy, by some ironic stroke of fate, lives in an infirmary, though he is a long way from being "infirm of purpose!" Uncle Billy has lived a small matter of ninety-nine years on this sphere, which in his calendar he counts as ninety-nine fishing seasons. Owing to unavoidable obstacles Uncle Billy lost the first five or six seasons of his mundane residence, and he has been trying to catch up ever since.

Therefore, when, as aforesaid, the wild geese sent their call out of the sky and the smell of spring came up on the south wind, Uncle Billy quietly got out a certain tomato can and a pole he had cached over winter and at an opportune moment slipped out the back way.

It is said that the tramp to Buckeye lake is a good twenty-five miles. Uncle Billy reeled them off in fine form and had so much enthusiasm to spare that he fell into the lake when he got there.

Fortunately there were others of Uncle Billy's noble tribe at hand, and he was fished out and later bribed by a new fishing outfit to fish nearer home.

Uncle Billy need write no essays "De Senectute." He is one, and a most successful one. Uncle Billy's years are each a golden paragraph exhorting us to the wisdom that flows in running brooks and the wealth that is coined of the sunshine of innumerable summer afternoons. Fishing is the sport contemplative, beloved of philosophy. It teaches the priceless lessons of patience and unconquerable hope. It taught Uncle Billy how to grow old and stay young—which is the most precious and most difficult of the fine arts.

RESULTS.

The aldermanic election has effected a distinct betterment of the council.

Summarized, we estimate the results thus: In only one ward has there been an emphatic change for the worse; in only three or four are there slight changes for the worse, and in each of these cases, under a proper organization of the new council, now assured, these are really negligible. Against this we have on the side of honesty and efficiency the acquisition of at least nine men who represent a distinct gain over their predecessors.

In the remaining wards no change has been made, so that the total gain for good government, expressed in numbers, is nine good and one bad.

This by no means measures the total gain—the most vital gain—from the campaign and election just ended. There is no doubt that a tonic has been given to several of the weaker sisters in the council and that the whole spirit of the body will be the better for the activities of the last few weeks. The gang, counting upon public indifference, rose—and sat down again. It is and will remain impotent for serious harm. Public opinion has been awakened once more to the necessity of vigilance and will remain awake for some time. The realization of that will keep the stragglers in line.

Furthermore, the leadership of the council, we believe, will be more aggressive than it has been in some years, and is likely to prove abler. Ald. Foreman returns. Ald. Bennett's loss is likely to be canceled by the acquisition of Prof. Merriam, and newcomers like Long, Littler, and Utpatel promise most effective service.

The outlook is encouraging, is assuring. But the citizen will do well to remember that upon his intelligent and wakeful interest depends now and always the welfare of this city.

THE LITTLE BALLOT.

The "little ballot" is gaining in favor. There were 206,640 voters who registered their opinion for or against the proposition for a tax for a tuberculosis sanitarium. The Evanston annexation interested 187,616. The Cicero, 182,704. The total vote cast for city treasurer on the four tickets approximated 242,000. Putting the figures side by side, the evidence of the presence in Chicago of an intelligent electorate is convincing.

It has not been long since the time when only a few people took any interest in the "little ballot" as a method of ascertaining the popular will. Propositions received a majority of the votes cast by those who used the ballot, but that majority was so small a part of the total vote at the election as to make it of slight value as a test of public opinion. Such a condition does not exist in connection with the proposed tuberculosis sanitarium tax.

There was an appeal to the highest interests of the race. The physicians had declared their conviction that tuberculosis is doomed. They had indicated the need of proper fighting equipment. The subject had been brought to attention during several weeks in many ways. The result was that 206,000 voters out of 242,000 expressed an opinion upon it, every ward in the city favoring it with majority vote.

The annexation propositions had not been advertised so extensively or urged so strongly. Eventually the borders of the city must be extended. Everybody believes that. But to many voters it is a matter of comparative indifference whether annexation comes soon or late. So, while the vote on the Evanston extension was 19,000 short of that on the sanitarium, and while the Cicero addition fell 5,000 behind that, yet the fact that more than 180,000 voters took the pains to indicate their feeling upon each of these propositions is distinctly encouraging.

BAD FOR TRADE.

It is said to be the intention of the senate to modify the section of the tariff bill which deals with maximum and minimum schedules. The section needs to be changed materially if any attention is to be paid to President Taft's views on the subject. He has said that there should be "a higher tariff against those countries whose trade policy towards us equitably requires such discrimination."

The house provision, dismissing the possible equities of the case, declares that if any nation shall impose on any article of American production a higher duty than that on a similar article the product of some other country, indiscriminate retaliation shall immediately follow. An additional duty of 20 per cent, prohibitive in most cases, will be imposed on all its products. Foreign nations are given sixty days in which to come to time.

It is said that the senate will not put up with this drastic program. It is to be changed by substituting a year for sixty days, and by providing that the maximum schedules shall be enforced against countries which, in the opinion of the president, are not giving the United States their best tariff rates. This is a more rational proposition. It leaves something to the discretion of the president. It enables him to consider the general interests of the country and also the special conditions which may affect the tariff policy of a foreign nation.

Under the house bill, if Germany were to discriminate against the United States in the single matter of sausage casings, all German products would have to pay the maximum rates, and there would be another uplift in the price of cotton stockings. If some discretion were vested in the president he could say that American consumers ought not to be penalized and American trade with Germany injured on account of a few sausage casings.

The maximum and minimum rates section of the house bill would do great harm if it were the law. It would close markets to American producers instead of opening them. It is not what President Taft has asked for, and should be changed to meet his ideas.

THE STATES MUST PUNISH.

The decision of the federal Supreme court against the federal government's right to penalize the harboring of females throws upon the states a further duty of legislation and enforcement against the white slave evil. Not only is this decision important in its immediate results in releasing many offenders but it in the main disarms an effectual international movement for the destruction of the nefarious commerce. In proportion, therefore, to the weakening of the federal power to deal with the evil, the states should increase the strictness of their laws and enforcement.

The white slave bills now in the Illinois legislature should be passed without fail.

THE NATIONS VERSUS CASTRO.

Castro is reaping as he sowed. He made it unpleasant for the United States, France, and other nations while he was at Caracas. Now they are making it unpleasant for him and he is not philosophical enough to take his medicine quietly. He is not quite so badly off as the dove when Noah first sent it out of the ark. It could not find a resting place. Castro can, but not the resting place he desires. He wishes to take up quarters on some island near Venezuela where his friends could slip over and consult with him as to the best time and place to make a landing and start a revolution. Great Britain will not have him in Trinidad, nor Holland in Curaçao, so he has halted at Martinique, too far distant from Venezuela to suit his purpose.

Officially the United States and other nations are actuated by a laudable desire to guard the peace of Venezuela and to maintain pacific relations with that country. That would be impossible if Castro were to return to power. He would repudiate all the agreements Gomez has made. Incidentally the coöperating governments are rather pleased to pay off some old scores.

Manifestly Castro is not certain whether Venezuela is ready for him yet. Otherwise he would have gone there as unhesitatingly as Napoleon went from Elba to France. If he had gone on to La Guayra, and landed there, he might have been thrown into prison, and Venezuelan prisons, according to the report of those whom Castro consigned to them, are most uncomfortable.

But if Venezuelans prefer the style of tyranny which prevailed under Castro he will be back in the saddle sooner or later. If an impatient country is stretching out its arms to him he will not stay long in Martinique. Perhaps it would be going too far for France to make that island his St. Helena, but the Venezuelans who denounced him loudly while he was abroad would be pleased if he were interned. For if he were to get back home they would have to choose between exile, the jail, or the firing party.

Upgardson—"Isn't a lawsuit over a patent right about the dullest thing you ever saw?"

Atom—"Not always. I attended a trial of that kind once that was too funny for anything. A tall lawyer named Short was reading a 6,000 word document he called a brief."

Man with the Bulging Brow—"What are you scowling about?"

Man with the Bulbous Nose—"I'd like to punch your head for you. You told me I ought to read 'Referees of a Bachelor.' I got it at the public library and put in an hour or two trying to read it, and there ain't the first blamed word in the book, from first to last, about prize fighting!"

Sure Thing.

"Henry," said the rich old uncle, "if you think I am likely to die suddenly some day when I least expect it you may as well rid your mind of that idea. There is nothing whatever the matter with my heart."

"You'll never die of enlargement of it, anyway, uncle," cheerfully acquiesced the spendthrift nephew.

How Pickled Tea Is Made.

[Consular Reports.]

Pickled tea is manufactured only in Burma, the Shan states, and some of the hills lying between Burma and Assam in India and nearly all of the tea produced there is used in the manufacture of pickled tea, which is called in the Burmese vernacular "letpetso."

The leaves are first thrown into boiling water and allowed to remain therein for a short time, or until they become soft. They are then taken out, rolled by hand on mats and allowed to cool. The process which follows consists in ramming with a wooden rammer the leaves down tight into the internode of a bamboo (the wabo). A stopper is then made of jack or guava leaves and the bamboos thus charged are kept in the shade for a couple of days, with the stoppered ends downward to allow any water there may be within to drain off. The bamboo are then buried underground till the letpet has matured, when it is ready for sale. If not buried the letpet becomes black and spoiled.

The Burmese eat the leaf prepared with oil and garlic, and never use the infusion as they do that of Chinese tea, which they call lap'het-re, or tea water.

EMPEROR WILLIAM has just furnished another illustration of the ubiquity of his activity wherever the welfare of his people is concerned.

It may be remembered that after the terrible mining disaster at Radbod, which cost the life of several hundreds of men, the kaiser sent his son, Prince Eitel Fritz, to the scene, who, despite the obstacles placed in his way by the management, insisted upon receiving a deputation of the miners and upon hearing what they had to say. On returning to Berlin he made his report to his father, and the result of it is to be seen in a most remarkable clause added to the mines bill now under discussion in the Prussian legislature. It is a clause of a most socialistic character, since it gives to labor organizations the right of supervision over the arrangements made for their safety in the pits. Of course, this right is limited to the men employed in the mines concerned and to their organizations, and does not extend to any outside labor unions or professional agitators.

The minister of commerce, Herr Delbruck, was at first inclined to make representations against the provisions of this clause, but was informed that the sovereign had added it himself and that he absolutely insisted upon it, and that if the house by any chance declined to pass it he would refuse to give his consent to the mining bill. This has proved successful, and with a somewhat ill grace the measure has been voted, and from now on miners throughout the length and breadth of the kingdom of Prussia will have a potent voice in the organization and maintenance of efficient means for their protection while at work in the mines. If this Prussian law, initiated and brought into effect by the kaiser, were to be adopted in other countries there would be a far smaller number of mining fatalities.

Every admirer of Tennyson will be interested to learn that there has just passed away at the age of 91 his only surviving sister, Cecilia, widow of the late Edmund Lushington, a learned man, who was professor of Greek at the University of Glasgow. Her name occurs a number of times in the biography of the late Lord Tennyson, published by his eldest son, the present peer, and is likewise referred to, unless I am much mistaken, in some of the bard's works. Incidentally it may be stated that the great poet laureate of the Victorian era was in no sense of the word a self-made man, his family being directly descended from Jonas Tenison of Holderness, who died in the middle of the fourteenth century. Ralph Tennyson was a prominent supporter of William II., and his son, Michael Tennyson, who owned large estates in Lincolnshire and Yorkshire, is on record as having raised at his own expense a troop of horse to support the cause of King William. He married Elizabeth Clayton, who was one of the coheiresses of the ancient earldom of Scarsdale and of the barony of d'Eyncourt of Sutton, which became dormant in 1736 on the decease without issue of the last earl of Scarsdale and Lord d'Eyncourt. Lord Tennyson, the poet, was a younger son of the Rev. George Clayton Townsend. But his elder brother, Frederick, used to figure in all works of reference as a co-heir to the earldom of Scarsdale, which must not be confounded with the entirely distinct barony of Scarsdale, possessed by Lord Curzon's venerable father; and the poet's uncle, the Rt. Hon. Charles Tennyson, M. P., dropped his own name in 1835 in order to assume the name and arms of d'Eyncourt to perpetuate the claims of the family to the barony. The poet himself was raised to the peerage in 1884, and his son and biographer, the present Lord Tennyson, has won his spurs as governor general of Australia.

Few people are aware that the greatest of the first Napoleon's generals and his principal rival in military fame—namely, Moreau—spent some eight years in this country, a fact to which attention has just been called by that careful French student of history and writer, Ernest Daudet, brother of the novelist, the late Alphonse Daudet. After Moreau's victory at the battle of Hohenlinden Napoleon developed such a jealousy of Moreau's fame as a commander that he caused him to be incrimated in the Pichegru conspiracy. The evidence against the general was of such a palpably manufactured character that the people would not have stood for a capital sentence, and consequently Napoleon commuted the sentence against him to exile. He was conducted by the police to the Spanish frontier and, after his wife had given birth to a daughter at Cadiz, embarked for Philadelphia. At Philadelphia, where his fame had preceded him, he was received with the utmost distinction by the authorities of the city and by the leaders of society, and after spending a few weeks there rented a country place at Morrisville, in Pennsylvania, taking up his residence there on Sept. 1, 1805.

Morrisville was Moreau's home for the following eight years, during which time he received repeated offers from the royalists and from the sovereigns of the countries united against Napoleon inviting him to enter their service. Emperor Alexander dispatched Count Pahlen, M. de Hongberg, and Count Stroganoff to America to induce him to return and enter the Russian service. But his reluctance to take up arms against his own country was so great that it was not until in 1813, that is to say, after Napoleon's disastrous Russian campaign, and the retreat from Moscow, that he finally yielded, embarking on June 25, 1813, at New York on board the Hannibal.

Landing at Stockholm, Moreau was received with open arms by his old friend and comrade, Marshal Bernadotte, who had meanwhile become crown prince of Sweden. From Stockholm he made his way to Berlin, and from there to Prague, where he joined Emperor Alexander. He declined to accept any military command or even office, but remained by that monarch's side as his adviser in military matters, and when he was killed by the side of the czar on Aug. 27, 1813, at the battle of Leipsic, he was not even wearing a military uniform, but arrayed in the high hat and swallow tail coat of a civilian. All the pictures of his death which represent him as attired in a gorgeous uniform are therefore wholly wrong.

The circumstances of Moreau's death are so well known that it is hardly necessary for me to mention that the cannon ball which carried away both his legs was fired by the special direction of his bitter enemy, Napoleon, who, catching sight of a group of generals of the allied army, caused a gun to be pointed in their direction, ignorant, however, that Moreau was among the number.

With regard to the establishment in the cathedral of St. Giles at Edinburgh of a chapel for the knights of the ancient Scottish Order of the Thistle it has now been decided that instead of altering the interior for the purpose, which would entail the displacement of important features and spoil its beauty and grandeur, a chapel shall be added to the exterior of the east wall, so as to form a sort of prolongation of the choir. Of course, this will mean the removal of the lower part of the great eastern window, and also, possibly, the shifting again from its place of the "old Mercut croc." But for these things there would be large compensation. In fact, the east wall constitutes one of the most flagrant instances of the bad taste of the Burn restoration of 1829, and its removal would be an improvement. The shifting of the cross—the "old Mercut croc"—would not necessarily bring down again the "minstrel's malison," since it has already once been shifted from its original site, and a place quite as appropriate as that which it now occupies and less in the way might easily be found for it. It is probable that the $130,000 turned over by young Lord Leven to the king for the purpose will not suffice for the building of the new chapel. But no difficulty is expected in obtaining from parliament the requisite money for putting the work into execution.

Chances of the Sailor Man.

The sea as a calling is certainly not what it once was by a long way. The class of men who did well forty years ago would make a poor show now. It was common enough in days gone by for owners to look for a suitable man, and then build a ship for him. but it's the other way about now.—British Nautical Magazine.

LITERATURE FOR A LIVELIHOOD.

Chicago, April 7.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—It is presumable that the writer quoted by a correspondent of THE TRIBUNE yesterday was generous in his interpretation of "literature." The writer was quoted as saying: "In a word, people resort to literature exactly in proportion as they are unable to make a living in any other way."

This writer would undoubtedly grant to the rewriter, the hack writer, the readers of copy, and the readers for press clipping bureaus the privilege of mentioning their calling as literature—literature and a living. Literature in this sense may possibly furnish asylum for some of the downs and outs in other lines of endeavor, but the quality of assurance and the ability to put up a good bluff needed, to get into some even of the more humble walks of literature, ought to insure such men success elsewhere.

People do not resort to literature, or writing because they have failed in some other calling, but because the literary bee is in their bonnet. Mr. Theodore Roosevelt has not resorted to writing because he could not find anything else remunerative to do. Dr. S. Weir Mitchell did not fail to make his living as a physician, and for that reason take to the wild woods of literature. F. Hopkinson Smith did some commendable work as lighthouse builder and engineer before he followed his irrepressible bent of story telling. Thomas Nelson Page is said to have been a pretty good writer of briefs before he allowed himself the even more profitable diversion of writing for publishers. Thomas Hardy was a good architect, and wasn't A. Conan Doyle something of a physician?

Mr. Albert J. Beveridge is reported to be a publicist of some note, besides being a writer for great weeklies, and, for that matter, it has been impossible to keep a score or more of Hoosiers out of literature, no matter what their success in other things. It might almost seem to be a principle with them to succeed in something else in order to open for themselves the privileges of literature. Mr. Andrew Carnegie did not take to literature because he was short of small change. Even John D. Rockefeller has been doing something at it, and neither of these gentlemen can be mentioned as failures in the livelihood game.

Men of creative spirit with a great fund of life and experience are bound to write. Sir William Ramsay, the great English chemist, and the late discoverer of argon, writes charming articles and essays—he has written a whole book of them—not only for scientific journals, but even for the Youth's Companion. Since he is a Fellow of the Royal society, and a distinguished member of continental societies of equal rank, he can hardly be called a "has been" taking to literature. The list of great scientists whose final fame rests as much on their writings as their work, is long.

One of the many indefatigable English writers of today who are men of action, is Allen Upward. His latest book on "The East End of Europe," is, perhaps, one of the most illuminating volumes on the Greco-Turco-Bulgarian question that has lately appeared. He has, besides this, several novels and other writings to his credit. He has been a soldier and judge—he is by profession a barrister. He was mutessarif in Nigeria, where he was a judge with unlimited jurisdiction, the successful ruler over half a million of mixed peoples, clamorous and discordant. One has but to look up Henry Harland's career in "Who's Who" to find how wide and successful was his experience and his responsibilities before the cacoethes scribendi got possession of him.

Edmund Clarence Stedman followed two professions. Perhaps he was less poet for being a stock broker, but he was not a broken down gentleman of the curb when he took to literature. There is a legend to the effect that James Whitcomb Riley earned his bread and butter by house painting, quite successfully, so failure in this way did not set him to writing about that old sweetheart of his. Emerson might have been called a broken down preacher when he took to essay writing, but what a fortunate disaster for him and the world! Hawthorne, on the other hand, tried to be a failure in literature before he went in, to be finally turned out, of the custom house. But Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes was never a failure at anything. He won medical prizes and was the most popular of professors not only in the classroom, but in the world of readers. Gladstone, Disraeli, and many another English statesman have used their pens successfully without admitting that they had failed in their regular vocations. And to go back farther, William Shakspeare was a good actor, and stage carpenter who took to literature And one of our latest dramatists was an excellent teacher, one of the best, yet even he took to literature. It is reported that he, William Vaughn Moody, said he would rather be "a gentleman vagabond" than a teacher.

It is, truly, the bee in the bonnet that sets men to writing. People who have failed in other things without ever having heard the buzzing are in poor form to enter literature. Literature is a hard profession except to the gifted or to the prodigious workers. As a mode of making a living it is all the harder because so many are making it a "side line." Not only men in the professions write but men in the industries and trades. A young expert in lamp buying in this city has had not a few of his verses for children published, but he is not about to desert the lamps. Not only do men and women want to write, the most of them, but magazine and publisher are everywhere soliciting those who, by their position or experience, ought to have something to say, to say it. If the heads of a few get turned to the idea that they could easier make a living this way than in the distasteful work they are doing, it will take time to make them sadder and wiser men. C. S. M.

NEWS OF THE THEATERS

Vaudeville.

Miss Amelia Bingham has returned to the American Music hall for a second engagement, and again is offering the sketch fashioned according to her own ideas and bearing the title, "Big Moments of Great Plays." As its name implies, the act is so elastic in its nature that it can be changed and virtually renewed from time to time, and so this week Miss Bingham is seen in a new series of brief scenes from well known plays. "The Climbers," "Fedora," and "Madame Sans-Gêne" furnish the "big moments," and the actress appears successively as Blanche Sterling in the Fitch comedy, as Fedora in the death scene from the Sardou drama, and as the duchess of Dantzig in the Napoleonic play. All three characterizations evidence Miss Bingham's robust, fervent method, and it is as the duchess that her audiences like her best. Lloyd Bingham, Brandon Hurst, and Miss Beth Franklin supply adequate support.

Other features at the American include Saharet, a dancer, who is pretty and gracefully agile, but in no way extraordinary; Daisy Harcourt, an English music hall comedienne, who sings some suggestive songs in a clever way; Dollie Toye, a young singer whose voice is remarkable in its range; Joe Welch, the monologist, and the ever popular Barnold acting dogs and monkeys.

"The Patriot," a tabloid opera, lends distinction to the bill at the Olympic. It is a pretentious and legitimate effort, and is presented by a cast of eight, of which Miss Helena Frederick is the featured member. A Valley Forge incident of colonial times furnishes the plot, and among the characters introduced is Gen. George Washington. Miss Frederick sings delightfully and William Schuster appears to advantage as Manheim, a Tory farmer. A comedy feature of merit is the playlet "Handkerchief No. 15," presented by Frederic Bond, Miss Fremont Benton, and company. Jack Gardner, as usual, makes merry in song and story, and the La Veen-Cross troupe, in a specialty called "Roman Sports and Pastimes," display brawn and muscle in various feats of strength and endurance.

"Mrs. Peckham's Carouse," the best of the George Ade short plays, gives May Irwin an opportunity to assert her right to a place at the head of native comediennes and farceurs. Her Mrs. Peckham is a delicious study in high and low comedy, and it is greeted with hilarious laughter at the Majestic this week. Slight revisions have heightened the humor of the piece, and structurally it seems to be more compact and exact than when first seen. It is more than ever a gem of its kind, and it suits Miss Irwin capitally. Tom Waters, late of "The Mayor of Laughland," sings patter songs and does a pianologue with humorous effect. The acrobatic feature of the performance is the act of the Three Sisters Athletas, who create wonderment and surprise by their gymnastic expertness. Leo Donnelly gives a Kiplingesque recitation with dramatic effect, supplementing an account of his experience as a reporter. A number which would be improved if it were condensed is the "Fun in a Schoolroom" musical skit.

Notes.

A change has been made in the company which will present "The Girl from Rector's" at the International beginning next Saturday night. The original plan was to bring a special company organized for the Chicago engagement, but Manager Woods has decided to send on the New York cast, retaining the second company in the east to continue the run at Weber's theater. The organization now headed westward includes several people well known in the musical comedy world, and among its members are Violet Dale, Elita Proctor Otis, Nena Blake, Nella Webb, Dallas Welford, Van Rensselaer Wheeler, Herbert Carr, William Travers, and John Daly Murphy.

This afternoon at Powers' theater the Leon Wachsner German company will give the first performance in a cycle of the Von Wildenbruch historical plays. The one act "Kind Heinrich," and the four act "Konig Heinrich" will comprise today's bill.

Prof. Frederick Starr will deliver the second lecture in his series at Music hall this afternoon. His subject will be "Samoa and Fiji," and inasmuch as he has returned only recently from a trip which extended into the interior of these islands his talk gives promise of being interesting and instructive. The lectures are illustrated by colored views and motion pictures.

Efforts to confirm the report from Boston that George M. Cohan contemplated building a theater in Chicago for his own use were made yesterday without success. None of his friends or the Klaw & Erlanger people had heard of the project.

"He talked something about such a project last fall when he was here," said George Wood of the Colonial theater, in the absence of Mr. Lederer, who is out of town, "but dropped it as far as I know. It may be that he has something under cover, but this is doubtful, as there would be no real advantage in having a theater of his own here, since he is able to place his shows in the best in the city. If he owned one he would be compelled to keep it filled the year round, and this would require more of his attention than he could afford to give to the matter."

PRESIDENT TAFT IS REFEREE IN CONTEST OVER WHISKY.

Many Prominent Lawyers Argue at White House as to When Product Can Be Labeled "Straight."

Washington, D. C., April 7.—The bitter controversy which has been in progress ever since the pure food law was enacted as to "what is whisky?" was renewed at the White house today before President Taft as referee.

The debate enlisted the services of many distinguished lawyers, among them Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador to Great Britain, and John G. Carlisle, former secretary of the treasury. Mr. Choate appeared for Canadian interests. Mr. Carlisle represented distillers of his native state, Kentucky. Attorney General Wickersham, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, and Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the pure food expert, were among the government representatives heard.

Under the ruling of former Attorney General Bonaparte, in consonance with an opinion by Dr. Wiley, all whisky not aged and freed from fusel oil by several years of storage in white oak barrels which have been charred on the inside, has been made subject to labeling under the head of "imitation" or "compound" whisky.

The distillers who purify their product by higher forms of mechanical rectification and redistillation are anxious to have this ruling reversed, declaring they are suffering damage from the system of labeling now in vogue, whereas their whisky is as pure and free from deleterious ingredients as the whisky rectified in the old fashioned way and now regarded as the only "straight" whisky on the market.

At the conclusion of the conference it was announced that the whole matter would be referred to Solicitor General Bowers of the department of justice, who is to take testimony.

AUSTIN "CLEAN UP" IS PLANNED.

Residents to Emulate Oak Park Crusade in a Campaign for Civic Cleanliness.

Austin residents are following in the footsteps of the Oak Park folks who inaugurated the much talked of "clean up week" in that suburb. Under the leadership of Mrs. Rena S. Tuthill, chairman of the department of civics and sociology of the Austin Woman's club, and F. E. Prey, president of the Austin Improvement association, they expect to begin a campaign for cleanliness. The initial move in the undertaking is the engaging of Ralph Clarkson to speak before the Austin Improvement association tonight. He will show views of model streets in European countries.

Berwyn Candidates Get Tie Vote.

In Tuesday's election at Berwyn a tie vote was polled for George H. Norton, citizen's independent candidate for alderman of the Second ward, and his opponent, Robert F. Stevens, candidate on the independent ticket. When the city council meets an effort will be made to decide the tie by drawing lots, unless this method is objected to by the candidates.

BARS STRANGER FROM LUNCH

Chicago Woman's Club Calls Halt on "Cheap Restaurant."

DAINTIES FOR MEMBERS ONLY

Committees Will Decide Cost of Remodeling Quarters.

Two important decisions were reached yesterday by the Chicago Woman's club, in executive session assembled—to-wit: That they should eliminate strangers and transients from the dining privileges of the luncheon room, who gave the club "the appearance of running a cheap restaurant," and that their long argued plans for remodeling their rooms should go for decision to the house and finance committees and the board managers.

This second move is taken as a precautionary measure "against spending a large sum of money unnecessarily." It was suggested by the fact that the permanent rooms committee, which submitted the plans, allowed $900 for ventilation, overlooking the little clause in the lease that satisfactory and sanitary ventilation should be provided free of charge.

Miss Clapp, who resigned as corresponding secretary recently without giving any reason, remarked during the discussion that "Mrs. George B. Carpenter asked to have herself appointed chairman of the permanent rooms committee, anyway," and the permanent rooms committee tried to restrict the privileges of the floor to themselves.

Open Rupture Averted.

Mrs. Edward L. Upton, the president, ruled, however, that so long as she remained in office every member of the club should have a "voice in any measure in which they cared to be heard." The members agreed over their late afternoon tea that only ingenious presiding averted an open rupture in the club.

The situation which brought about all the discussion came out of the fact that the permanent rooms committee some time ago undertook to present plans for enlarging and making more comfortable the clubrooms on the ninth floor of the Fine Arts building. The estimated cost was $6,000, and the plans presented make a rental of $1,000 a year additional necessary, as almost all of the floor would be needed.

The first discussion arose over whether the club wished to spend so much money when it had only a seven year lease. The rooms committee retorted that they supposed the club had decided to spend some money when it took up the scheme.

Long Discussion Over Cost.

A whole afternoon was devoted to a discussion of whether the money should be spent before it was raised or raised before it was spent.

One clever woman quietly went to work and drew up new plans, providing more space, more ventilation, more kitchen, and more comfort, at a cost of less than $1,000. The work of the committees is to choose between the two plans and to suggest others, if they wish. They will present their conclusion next Wednesday morning at the board meeting, if not before.

One speaker in the afternoon called the dining room a "cheap restaurant" because so many outsiders avail themselves of the lax restrictions. Certain hot rolls and confections are so renowned that many women dine at the club to get them, and, whereas, the members would like as many as two and three, they seldom get more than one, because friends of friends of club members dine there by merely presenting the second hand card of the "belonger" in the club.

LOBBY OF 150 WOMEN LEAVES TUESDAY TO SEEK SUFFRAGE.

Chicago Clubs Will Send Delegates to Springfield in Behalf of Three Bills Next Week.

Chicago woman's clubs will send 150 delegates to Springfield next week to attend the hearing on Wednesday of the woman suffrage measures before the legislature. The "suffrage train" will leave on the Chicago and Alton at 10:30 Tuesday morning and will make several stops, where suffrage speeches will be made.

There will be three woman suffrage measures before the legislature and it is expected that 1,000 women of the state will be present to urge their passage.

The measure in which the women have the strongest interest is the one for the amendment to the constitution, which would allow women complete suffrage rights in Illinois. Senator W. M. Brown is in charge of it. The next in value, in the opinion of the women, is that introduced by Senator Billings, which would allow women municipal and township voting rights. The third measure, the Chicago municipal suffrage bill, would give only Chicago women the right to vote at municipal elections.

If the Billings bill does not become a law the Chicago women are determined that they must have the right to vote even if the women of the rest of the state are not equally favored.

Those who have been appointed by the clubs of the city and suburbs as delegates and who have announced their intentions of going to Springfield are:

DIRECTORS OF NEW HOSPITAL LIKELY TO BE NAMED MONDAY.

Mayor Expected to Submit to Council List of Appointees as Heads of Tuberculosis Sanitarium.

Mayor Busse probably will submit the names of the directors of the new tuberculosis sanitarium to the council next Monday night. This is the next thing to be done as a result of the great majority rolled up for the tax levy at Tuesday's election.

The mayor was at Fox lake during the day, and it is known that he had made no selections of prospective appointees. Under the provisions of the Glackin act, under which the vote was taken, it is altogether probable that Health Commissioner W. A. Evans will be named as one of the directors and that the other two will be drawn from the list of directors of the Chicago Tuberculosis institute, which has taken a strong part in the movement which resulted so successfully at the polls.

The question appears to be open as to whether the tax which the city council now is authorized to levy may be levied this year. It is a matter, the authorities hold, which will have to be settled by the corporation counsel.

BIG BUYING WAVE HITS PIT SHORTS.

Patten Scores Triumph as Shorts Force Wheat Values to New High Levels.

CROP REPORT IS BULLISH.

April Condition Low and Figures Stimulate Heavy Covering; Bull Leaders Sell May.

A tremendous wave of buying swept over the wheat pit yesterday, swamping the few remaining bears and, amid scenes of the wildest excitement, lifting prices for all deliveries to new high levels. May wheat sold at $1.25 at the first tap of the bell, the highest price since the Leiter deal, and July touched $1.11, the top figure during April in more than twenty years. Trading was of a spectacular character all through the session and millions of bushels were handled where ordinarily brokers are executing orders for 50,000 and 100,000 bu lots. Excited shorts paid any price demanded for the May in order to cover their sales, and but for the selling by the bull leaders much higher quotations would have been established. Bulls took profits on a colossal scale, a veritable panic in the bear camp enabling them to cash in at fabulous profits. At the windup prices were 2½@3⅝c higher.

Day of Triumph for Patten.

It was a day of triumph for James A. Patten. The price he predicted for May last summer was reached and exceeded, the closing figure being $1.25¾, and bear traders who have been forecasting calamity for the bull wheat deal were thankfully buying the grain he poured into the pit to relieve the stringency. Conditions are now developing as Patten has maintained they would—foreigners are coming for wheat, other sources of supply are failing, and even with prices for the May at the highest level in years, cash wheat is selling at enormous premiums. That the high prices are not due to manipulation was demonstrated by the fact that instead of trying to elevate quotations Patten brokers were heavy sellers of the May all day in order to hold down the price and permit the shorts to cover.

Sales of May Are Heavy.

It was estimated that Patten, through his brokers, sold about 2,000,000 bu wheat, and that in the last week he has sold about 6,000,000 from $1.20 to $1.25. His profit on the line sold is about $1,200,000 and he still has a line estimated at between 10,000,000 and 12,000,000 bu. This selling has been the salvation of the shorts, who otherwise would have found practically no wheat for sale and prices would have soared to sensational heights.

With few exceptions the Pattens, James A. and George W., and their partners and followers have been about the only large winners on the bull side. Their operations have been conducted in the face of general opposition on the part of local professionals, who have sold wheat continually because it was high, not taking into consideration the abnormal conditions foreseen by the bull leaders.

Campaign Long Drawn Out.

Patten and his associates began buying wheat early last fall when it began to be apparent that supplies of red winter wheat would be light and that all stocks were comparatively small. The point was made that reserves of wheat in practically every country had been drawn down to a minimum and that higher prices were inevitable in view of the increase in consumption and the contraction in the supply. A large part of his line was accumulated under the dollar mark and the bulk of it from $1.00 to $1.08, the average price of his line being about $1.04, which at present quotations would show a paper profit of about 22c a bu. At the most Patten is believed to have been long about 20,000,000 bu and in the last week he has probably reduced this to about 14,000,000 and perhaps less.

Shorts Are Urgent Buyers.

Including the holdings of the other members of the firm and their followers who traded through Bartlett-Patten, it was the best opinion that the house was long at the outside about 40,000,000 bu, a large part of which has been turned over many times during the last few months. The life of the option has still about eight weeks to run and sensationally higher prices are predicted.

The excited and higher domestic and foreign markets during the period of idleness caused by the local holiday on Tuesday inflamed the local trade, and speculators were ready with buying orders bright and early. The pit trade during the first half hour was tremendous, and quotations at times were 1c apart in different parts of the pit. Foreign markets again came higher, and this was all the stimulation needed, as shorts were on the anxious seat. Liverpool came 2⅝@3½d higher compared to Monday, and the markets on the continent were not backward. Heavy realizing caused a lull in the advance after the first hour, and bears were given a breathing spell.

Winter Wheat Condition Low.

At 11 o'clock the government report was issued, and its estimate of 82.2 as the condition of winter wheat was so much more bullish than expected that there was a fresh stampede on the part of the shorts. The report gave the condition at 82.2, as compared to 85.3 last December and 91.3 a year ago, the indicated crop being approximately 424,000,000 bu, against a promise a year ago of 482,000,000 bu with a final return at harvest of 438,000,000 bu. Later in the session buying again was stimulated by a bunch of bad crop reports, which, coming after the bullish government estimate, were regarded with more favor than that brand of advices has been accorded recently. The general run of news was all bullish. Receipts in the northwest showed a marked falling off for the day compared to a year ago. World's stocks were estimated at 170,585,000 bu, against 189,089,000 bu a year ago, and Argentine advices indicated a dearth of offerings from that country in the near future. Light world's shipments were forecasted. Weather conditions were favorable with the exception of continued dry weather in Kansas and the southwest. Sales of 480,000 bu new crop hard winter wheat at higher prices to Liverpool were reported, and the continued export sales of new wheat for forward shipment were taken to indicate the urgent needs of the foreigners.

Leaders Take on July.

While selling the May freely the Bartlett-Patten house were big buyers of the July all through the session, there evidently being a good deal of changing from the May to the deferred months. Selling was headed by Barrell, Logan-Bryan, Armour, Shearson-Hammill, Ware-Leland, and other commission houses. Rankin was a big buyer of the July at $1.11. In ten days both May and July wheat have advanced approximately 10c a bushel without any material setback. It was the general opinion last night that the trade was long almost to a man and that the commission house books showed enormous lines of long wheat.

May Corn Liquidation On.

In striking contrast to the course of wheat, the corn market was weak and sharp losses were sustained. What appeared to be a forerunner of country liquidation was thought to have been indicated by the heavy sales of all months and the buying power was feeble. The opening was higher in sympathy with wheat, but pressure became pronounced at once and there was a gradual decline. Final figures were ⅛@⅜@½c lower. Primary receipts were 635,000 bu, against 751,000 bu a year ago. Cash prices were steady to 1c lower, with sales of 110,000 bu. Country advices were not bullish and advices indicate stocks are heavy at nearly every shipping station and that farmers still have large stocks. Receipts here were 215 cars, with 158 cars expected today.

July Oats Under Pressure.

Country and local pressure on oats caused a lower range after a firm opening, the course of prices being influenced to some extent by the action of corn. May was relatively firm, the greater pressure being on the July. Closing prices were unchanged to ⅜c lower. Receipts here were 160 cars, with 173 cars expected today. Sample prices were ¼@½c lower, with sales of 150,000 bu. Primary receipts were 630,000 bu, against 1,175,000 bu a year ago.

Fair Demand for Rye.

Carlots of rye were in good request at 1c advance. Futures were neglected. May closed at 80c bid and 82c asked. No. 2 sold free on board at 82c and No. 3, 77c. No. 4 was quoted 68@74c. Receipts were 4 cars.

Barley was ½c lower. Malting was quoted 62½@65c, mixing 62@65c, and screenings 50@65c. Receipts were 74 cars.

Flaxseed declined ½c. No. 1 northwestern was quoted $1.69, No. 1 from the northwest $1.67½, and No. 1 southwestern $1.59. Receipts, none.

Timothy seed was quiet. April was offered at $3.80. Country lots, $2.50@3.75. Clover seed unchanged. April was quoted $9.25. Cash lots, $7.00@9.15.

INTERESTING TRADE GOSSIP ON CHANGE.

Indications that country holders of May corn are ready to liquidate were given by the action of the market yesterday. In spite of the sensational upturn in wheat values corn turned weak and May sold off 1⅛c from the high point and only recovered part of the loss on the late covering movement. Advices from the country indicate that the prospects of an enormous acreage, with the continued indifference on the part of eastern buyers, is sapping the courage of the bulls and many of them are now willing to take down their profits. Nearly every crop report speaks of the heavy country stocks of corn. Cribs at all stations are filled, small stations having large quantities and farm stocks being still large. The mild winter has made possible marked economies in feeding.

Local wheat dealers sold new crop hard winter wheat to Liverpool for September shipment, to Texas millers, and to local dealers yesterday. The general demand was quiet, but there was enough inquiry to indicate there would be renewed buying as soon as the market steadied. Outside markets were quiet. Duluth and Winnipeg said exporters were taking all the wheat offered. Cash corn was unchanged to 1c lower and oats ¼@½c off. The demand was slow and offerings fair. Local shipping sales were 45,000 bu wheat, 110,000 bu corn, and 150,000 bu oats. Sales of wheat to arrive were 85,000 bu, including 40,000 bu No. 2 hard to arrive by July 20. Export sales were 480,000 bu new hard wheat for August-September shipment.

R. W. Kinyon wired Barrell & Co. from Covington, O.: "From Van Wert to Celina nearly all wheat will be plowed up. From Celina to Covington some fields are fair; others poor." Le Count wired from Beatrice, Neb.: "From Lincoln south wheat shows decided improvement. Raining now, which will be beneficial."

Wheat bulls are calling attention to the price of July wheat at Winnipeg, that delivery closing at $1.21⅝. It was claimed that English buyers are becoming thoroughly alarmed now that Argentine offerings have dropped off and are taking Canadian wheat at any price. The English visible has been dwindling rapidly for some time and Liverpool advices stated that reserves in the country were light. This statement was given color by the great strength of Mark Lane and other English country markets. Continental buyers are still bidding high prices for cargoes and shipments are being diverted to a large extent to the continent.

Decrease during March, 9,792,000 bu, compared with an increase of 2,726,000 bu during February, and a decrease of 4,738,000 bu during March, 1908.

John Inglis wired Logan-Bryan from Murphysboro, Ill.: "Through southern counties Illinois wheat uneven; general average poor. Does not look well. Millers are discouraged at the outlook for crop. Acreage decreased."

The death of Thomas C. Smith, one of the oldest members of the board of trade, was announced yesterday. For many years Mr. Smith was connected with the firm of J. A. Edwards & Co.

The condition of rye was estimated by the government at 87.2, compared to 87.6 last December, and 89.1 a year ago. The indicated yield is about 29,000,000 bu.

A special Russian cable said the crop outlook was favorable, but markets continued strong, influenced by light stocks and small arrivals.

A Rosario cable to Slaughter said that on account of the holidays Thursday and Friday there would be light shipments this week.

Estimated receipts for today are: Wheat, 51 cars; corn, 158 cars; oats, 173 cars; rye, 3 cars; barley, 58 cars; hogs, 24,000.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CHICAGO, April 7.—Disappointing receipts of live stock had little effect on the price of cattle and live muttons, but were instrumental in forcing porcine values to the highest level reached in many months. In fact, the average price of hogs at $7.21 stood the highest daily average since 1903, although the best price of the day at $7.32½ was still 27½c lower than the highest figure reached in 1908. Shippers were the principal buyers of hogs early, and they opened the market at an advance of 5@10c over Tuesday's best prices, an appreciation which packers were compelled to follow later in the session.

CATTLE.

Salesmen expected to get much higher prices for their holdings, but were forced to be content with an appreciation of only 10c, and they had to work hard to induce the buyers to allow them that much more than on Monday. Receipts of 11,000 were much lighter than the trade had expected, but the demand did not reach the breadth that had been counted on, and the competition in the steer trade was so far from spirited that sellers came near crippling the trade irrevocably at the start by asking for an advance of 15@25c. Best steers on the market sold at $7.00, against $7.10 Monday, while the bulk of the good fat offerings cleared at from $6.00@6.75.

Cows and heifers met with a fairly active inquiry at an advance of 10c from Tuesday's lowest level. The trade was active early, but after most of the desirable offerings had been sold the market weakened off and closed weak, with part of the advance lost. Beef cows and fat heifers sold at from $4.00@5.50, while the common light grades cleared at from $3.00@3.75. Bulls made steady values, with one load of prime stillers selling up to $5.45. Calves met with a good demand at the recent sharp decline in prices. Best vealers sold in odd lots at up to $7.50, while the bulk of the choice handy weight offerings cleared at around $7.00. Canners and cutters met with a slow inquiry at unchanged figures. Quotations:

Beef steers, good to prime	$6.35@7.10
Beef steers, plain to good	4.50@6.35
Exporters	5.40@6.40
Beef cows, good to choice	4.50@6.00
Beef cows, plain to good	3.50@5.00
Fat heifers, good to choice	5.25@6.25
Canners and cutters	1.85@3.10
Calves, common to choice heavy	2.75@5.00
Good to prime vealers	6.75@7.50
Feeding steers	4.00@5.25
Stock steers	3.00@5.00

Cattle at six western markets, 23,700, against 28,600 a week ago, 32,600 a year ago, and 32,800 two years ago. Total for 1909 to date, 1,948,000, against 2,108,000 the same period in 1908.

HOGS.

Receipts of 23,000 head included 2,800 hogs in direct to packers from outside points, and the supply left for disposal was one of the lightest on a Wednesday market in a long time. Speculators were quick to see the strength of the situation, and they, with shippers, opened the market paying 5@10c higher than on Tuesday for hogs of all weights. The quality of the offerings was fairly good, and the range of prices exceptionally narrow, the bulk of the good hogs being disposed of at from $7.15 to $7.30, with shippers paying up to $7.32½ for prime heavy offerings.

Packers needed hogs, and they were good buyers late in the day at the prices established by shippers and speculators early. The trade had a good active tone from the outset, and the demand held out until all of the desirable offerings were absorbed, the close being with the yards well cleaned up, although there were several loads of underweight pigs being carried over without bids. Strongweight pigs met with a good inquiry at from $6.50 to $6.75, but the lighter lots were neglected and slow sale at from $5.50 to $6.00. Quotations:

Bulk of sales	7.15@7.30
Selected butchers	7.25@7.32½
Prime heavy shippers	7.20@7.30
Medium weight shippers	7.20@7.25
Choice light	7.15@7.25

Average price of hogs at Chicago, $7.21, against $7.14 Tuesday, $6.88 a week ago, $6.01 a year ago, and $6.72 two years ago.

Eleven markets received 70,300 hogs, against 79,000 a week ago, 71,800 a year ago, and 81,600 two years ago. Total for 1909 to date, 7,812,000, against 9,495,000 the same period in 1908.

Hog purchases for the day follow: Armour & Co., 4,500; Swift & Co., 1,000; Schwarzschild & Sulzberger, 1,700; Anglo-American, 1,900; Hammond 1,840; Morris & Co., 1,200; Boyd-Lunham, 300; Roberts & Oake, 419; Western Packing company, 750; butchers, 500; shippers, 9,000; total, 23,700; left over, 4,000.

SHEEP.

Eastern shipping demand for live muttons was at almost a standstill, and, although the receipts of 10,000 head were 4,000 head smaller than a week ago, the demand on local account was so narrow that values held barely steady with the preceding day's level. Buyers for the packers said that they had filled all their requirements on the two preceding days, and they confined their operations to such stock as could be had at attractive prices. The trade was slow and weak from start to finish, and many sales of intermediate grades of sheep and lambs were at a slight decline from Tuesday's prices.

Only one load of Colorado lambs sold up to $8.25, and the packers had little difficulty in filling orders at around $8.15. A good class of fat lambs sold at $7.75, or 5c lower than on the preceding day. Receipts for April 8 were estimated at 4,000 cattle, 21,000 hogs, and 12,000 sheep, against actual arrivals of 4,913 cattle, 17,795 hogs, and 9,935 sheep for Thursday, April 9, 1908.

ON THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Provisions were firm, but dull during the greater part of the day, with little feature to the trade. The weakness in corn and oats nullified the effect of the wild advance in wheat, and there was not much new buying, covering by shorts giving the market a little support. Final quotations were 2½c higher to 2½c lower for pork, 2½@5c up for lard, and unchanged to 2½c higher for ribs. Receipts at western points were 65,900, against 72,000 a year ago. Local receipts were 23,000 and the market at the yards was firm. Since Monday hog receipts have advanced about 15c. Cumberland sides were 3d higher at Liverpool.

Groceries.

CHICAGO, April 7.—Mail, road, and telephone orders calling for staple groceries were numerous and came from a broad territory, while the market attendance of city buyers was larger and business in all branches had a brisk tone. There was a broader demand for fancy groceries, and as stocks of Smyrna figs, dates, and nuts were of insignificant proportions, values were decidedly firm. The proposed increase in the duty on dates, figs, and citron was another strengthening factor and dealers who had any surplus stock on hand were not anxious to dispose of it unless they could get better values.

Sugar and Coffee.

SUGAR.

CHICAGO, April 7.—Demand for refined sugars was active and prices remained firm. Following were the ruling prices in wholesale circles, quotations being on 100 lb lots: Standard granulated, beet and cane, $5.10@5.20; cut loaf, H. & E., $6.17; standard powdered, $5.60; extra C, $4.85; canary, $4.65; chemically pure milk sugar, 20c per lb in brl lots.

COFFEE.

CHICAGO, April 7.—Demand for spot roasted coffees continued active and prices were firmly held. The eastern option market was slightly easier, however, and futures held unchanged to 5 points lower. Receipts at Rio for two days were 7,000 bags and at Santos 3,000 bags.

NEW YORK, April 7.—COFFEE—Spot quiet; Rio No. 7, 8⅝c; Santos No. 4, 9¼@9⅝c. Mild quiet; Cordova, 9¾@13c. Futures opened steady at unchanged prices, in keeping with a featureless foreign market, and ruled quiet. Prices were steady, however, the market closing steady, net unchanged to 5 points higher on a little scattering demand in the absence of important offerings. Sales were reported of 6,750 bags, including April at 6.85c, May at 6.90c, and September at 6.05@6.15c.

Dry Goods.

CHICAGO, April 7.—Brisk buying of lightweight merchandise and more general ordering of the fall and early winter fabrics featured the wholesale dry goods trade. Prices in all departments were firmly held and the outlet for all offerings was so broad that merchants were not looking for any reaction in values later in the season. Cotton goods came in for a brisk demand for converters, cutters, and printers, and reports from the east indicated that the export movement showed signs of diminishing. Cotton yarns were more firmly held and prices showed a strong upward tendency. Firmness prevailed in the market for raw and finished silks and offerings on the market were limited.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Trade in print cloths and convertibles continues steady. Wash goods are also in active call. In the retail dry goods and jobbing markets trade is quiet, although the tone is called healthy. There is a steady call for spot shipment of silk foulards and pongees.

Cotton.

NEW YORK, April 7.—COTTON—Spot closed quiet; middling uplands 10.10c; middling gulf, 10.35; no sales; market was nervous and irregular today, but was well maintained considering the reactionary tendency natural after an advance of over sixty points, and the disposition to take profits prior to the three day adjournment for over the Easter holidays. The close was steady, net one point lower to one point higher. Futures opened steady and closed steady. Quotations:

During the middle of the day bulls made a drive at prices, which resulted in a net advance of seven to nine points all around. APPROVES WORK ON HARBOR

Real Estate Board Approves Report of the Commission.

FAVORS MONTHLY AUCTIONS.

Apartment Property in Madison Street Brings $85,000.

The work of the harbor commission was strongly approved in resolutions embodied in the report of the harbor committee of the Chicago real estate board, which were adopted at the monthly meeting of the board yesterday.

The resolutions follows:

"Be it resolved, That the members of the harbor commission are entitled to the gratitude of the citizens of Chicago for their long and painstaking service and the commission is to be congratulated upon the broad scope of its report and upon the disposition shown to consider and conserve not only the harbor facilities of the city but of the adjoining harbors, which should really be classed as part of commercial Chicago. We heartily recommend the approval of the harbor commission's report; and

"Be it also resolved, We also recommend that the Chicago real estate board hold itself in readiness to coöperate with the city authorities and other organizations to further the ends sought in said report."

The report took exception to the wording of the resolution adopted at a previous meeting instructing the committee to report in detail how the suggestions of the commission might best be carried out, and this was the occasion of a sharp discussion, E. A. Halsey moving that the report be referred back to the committee with instructions to carry out the first instruction of the board.

Report Adopted Unanimously.

Members of the committee declared, however, that it was impossible at this time to present comprehensive plans and that John M. Ewen had advised against any attempt in that direction at this time. The report was adopted by a practically unanimous vote.

As the result of the approval of the report of the call board committee the board is to inaugurate monthly auction sales in its new quarters in the old University club building at 116-118 Dearborn street. The first sale is to be held on the first Thursday in June and on the first Thursday in each month thereafter.

A communication was read from the Chicago Coal Dealers' association requesting support in securing the passage of a bill pending before the legislature that no member of the board of assessors or board of review should be engaged in any other business during his term of office. This was referred to the revenue committee.

A resolution introduced by Frank G. Hoyne opposing any change in the present method of awarding public contracts was referred to the special assessment committee with power to act.

Deal in Madison Street.

The estate of Louis Weber has conveyed to Albert Atkinson the property at 481-483 West Madison street, between Ada and Loomis streets. The lot is 50x116 feet, south front, and is improved with a six story and basement store and flat building containing twenty-five flats and two stores. The consideration is $85,000, subject to an incumbrance of $23,000.

E. D. Seeley has purchased from Chester E. Shuler the property at the northeast corner of Millard avenue and Fifteenth street, 41½x125 feet, with brick flat improvements, for $46,000, subject to an incumbrance of $24,200.

The Jewish Aid society of Chicago has acquired from Solomon L. Sulzberger the property at the northeast corner of Maxwell and Waller streets, 48x98 feet, south front, and will improve it with a new dispensary building.

Henry Hauser has conveyed 182 Federal street, formerly Custom House place, 125 feet south of Polk street, to Dennis J. Colbert for $50,000, subject to an incumbrance of $10,000. The lot fronts 25 feet with a depth of 96½ feet, has two story brick improvements, and was valued by the board of review at $20,875.

Sells Columbia Block Lease.

S. Leonard Boyce has sold to Richard E. Kelly the leasehold interest and buildings known as the Columbia block, four stories, with five stores and twenty-one apartments, at the southwest corner of Cottage Grove avenue and Forty-first street. The consideration is withheld. A new lease for 90 years has been entered into, whereby Mr. Boyce leases the ground to Mr. Kelly at $2,700 a year for ten years and $3,000 for the remainder of the term. J. S. McCullough was the broker.

SELLING HITS MANY STOCKS

Leading Issues Close with Only Fractional Losses.

INDUSTRIAL ISSUES GAIN.

Feature of Trading Is New Record Set for Lackawanna.

[NEW YORK TIMES FINANCIAL LEADER.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—[Special.]—The course of prices on the stock exchange today was governed largely by the closing out of commitments by speculators unwilling to carry any large amounts of securities over the three day stock exchange recess which follows tomorrow's session.

Selling for this purpose affected primarily such stocks as Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Great Northern, Northern Pacific, St. Paul, and United States Steel common, and it was among these shares that there were to be found the maximum losses of the day. When it is added that these maximum recessions in no instance exceeded fractions, the underlying firmness of the movement in stocks was disclosed.

Good Advances in Some Issues.

In a number of individual issues of less substantial character than those enumerated there occurred marked advances. This was true of International Paper, International Pump, Wisconsin Central, common, Central Leather, United States Realty, and American Cotton Oil.

There was little in the news budget of the day to account in any way for movements in these various shares, although possibly in a general way they attest the better opinion which is coming to be held in the financial community regarding the industrial outlook.

New Record for Lackawanna.

Delaware, Lackawanna and Western touched a new high record at 600 upon the disclosure of the fact that those concerned in the management of the property have under consideration the question of larger distributions, while the anthracite shares as a whole were strong, reflecting the belief that the points at issue between the operators and miners will be settled without resort to strikes.

Foreign exchange failed to repeat the sharp upturn of the previous day, but money rates advanced once more in Paris and an export movement of gold to that city is still well within possibilities. Local money market conditions were unchanged.

Money on call, 1¾@2 per cent; ruling rate, 1¾; closing bid, 1¾; offered at 2. Time loans dull and steadier; 60 days, 2¼@2½ per cent; 90 days, 2½ per cent, and six months, 2¾@3 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 3½@4 per cent. Sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.8620@4.8630 for 60 day bills, and at 4.8780 for demand. Commercial bills, 485¾@485⅞. Bar silver, 50⅞; Mexican dollars, 44. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds firm.

IN THE WORLD OF FINANCE

Chicago Dock Company Re-elects Retiring Directors.

PEOPLE'S GAS STOCK RISES.

Stockholders of Southern Pacific Authorize New Stock Issue.

At the annual meeting of stockholders of the Calumet and Chicago Canal and Dock company yesterday the retiring directors were reëlected for the ensuing year. The board now includes Chauncey Keep, who was elected about a month ago to succeed William J. Watson, Henry A. Blair, A. C. Bartlett, A. L. Baker, C. H. Wacker, F. A. Delano, and Murry Nelson Jr. The directors will reelect the old officers except W. J. Watson, who has sold his shares.

The report of the president, Murry Nelson Jr., showed that during the last year the company had applied $87,143 of its surplus in the purchase of 1,773 shares of the company's stock at an average cost of $49.15 a share. There are now in the treasury 3,348 shares of the company's stock that cost $167,823. It is expected that this stock will be canceled, reducing the capitalization by that amount.

Mr. Nelson reported that the company's sales of land during the last year had been in the main to industrial corporations. He pointed out the benefits to the property to be derived from municipal improvements contemplated and being put in and showed the large benefit that would result from finding industrial use for the tract north of Calumet lake.

The dividend recently started is to be continued at the rate of 2 per cent a year if earnings warrant. The company's financial statement was printed some time ago.

Southern Pacific New Stock.

Stockholders of the Southern Pacific company yesterday authorized the issue of $100,000,000 of additional common stock to provide for the conversion of the bond issue recently announced by the directors. The bonds will be convertible into the common stock at $130 a share.

The annual meeting in Beechmont, Ky., was attended by the attorneys and some of the minor officers of the company, who voted the accumulated stock and proxies. Directors were elected for the year as follows: Charles A. Peabody, W. Bayard Cutting, H. W. De Forest, Maxwell Evarts, Robert Goelet, Robert Walton Goelet, E. H. Harriman, Robert S. Lovett, Clarence Mackay, Ogden Mills, William Mahl, W. S. V. Thorne, and Frank A. Vanderlip of New York, Marvin Hughitt of Chicago, and H. E. Huntington of San Francisco.

Corn Products Advances.

Considerable local interest has been manifested in the movement in Corn Products common stock, although Chicago traders have not participated in it to any important extent. The advance is understood to be due to the operations of a New York pool. There has been some small investment buying of the preferred shares by local people who bear in mind that the new plant at Argo will soon be contributing to the company's earnings, and that the preferred stock carries a small accumulation of back dividends. It is not believed that the directors will authorize a bond issue of any such amount as was recommended by certain stockholders at the recent annual meeting.

Chicago Stocks Active.

People's Gas stock advanced sharply during the day in the Chicago and New York markets on a fair buying demand based on the declaration of the dividend at the increased rate. The stock was up to 116⅝, or a couple of points higher than the closing on Monday. Active buying of Swift shares raised their price nearly a point to 104⅛. The rest of the stock list was dull and developed but few price changes.

Metropolitan Elevated preferred sold off to 50, probably on account of the long delay in the preliminary work on the consolidation plan. The elevated road bonds were in demand, the Union Loop 5s being advanced to 95⅝. The Metropolitan Elevated extension 4s were taken in considerable amount at 84 and the first 4s at 85½. South Side 4½s sold again at 96¾, and the Northwestern Elevated 4s at 96½@96⅝. There was good trading at fractionally better prices in City Railway 5s.

Dividend Declared.

Directors of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé have declared the usual semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent on the common stock, payable June 1, to stockholders of record April 30.

Duntley Manufacturing Company.

The Duntley Manufacturing company, organized under the laws of Maine, with a capitalization of $500,000, has announced its permanent organization. The officers and directors are: President, J. W. Duntley; vice president, A. W. Maconochie; secretary, F. A. Rautenberg; treasurer, Eugene McComas. directors, J. W. Duntley, H. W. Davis, M. H. Tichenor, Samuel Deutsch, W. J. Calhoun.

The company, which manufactures vacuum cleaners, gasoline handcars and calculating machines, has been in operation sixty days and is running its own plant in this city and four other factories at other points under contract. Mr. Duntley was formerly president of the Chicago Pneumatic Tool company.

Western Ice Company.

A call will be issued soon by the liquidating trustees of claims against E. R. Thomas of New York for the deposit of those claims and the collateral securing them with a New York trust company. In the collateral deposited as security with various creditors is a total of $1,700,000 of Western Ice company collateral 5 per cent bonds. About $900,000 of the issue is in the hands of the public. The public holders of the bonds will be asked to deposit them with the liquidating committees. The only assets of the Western Ice company are common and preferred shares of the Knickerbocker Ice company of Chicago deposited under the mortgage for the collateral 5s. It is now the intention to foreclose this mortgage and distribute the securities pro rata.

E. R. Thomas once had a scheme to monopolize the ice business in various large cities, starting with an important interest in Knickerbocker Ice as a nucleus. At the annual meeting of the Knickerbocker company Mr. Thomas was dropped from the directorate.

IN THE FOREIGN STOCK MARKET.

LONDON, April 7.—Money was plentiful today in spite of calls for $7,500,000. Discounts were quiet. On the stock exchange the tone today was firm and there were further advances, especially in Mexican rails, Russian and Japanese bonds, and Kaffirs, but home rails were inclined to ease while the prospective new issues checked the advance in gilt edged securities. American shares opened dull but developed strength around noon on covering operations under the lead of Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé, on dividend rumors. Later New York sent sufficient orders to maintain prices and the market finished quiet.

CHICAGO SHIPPERS COMBAT NEW MISSOURI RIVER RATES.

Local Interests Fear They Will Not Receive Advantages Expected from Kindel Case Decision.

Following the announcement that the western railroads intended to contest in the courts the interstate commerce commission's order reducing through freight rates from Chicago to Denver it developed yesterday that the shippers of Chicago and of the Missouri river cities are not satisfied with the commission's disposition of the Kindel case.

It is stated that the rate relation between the cities is likely to be changed in such a way that the Missouri river cities will lose the advantage they expected to gain. At the same time Chicago shipping interests are afraid they will not receive the offsetting advantage they expected from the extension of the through rate principle to western points. Consequently H. C. Barlow, traffic director of the Chicago Association of Commerce, has written to Commissioner Clark asking how Chicago is to be affected.

Limits Through Rates.

Although the commission ruled that the through rates from Chicago to Denver should be less than the sums of the local rates, it also said that if the roads would charge reasonable local rates the through rates need not necessarily be lower than the combination of locals.

The Denver commercial organizations fear the effect of through rates and even have gone so far as to ask the railroads to apply for an injunction. The Missouri river jobbers asked for through rates from the seaboard, but are protesting when through rates to Denver are established. Also the railroads are objecting to the reduction in revenue as well as to the change in the rate adjustment.

Double Track Work on Alton.

In the improvement work to be undertaken by the Alton this year is the double tracking of the line between Bloomington and Atlanta and between Bloomington and Girard, Ill. Already the road has been double tracked between Chicago and Bloomington, so this work will complete the double track for 210 miles out of this city. Altogether, the Alton expects to expend about $2,000,0000 for improvements, including the construction of extensive freight yards at Summit and at Joliet, made necessary on account of track elevation, and a storage yard at Brighton Park.

The official classification committee, which covers the territory between the seaboard and the Mississippi river north of the Ohio, is holding its semi-annual meeting this week in New York. One of the subjects to be considered is a plan for classifying articles according to their value, instead of according to weight or bulk.

PITTSBURG TONNAGE IS BIG.

Statistics Show That Amount in 1907 Exceeded That of New York, London, and Liverpool.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 7.—Statistics completed today by the chamber of commerce show the freight tonnage of Pittsburg for 1907 exceeds that of New York, London, and Liverpool combined. Exclusive of freight in transit, the rail and river tonnage of Pittsburg for the year was 161,194,167 tons.

ASPHALT SINKS UNDER AUTO.

Serious Accident Narrowly Averted on Michigan Avenue and Inquiry Shows Sewer Had Caved In.

A serious accident was narrowly averted yesterday noon when a portion of the pavement of Michigan avenue at Harrison street caved in. A pedestrian standing in front of the Chicago Woman's club saw the asphalt sink in almost a foot as the rear wheels of a swiftly moving automobile passed over it.

He called the attention of a policeman to it and the dangerous spot was roped off for repairs. After breaking a hole in the pavement it was found the only support between passing carriages and a caved-in sewer, fifteen feet deep, was a two inch thickness of asphalt.

The bricks in the dome shaped structure covering the sewer had become loosened by the passing of heavy automobiles and had fallen in, taking with them the lower dressing of the asphalt pavement.

A BANK OF STRENGTH AND CHARACTER

Confidence in This Bank

is based on these facts:

That it has been in business 40 years, has weathered financial storms—business depressions—the Chicago fire.

That it has large resources—over $2,000,000.00 in excess of all liabilities to depositors. Every dollar of the million dollar surplus has been actually earned.

That it carries a cash reserve considerably in excess of all requirements of the laws of the State of Illinois and of the Chicago Clearing House Association.

Above all, that its Directors are men of sound, experienced business judgment. They direct. Its Officers have spent a lifetime in practical banking.

These policies have brought to this bank the growing confidence of the public generally and the active support of its friends. The result is exhibited in the concrete fact that its deposits have increased approximately nine million dollars in the past nine years.

If you desire to receive such literature as we may get out from time to time, relating to banking and investments, we shall be pleased to send it to you.

A great irrigation canal has been built through the tract and the land is being planted to apple trees. Arcadia will be operated as a great commercial orchard—the largest in the world. As soon as the trees come to bearing, the land will be worth from $1,000 to $3,000 an acre, and the fruit yield will be from $200 to $1,500 an acre.

The company is capitalized on the basis of $1,000 per acre. Two-fifths of the stock is preferred, issues in shares of $100 each, bearing 4% interest, and sharing with the common stock in all the profits of the company. The preferred stock may also be exchanged for land at any time.

A limited amount of preferred stock is offered to the public at $50 a share. The investment is based on real estate and is absolutely safe; profits based on fruit yield made certain by irrigation. Large illustrated prospectus free upon application. Address

FOR SALE— COLORADO FRUIT LANDS. NUTSHELL ARGUMENTS. VII.

I have been telling about my fruit lands in the advertising columns of The Tribune for a month past. I get two mails daily, and so far there has been only one mail that has failed to bring me an answer from my advertising; often I get several answers. Before dealing with The Tribune I lost time spearing around aimlessly among my acquaintances, seeking in vain to interest them. Then I thought of Emerson's saying to the effect that if you have what the people want and let them know about it, they will make a path to your cabin in the woods.

Accordingly, while in Chicago, I called on The Tribune, counseled with them, accepted their advice, signed an annual contract, and am getting the returns desired.

The advantage of The Tribune service is that it puts me in communication with live prospects and saves attention to the dead ones. The live ones are already making a path to my cabin.

The Tribune is a great newspaper, and I am willing to pay for the space to say it.

My fruit lands are on the Grand River, on the western slope of Colorado, 4,900 feet elevation, near Palisade, on the main line of the D. & R. G. R. R., southeast slope, perfect drainage, natural protection, rich sandy loam, ideal climate. Be a live one. C. M. PAINE, De Beque, Colo.

I APPRECIATE ACCOUNTS OF HONORABLE people [men employed or in business, ladies with allowances from their husbands, or incomes from other sources], who want large or small sums, confidentially, with or without security. My location and my being connected with a large mercantile house [Dun's and Bradstreet's show its standing], assures a privacy that is not possible to those who deal with brokers doing business in downtown office buildings, where money lenders congregate. The methods of some dealers never change, and high rates for money are demanded by the professional lender. Those paying high rates, I urge to consult with me. My average rate, all charges included, is never more than 1, 2, or 3 per cent monthly, depending on risk and amount loaned. No insurance or other device to swell interest charges. Ladies' waiting rooms. Ask for WILLCOXE, care Englewood Company, 538-540 East 63d-st., cor. Greenwood-av. Tel. Hyde Park 4333.

C/B A LA SPIRITE CORSETS

FOR THE WOMAN of FASHION

The uncomfortably-corseted woman does not enjoy a good figure in any sense of the word. In addition to the discomforts involved, a tightly-laced figure presents the appearance of being "dressed-up," not well-dressed.

Millions of fashionable women know from actual experience that the C/B a la Spirite Corset imparts to any form a graceful and symmetrical contour without a suggestion of physical distress or artificial appearance.
